A Philosophy of Landscape Construction Bruce

Ferguson, 2020-12-30 A Philosophy of Landscape Construction outlines a philosophy of values in landscape construction demonstrating how integral structures such as pavements and walls constitute a key element to how people interact with and inhabit the final design The book discusses how these structures enable assist and care for people negotiating between the dynamic processes of site ecosystems and the soil on which they are founded They articulate spatial functional cultural and ecological meanings Within this theoretical framework designers will learn to recognize and insert a set of core values into the most technical design stages to reach their full potential By offering a new perspective on landscape construction moving away from the exclusively technical characteristics this book allows landscape architects to realise the ideal vision for their designs It is abundantly illustrated with examples from which designers can learn both successes and failures and will be an essential companion to any study of built landscapes
