Scott Stossel, 2014-01-07 A riveting revelatory and moving account of the author's struggles with anxiety and of the history of efforts by scientists philosophers and writers to understand the condition As recently as thirty five years ago anxiety did not exist as a diagnostic category Today it is the most common form of officially classified mental illness Scott Stossel gracefully guides us across the terrain of an affliction that is pervasive yet too often misunderstood Drawing on his own long standing battle with anxiety Stossel presents an astonishing history at once intimate and authoritative of the efforts to understand the condition from medical cultural philosophical and experiential perspectives He ranges from the earliest medical reports of Galen and Hippocrates through later observations by Robert Burton and Søren Kierkegaard to the investigations by great nineteenth century scientists such as Charles Darwin William James and Sigmund Freud as they began to explore its sources and causes to the latest research by neuroscientists and geneticists Stossel reports on famous individuals who struggled with anxiety as well as on the afflicted generations of his own family His portrait of anxiety reveals not only the emotion's myriad manifestations and the anguish anxiety produces but also the countless psychotherapies medications and other often outlandish treatments that have been developed to counteract it Stossel vividly depicts anxiety's human toll its crippling impact its devastating power to paralyze while at the same time exploring how those who suffer from it find ways to manage and control it My Age of Anxiety is learned and empathetic humorous and inspirational offering the reader great insight into the biological cultural and environmental factors that contribute to the affliction Higher-Order Theories of Consciousness

Rocco J. Gennaro, 2004-04-23 Higher Order HO theories of consciousness have in common the idea that what makes a mental state conscious is that it is the object of some kind of higher order representation This volume presents fourteen previously unpublished essays both defending and criticizing this approach to the problem of consciousness It is the first anthology devoted entirely to HO theories of consciousness There are several kinds of HO theory such as the HOT higher order thought and HOP higher order perception models and each is discussed and debated Part One contains essays by authors who defend some form of HO theory Part Two includes papers by those who are critics of the HO approach Some of the topics covered include animal consciousness misrepresentation the nature of pain subvocal speech subliminal perception blindsight the nature of emotion the difference between perception and thought first order versus higher order theories of consciousness and the relationship between nonconscious and conscious mentality Series A      Clear Your Clutter With Feng Shui
