Talismans And Trojan Horses:

Talismans and Trojan Horses Christopher A. Faraone, 1992 Greek legends and historical accounts contain many references to special statues or images designed to preserve the safety or livelihood of a city a business or a house These images which fall into two often overlapping categories talismans and apotropaia were erected according to special rituals and took on a variety of intriguing forms including lions locusts and bound effigies of destructive deities like Ares Looking closely at a wide variety of Greek texts and artifacts Faraone provides a detailed description and survey of these images and then uses this information to provide new interpretations of early Greek myths about Pandora the Trojan Horse and the living statues created by Hephaestus At each step he sets the Greek evidence in a wider eastern Mediterranean context with detailed discussions of Near Eastern and Egyptian practices that bear close resemblance to the Greek rituals The study closes with a re evaluation of the traditional scholarly approach to religious art as purely representational suggesting that some images instead of simply illustrating the power of a god were actually created to restrain and control the power of inimical supernatural forces such as plague gods and ghosts Focusing renewed attention on these often misinterpreted talismans and apotropaia Talismans and Trojan Horses will be illuminating for scholars and students of classics art and archaeology religion the Ancient Near East the Bible and mythology

Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic David Frankfurter, 2019-03-19 In the midst of academic debates about the utility of the term magic and the cultural meaning of ancient words like mageia or khesheph, this Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic seeks to advance the discussion by separating out three topics essential to the very idea of magic. The three major sections of this volume address 1 indigenous terminologies for ambiguous or illicit ritual in antiquity, 2 the ancient texts, manuals, and artifacts commonly designated magical or used to represent ancient magic, and 3 a series of contexts from the written word to materiality itself to which the term magic might usefully pertain. The individual essays in this volume cover most of Mediterranean and Near Eastern antiquity with essays by both established and emergent scholars of ancient religions. In a burgeoning field of magic studies trying both to preserve and to justify critically the category itself, this volume brings new clarity and provocative insights. This will be an indispensable resource to all interested in magic in the Bible and the Ancient Near East, ancient Greece and Rome, Early Christianity and Judaism, Egypt through the Christian period, and also comparative and critical theory. Contributors are Magali Bailliot, Gideon Bohak, Veronique Dasen, Albert de Jong, Jacco Dieleman, Esther Eidinow, David Frankfurter, Fritz Graf, Yuval Harari, Naomi Janowitz, Sarah Iles Johnston, Roy D. Kotansky, Arpad M. Nagy, Daniel Schwemer, Joseph E. Sanzo, Jacques van der Vliet, Andrew Wilburn. Household and Family
