Handbook of Gender Research in Psychology Joan C. Chrisler,Donald R. McCreary,2010-03-12 Donald R McCreary and Joan C Chrisler The Development of Gender Studies in Psychology Studies of sex differences are as old as the eld of psychology and they have been conducted in every sub eld of the discipline There are probably many reasons for the popularity of these studies but three reasons seem to be most prominent First social psychological studies of person perception show that sex is especially salient in social groups It is the rst thing people notice about others and it is one of the things we remember best Fiske Haslam Stangor Lynch Duan Glass 1992 For example people may not remember who uttered a witty remark but they are likely to remember whether the quip came from a woman or a man Second many people hold rm beliefs that aspects of physiology suit men and women for particular social roles Men s greater upper body strength makes them better candidates for manual labor and their greater height gives the impression that they would make good leaders i e people we look up to Women s reproductive capacity and the caretaking tasks e g breastfeeding baby minding that accompany it make them seem suitable for other roles that require gentleness and nurturance Third the logic that underlies hypothesis testing in the sciences is focused on difference Researchers design their studies with the hope that they can reject the null hypothesis that experimental groups do not differ      Design as Democracy David de la Pena,2017-12-07 How can we design places that fulfill urgent needs of the community achieve environmental justice and inspire long term stewardship By bringing community members to the table with designers to collectively create vibrant important places in cities and neighborhoods For decades participatory design practices have helped enliven neighborhoods and promote cultural understanding Yet many designers still rely on the same techniques that were developed in the 1950s and 60s These approaches offer predictability but hold waning promise for addressing current and future design challenges Design as Democracy is written to reinvigorate democratic design providing inspiration techniques and case stories for a wide range of contexts Edited by six leading practitioners and academics in the field of participatory design with nearly 50 contributors from around the world it offers fresh insights for creating meaningful dialogue between designers and communities and for transforming places with justice and democracy in mind      Tongan Place Names Edward Winslow Gifford,1923      March's Thesaurus Dictionary Francis Andrew March,1925      Unity ,1919      The Age of Missing Information Bill McKibben,2006-06-13 Highly personal and original McKibben goes beyond Marshall McLuhan s theory that the medium is the message The New York Times Imagine watching an entire day s worth of television on every single channel Acclaimed environmental writer and culture critic Bill McKibben subjected himself to this sensory overload in an experiment to verify whether we are truly better informed than previous generations Bombarded with newscasts and fluff pieces game shows and talk shows ads and infomercials televangelist pleas and Brady Bunch episodes McKibben processed twenty four hours of programming on all ninety three Fairfax Virginia cable stations Then as a counterpoint he spent a day atop a quiet and remote mountain in the Adirondacks exploring the unmediated man and making small yet vital discoveries about himself and the world around him As relevant now as it was when originally written in 1992 and with new material from the author on the impact of the Internet age this witty and astute book is certain to change the way you look at television and perceive media as a whole By turns humorous wise and troubling a penetrating critique of technological society Cleveland Plain Dealer Masterful a unique bizarre portrait of our life and times Los Angeles Times Do yourself a favor Put down the remote and pick up this book Houston Chronicle      Modern Talks on Poetry Dr Ana Stjelja,2022-12-27 Before the readers of this book are 25 interviews with renowned poets from all over the world of all generations The book Modern Talks on Poetry was created as a result of my journalistic work in the period from 2019 to 2022 What particularly inspired me to publish this book is the idea that poetry played a very significant role during the pandemic primarily in a psychological sense because many people turned to writing poetry during the lockdown as a kind of creative therapy With this book I would like to pay tribute to poetry as a unique form of artistic and linguistic expression and to all the poets of this world      The New Statesman ,1914      Growing up on the Trobriand Islands in Papua New Guinea Barbara Senft, Gunter Senft, 2018-05-22 This volume deals with the children's socialization on the Trobriands After a survey of ethnographic studies on childhood the book zooms in on indigenous ideas of conception and birth giving the children's early development their integration into playgroups their games and their education within their own little community until they reach the age of seven years During this time children enjoy much autonomy and independence Attempts of parental education are confined to a minimum However parents use subtle means to raise their children Educational ideologies are manifest in narratives and in speeches addressed to children They provide guidelines for their integration into the Trobrianders balanced society which is characterized by cooperation and competition It does not allow individual accumulation of wealth surplus property gained has to be redistributed but it values the fame acquired by individuals in competitive rituals Fame is not regarded as threatening the balance of their society

