Tales of the Cloister (Classic Reprint) Elizabeth G. Jordan,2015-07-18 Excerpt from Tales of the Cloister Sister George and Sister Edgar were walking in the convent gar den They had been there less than five minutes but already from the little balconies that hung on the gray walls of the old building wistful eyes watched them The pupils had always found an inspiration in the fact that the two most popular nuns at St Mary s were ideal friends and took a daily stroll together in the twilight May Iverson had writ ten a poem on the subject and another pupil with artistic tendencies had done the best work of her school life in a sketch which showed the Sisters sitting side by side on the rustic seat in their favorite arbor Of late this school girl admiration and interest had been intensified by the foreboding that Sister Edgar could enjoy these evening outings very little longer The pupils found the setting for the striking figures as attractive as the young nuns them selves About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of
