The impact of feminism on political concepts and debates Georgina Blakeley,Valerie Bryson,2024-06-04 Many feminists have engaged with the man made concepts and approaches of traditional political analysis to produce an increasingly sophisticated and wide ranging body of thought The starting point of this book is the belief that such work is not simply something for the girls rather it has profound and complex implications without which our understanding of political processes and ideas would be impoverished This book provides an accessible overview and assessment of the impact of recent feminism by bringing together leading feminist and pro feminist political theorists and analysts to focus on key concepts such as rationality citizenship democracy and democratisation development and empowerment Each chapter takes a malestream concept and examines both the critical debates around it and feminist reactions critiques It then analyses the significance and implications of feminism for the concept considers whether it can simply be extended to include women or whether it should be radically transformed or even abandoned and assesses whether feminist input has become part of the mainstream debate or remains marginalised

Gender and Qualitative Research (1996) Jane Pilcher,Amanda Coffey,2018-02-19 This book gathers together an original collection of papers on gender and qualitative research The contributors draw on a variety of research methods and research settings to demonstrate the value of a qualitative approach for studying gender related issues Individual chapters include discussions on participant observation ethnographic interviewing focus groups and the analysis of documentary sources The volume as a whole reflects the wide range of gender focused work which is ongoing in Cardiff covering issues such as occupational cultures violence genetics and risk the life cycle and time This book was originally published as part of the Cardiff Papers in Qualitative Research series edited by Paul Atkinson Sara Delamont and Amanda Coffey The series publishes original sociological research that reflects the tradition of qualitative and ethnographic inquiry developed at Cardiff The series includes monographs reporting on empirical research edited collections focussing on particular themes and texts discussing methodological developments and issues

Timewatch Barbara Adam, 2013-05-29 In this book the author moves beyond the time of clocks and calendars in order to study time as embedded in social interactions structures practices and knowledge in artefacts in the body and in the environment Adam suggests ways not merely to deconstruct but to reconstruct both common sense and social science understanding

Research Handbook on Feminist Engagement with International Law Susan Harris Rimmer, Kate Ogg, For almost 30 years scholars and advocates have been exploring the interaction and potential between the rights and well being of women and the promise of international law This collection posits that the next frontier for international law is increasing its relevance beneficence and impact for women in the developing world and to deal with a much wider range of issues through a feminist lens

Everyday Life and the Sacred, 2017-11-06 An interdisciplinary gender sensitive approach toward perspectives on the everyday and the sacred are the hallmark of this volume Looking beyond the dualistic status quo the authors probe the categories textures powers and practices that define how we experience embody and understand religion and the sacred their interconnection but also disassociation with the secular Contributions by an international group of feminist theologians and religious studies scholars aim to re configure the study of both religion and gender

Gender and Work in Capitalist Economies Pam Odih, 2007-10-16 From the industrial revolution through to more recent advances in information technology radical changes in working practices have accelerated rates of production to previously unimaginable levels The establishment of wage relations in the second half of the 19th Century precipitated the rise of the employment society and a movement towards synchronized work Industrialization epitomized the capitalist definition of work time In Gender and Work in Capitalist Economies Pamela Odih advances a politics of gender and time exploring the sociological aspects of work This book provides a dynamic intervention into Marxist analysis of time and capitalist accumulation and looks at how in contemporary regimes this translates as the universal appropriation of women's labour time Pamela Odih reasons that it is a disconcerting fact of global manufacturing that accelerated turnover gains have become increasingly dependent on the exploitation of a spatially disaggregated feminized global assembly line The book explores Industrial and post industrial times as moments in a longer term trend Manufacturing in the 24 hour economy Accelerated rates of disaggregated production Gender and Work in Capitalist Economies is key reading for students of gender studies sociology organizational analysis and economic history From Eternity to Time Aino Mäkilä, 2007 This study examines different conceptions of time in Daniel Defoe's 1660-1731 novels The temporal aspects of the novels are surveyed taking into account the historical situation of the novel as a genre and contemporary conceptions of time The modernisation process of the Western world serves as a wider context of the study as present research indicates that Defoe's novels exemplify a multilayered shift from pre modern Western conceptions of time to those of the modern age The author also explores gendered time and economic and cultural values of time in Defoe's novels The book contributes a fresh analysis of Defoe's novels and demonstrates the crucial relation between historical cultural conceptions of time and the historically changing genre of the novel Companion

