Games of Inheritance Yitzhak Lewis, 2025-05-13 Games of Inheritance explores the thought of Argentine author and public intellectual Jorge Luis Borges 1899 1986 on questions of authorship and literary tradition The book focuses on Borges's engagement with Jewish literary and intellectual traditions highlighting the role of this engagement in developing and expressing his views on these questions The book argues that the primary relevance of Borges's persistent reference to the Judaic is not for understanding his attitude toward Jews and Judaism but for understanding his position in contemporary Argentinian debates about nationalism and literature empire and postcolonialism and populism and aesthetics By broadening the frame of Borges and the Judaic this book shifts the scholarly focus to the poetic utility of Borges's engagement with Jewish literary and intellectual traditions This allows a better understanding of the nuance of his views on the issues that most animate his oeuvre authorship and writing literature and tradition

Computer Vision - ECCV 2004 Tomas Pajdla, Jiri Matas, 2004-05-10 Welcome to the proceedings of the 8th European Conference on Computer vision Following a very successful ECCV 2002 the response to our call for papers was almost equally strong 555 papers were submitted We accepted 41 papers for oral and 149 papers for poster presentation Several innovations were introduced into the review process First the number of program committee members was increased to reduce their review load We managed to assign to program committee members no more than 12 papers Second we adopted a paper ranking system Program committee members were asked to rank all the papers assigned to them even those that were reviewed by additional reviewers Third we allowed authors to respond to the reviews consolidated in a discussion involving the area chair and the reviewers Fourth their reports their reviews and their responses were made available to the authors as well as to the program committee members Our aim was to provide the authors with maximal feedback and to let the program committee members know how authors reacted to their reviews and how their reviews were or were not reflected in the final decision Finally we reduced the length of reviewed papers from 15 to 12 pages The preparation of ECCV 2004 went smoothly thanks to the efforts of the organizing committee the area chairs the program committee and the reviewers We are indebted to Anders Heyden Mads Nielsen and Henrik J Nielsen for passing on ECCV traditions and to Dominique Asselineau from ENST TSI who kindly provided his GestRFIA conference software We thank Jan Olof Eklundh and Andrew Zisserman for encouraging us to organize ECCV 2004 in Prague

The Cambridge Introduction to American Literary Realism Phillip J. Barrish, 2011-10-06 Between the Civil War and the First World War realism was the most prominent form of American fiction Realist writers of the period include some of America's greatest such as Henry James Edith Wharton and Mark Twain but also many lesser known writers whose work still speaks to us today for instance Charles Chesnutt Zitkala and Sarah Orne Jewett Emphasizing realism's historical context this introduction traces the genre's relationship with powerful often violent social conflicts involving race gender class and national origin It also examines how the realist style was created the necessarily ambiguous relationship between realism produced on the page and reality outside the book and the different often contradictory forms realism took in literary works by different authors The most accessible yet sophisticated account of American literary realism currently available this volume will be of great value to students teachers and readers of the American novel A Companion to American Fiction, 1865 - 1914 Robert Paul Lamb, G. R. Nicholls, 1858 Parallel Architectures, Algorithms and Programming Hong Shen, Yingpeng Sang, 2020-01-25 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 10th International Symposium on Parallel Architectures Algorithms and Programming PAAP 2019 held in Guangzhou China in December 2019 The 39 revised full papers and 8 revised short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 121 submissions The papers deal with research results and development activities in all aspects of parallel architectures algorithms and programming techniques The Supernatural in Short Fiction of the Americas Dana Del George, 2001-08-30 The continuing cultural encounters of the Americas between European and indigenous cultures and between scientific materialism and premodern supernaturalism have originated new narrative forms While supernatural short fiction of the Americas belongs to the broad category of the fantastic which is generally approached synchronically reading audiences of the past 200 years have shifted their beliefs about the supernatural several times While nineteenth century readers understood science as real and the supernatural as imaginary modern audiences recognize both as inaccurate a shift which allows authors of supernatural fiction to celebrate premodern indigenous beliefs which were once disdained by a materialist culture This book situates supernatural short fiction of the Americas within the changing cultural and epistemological contexts of the last 200 years and explores how authors have drawn upon a wealth of indigenous traditions The book begins with a discussion of theories of the supernatural and the fantastic It then looks at some of the first encounters of European and Native American supernatural beliefs and points to the common elements of these early traditions The volume next focuses on American literature of the nineteenth century which has a complex fusion of materialist biases and metaphysical fascinations The final portion of the book gives greater attention to Spanish American literature and the blending of the supernatural with attitudes of nostalgia and uncertainty Computer Vision -- ACCV 2007 Yasushi Yagi, Sing Bing Kang, In