Chavez, 2019-10-15 Few doubt the pro Israel bias of the Western media. It takes the form of overtly supporting Israel's government policies or of maintaining neutrality or silence on issues of Israeli violence, occupation and settlement expansion. Scholar and activist Karma R. Chavez collects eleven interviews that allow dissenting voices a forum to provide rarely heard perspectives on the Palestinian struggle for justice, land and self-determination. This volume in the Common Threads series is a supplement to the Journal of Civil and Human Rights. The conversations within took place on a radio program Chavez hosted from 2013-16. There, journalists, activists, academic figures, authors and Palestinian citizens of Israel shared a wide range of thoughts and experiences. Participants covered topics that include everyday life for Palestinians in the West Bank and in Israel, the Boycott, Divestment, Sanctions (BDS) movement that arose in response to Israel's ongoing actions, the Steven Salaita controversy at the University of Illinois, the pro-Palestine social movement on college campuses, Israel's pinkwashing of human rights abuses, the aftermath of the 2014 attack on Gaza and Chavez's 2015 visit to the West Bank. Mark Adrienne von Speyr, 2012-08-01 These meditations on the Gospel of Mark, with the exception of the second part on the Passion, were given by Adrienne von Speyr between 1945 and 1958 to members of the Community of St. John, which she founded with the renowned theologian Fr. Hans Urs von Balthasar. Adrienne is speaking to young adults who have decided to live the state of the evangelical counsels in a secular profession as part of a recently established secular institute. Nevertheless, this contemplative commentary can be very useful for all who seek to meditate on Holy Scripture. As always, Adrienne here draws from the abundance of her own contemplation, which keeps continually in view the harmonious unity of Christian dogmatic truth; she gives to others what has been offered to her in contemplation without exegetical notes or any attempt at scholarship. Since she is speaking to novices, the train of thought is simple and practical yet rich in depth. The points for meditation are not primarily for spiritual reading but an introduction to personal prayer. They are meant only to point out a path because it is the Holy Spirit who directs contemplative prayer in all liberty. As one reads through this book, he will find in it a kind of synthesis of Adrienne von Speyr's spirituality. This work will also be very useful to preachers, catechists, pastors, communities and institutes who have understood with Pope Benedict XVI that it is time to reaffirm the importance of prayer in the face of the activism and the growing secularism of many Christians engaged in charitable work. The Making of a Refugee Tasoulla Hadjiyanni, 2002-03-30 Through an examination of interviews provided by 100 children of refugees in Cyprus born after their family's displacement, Hadjiyanni illustrates the formation of a refugee consciousness, an identity adopted by many children who never experienced the actual displacement of their family. Focusing on the process by which a child born into a refugee family develops a refugee identity, the book identifies nine dimensions that inform this consciousness. Establishing the family as the primary transmitter of the refugee identity and the child as its constructor, the author points to the power of homeplace in forming and supporting such an identity. The book challenges the notion that refugee consciousness is a separate identity and a crisis by reinterpreting it as a resistance to adversity. Shedding new light on what it means to be a refugee this work is a welcome addition to the field Beginning with a discussion of the meaning of the term refugee and how it has been adopted by the children of some refugees in Cyprus the author moves to an examination of the meaning of past and present to the formation of a refugee consciousness She then looks to the causes of such identity formation focusing on the transference of identity from parent to child and the effects of past loss on children who have not actually experienced displacement Housing issues are also examined as a contributing factor as refugee housing is typically distinct and constrained compared to housing for native citizens of a community The author concludes her work with a discussion of the implications of the Cyprus example for both the future and for general refugee studies

Talking Politics A. W. Sparkes, 2006-06-19 Talking Politics is a philosophical examination of some of the basic concepts of political discourse Its primary focus is on the ordinary on what is said by politicians in newspapers and by people in pubs rather than on the works of political theorists This is a work of but not on political theory Talking Politics is Invaluable as a source of reference for students and contains a detailed index Arranged thematically around topics such as Nation Each entry has copious cross references and suggestions for further reading A W Sparkes is uniquely qualified to write such a book combining some thirty years teaching as a philosopher with wide experience of and a life long fascination with politics His attitude is that of a critical but uncynical observer