Encyclopedia of Anthropology Tim Ingold, 2002-09-11 Provides a comprehensive survey of contemporary thinking in biological social and cultural anthropology and establishes the interconnections between these three fields Useful cross references within the text with full biographical references and suggestions for further reading Carefully illustrated with line drawings and photographs The Companion Encyclopedia of Anthropology is a welcome addition to the reference literature Bringing together authoritative incisive and scrupulously edited contributions from some three dozen authors The book achieves an impressive breadth of coverage of specialist areas Times Higher Educational Supplement Recommended for all anthropology collections especially those in academic libraries Library Journal This is a marvellous book and I am very happy to recommend it Reference Reviews Women in Power Barbara K. Curry, 2000 In this exciting addition to the field of leadership development author Barbara Curry charts a course for women as leaders on their own terms Curry moves beyond traditional formulaic conceptions to examine leadership as a fluid adaptive process closely entwined with adult development Drawing from philosophical sociological and physiological explorations of the leader persona Curry approaches leadership as an interdisciplinary art She casts aside mythical characterizations of leadership to illuminate a more holistic conceptual framework that fosters the development of authentic leadership Using portraits of eight women in high level leadership roles Curry probes the kinds of conflict that often accompany women's ascendancy to positions of power Thoughtfully Curry examines the constellation of character traits and environmental circumstances that enable individuals to perceive of themselves as leaders and to function productively in such roles The book's dynamic approach provides a bridge between explanation and proactive intervention offering guidance for organizations and institutions aiming to encourage employees' ascendancy to leadership positions Through incisive analysis of the psychological and sociological evolution of women's emergence in leadership roles the Developing Leader Persona will enable both women and men to don the mantle of leadership with increased confidence Pedagogies of Resistance Margaret Crocco, Petra Munro Hendry, 1999 The stories of six women for whom a career in education serves as leverage to live their lives as agents of change By profiling women as educational activists the book challenges historical interpretations that have cast women as passive in the face of educational change

Educational Futures Ivana Milojevic, 2005-05-19 This book provides an overview and analysis of current tensions debates and key issues within OECD nations particularly Australia the USA Canada and the UK with regard to where education is and should be going Using a broad historical analysis it investigates ideas and visions about the future that are increasingly evoked to support arguments about the imminent demise of the dominant modern educational model Focusing neither on prediction nor prescription this text suggests the goal is an analysis of the ways in which the notion of the future circulates in contemporary discourse Five specific discourses are explored globalisation new information and communications technologies feminist indigenous and spiritual The book demonstrates the connections between particular approaches to time visions of the future and educational visions and practices The author asserts that every approach to educational change is inherently based on an underlying image of the future

Sociology Beyond Societies John Urry, 2012-11-12 In this ground breaking contribution to social theory John Urry argues that the traditional basis of sociology the study of society is outmoded in an increasingly borderless world If sociology is to make a pertinent contribution to the post societal era it must forget the social rigidities of the pre global order and instead switch its focus to the study of both physical and virtual movement In considering this sociology of mobilities the book concerns itself with the travels of people ideas images messages waste products and money across international borders and the implications these mobilities have to our experiences of time space dwelling and citizenship Sociology Beyond Society extends recent debate about globalisation both by providing an analysis of how mobilities reconstitute social life in uneven and complex ways and by arguing for the significance of objects senses and time and space in the theorising of contemporary life This book will be essential reading for undergraduates and graduates studying sociology and cultural geography

Rethinking Social Policy Gail Lewis, Sharon Gewirtz, John Clarke, 2000-06-06 Rethinking Social Policy is a comprehensive introduction to and analysis of the complex mixture of problems and possibilities within the study of social policy Contributors at the cutting edge of social policy analysis reflect upon the implications of new social and theoretical movements for welfare and the study of social policy Topics covered include criminology and crime control race class and gender poverty and sexuality the body and the emotions violence work and welfare in Europe Examples are drawn from a variety of welfare sectors such as social services and community care health education employment and criminal justice This is a course reader for The Open University course D860 R

Advertising and Cultural Politics in Global Times Pamela Odih, 2016-03-03 Advertising and Cultural Politics in Global Times traces daringly transgressive convergences between cultural politics and global advertising media It engages with a range of interpolations between cultural politics and advertising technologies including the governmental rationality of neoliberal vistas transgressive aesthetics and the cultural politics of representation the political sign economy of citizen branding techno political convergences between the social and political and the marking of a new exciting geo political terrain for cultural politics in global times Tracing global advertising practices to the cultural politics commonly manifested in the postmodern political caesura of advertising this book makes use of extensive case studies whilst drawing on the work of Baudrillard Giroux Foucault Castells and Latour to illustrate the manner in which advertising continues to revolutionize the political sphere As such it will be of interest to a range of readers across media studies cultural studies and sociology
