Intuition's Logic; Poetry Kanika Badhan Raina, 2011-04-04 This is what this is to you because this is how I sing how I paint how I dance how I live It is freedom in the limitless space that allows words to unrestraint the self through slanted blacks that became become people places and thoughts of my past present future Feel the poems as photographs taken in a real and raw snap as the moment is captured Through the years it has become a story of a meditation in love Written without editing or re reading to keep to its truth These poems are a memoir autobiography in words that are intuitive and immediate reactions to breaths taken and forgotten to take and never taken and the broken sighs in between We breathe in and breathe out The air and everything between these breathes are the experiences that materialize life become words Taking readers through travels growth spirituality and finally finding the soul mate of this timeless existence these are my insides turned outside

Case-marking in Contact Felicity Meakins, 2011 Until recently mixed languages were considered an oddity of contact linguistics with debates about whether or not they actually existed stifling much descriptive work or discussion of their origins These debates have shifted from questioning their existence to a focus on their formation and their social and structural features This book aims to advance our understanding of how mixed languages evolve by introducing a substantial corpus from a newly described mixed language Gurindji Kriol Gurindji Kriol is spoken by the Gurindji people who live at Kalkaringi in northern Australia and is the result of pervasive code switching practices Although Gurindji Kriol bears some resemblance to both of its source languages it uses the forms from these languages to function within a unique system This book focuses on one structural aspect of Gurindji Kriol case morphology which is from Gurindji but functions in ways that differ from its source
