The Great Dane And The Great Northern Film Company:

The great Dane and the great Northern Film Company Bebe Bergsten, 1973 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry Anthony Slide, 2014-02-25 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry is a completely revised and updated edition of Anthony Slide's The American Film Industry originally published in 1986 and recipient of the American Library Association's Outstanding Reference Book award for that year. More than 200 new entries have been added and all original entries have been updated; each entry is followed by a short bibliography. As its predecessor, the new dictionary is unique in that it is not a who's who of the industry but rather a what's what: a dictionary of producing and releasing companies, technical innovations, industry terms, studios, genres, color systems, institutions, and organizations etc. More than 800 entries include everything from Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences to Zoom Lens from Astoria Studios to Zoetrope. Outstanding Reference Source, American Library Association. Nordisk Films Kompagni 1906-1924 Isak Thorsen, 2017-10-01 This comprehensive study of the Danish film company demonstrates how it became one of the most important innovators of the silent era. Established in 1906, Nordisk Films Kompagni's rise and fall is one of the most dramatic stories of the early film industry. Based on archival research, primarily in the company's surviving business archives, this volume describes and analyzes how Nordisk Films became one of the leading players in the world market and why the company failed to maintain this position. Isak Thorsen examines Nordisk Film as a business and organization from its establishment in 1906 until 1924, when founder Ole Olsen stepped back. He covers a wide range of topics, including the competitive advantages Nordisk Film gained in reorganizing the production to multiple reel films around 1910, the company's highly efficient film production which anticipated the departmentalized organization of Hollywood, Nordisk Film's aggressive expansion strategy in Germany, Central Europe, and Russia during the First World War, and the grand plans for taking control of UFA in association with the American Famous Players in the post-war years. Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition. Volume one examines the film as film; volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film; volume three draws on the history of film; and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors, sources, and historical information, as well as an index of authors, titles, and film personalities. Movies and Money David Puttnam, 2011-08-03 From David Puttnam, producer of such modern film classics as Chariots of Fire, The Killing Fields, Midnight Express, and The Mission and the only European to have run a major Hollywood studio, an insightful and provocative history that explains the personalities and events which shaped film's transformation from a technological curiosity into one of the world's most powerful cultural and economic forces. From the early rivalry between its inventors to the power brokering and political influence of today's mega-stars, from Zukor and Laemmle to Ovitz and Eisner, from the serendipitous discovery of Los Angeles' flagstaff no good wired Cecil B. De Mille, wanting authority to rent barn for 75 a month in place called Hollywood, to the exploitation and depredation of Europe's film culture in the name of the marketplace Puttnam captures the urgency and wonder that swept through a young industry and set it spinning on an axis of money and power Movies and Money chronicles the unprecedented collision between art and commerce and incisively analyzes its implications in today's global arena Puttnam's engaging history is also an impassioned polemic From the moment Thomas Edison stole the first crude attempt at a movie camera from the French scientist tienne Jules Marey Hollywood and Europe have existed the author claims in a state of undeclared hostility hostility that has occasionally erupted into open battle for control of the century's most powerful artistic medium And this battle he contends will ultimately determine the nature of Europe's cultural identity He also argues forcefully for the intelligent application of the language and techniques of cinema to education urging filmmakers to make films that challenge and inspire as well as entertain Ten years after his abrupt departure from Columbia Puttnam re-enters the debate about cinema with characteristic audacity with the irreverence of an iconoclast and the canniness of a seasoned player Movies and Money is a book that will change our understanding of the history and future of film

Life to Those Shadows Noël Burch, 1990-11-21 Noel Burch's new book is a critique of the assumptions underlying classical approaches to film history the assumption that what we call the language of film was a natural organic development that it lay latent from the outset in the basic technology of the camera waiting for the prescient pioneers to bring it into being and the assumption that this language was a universal neutral medium innocent of any social or historical meaning in itself His major thesis is that on the contrary film language has a social and economic history that it evolved in the way it did because of when and where it was constructed in the capitalist and imperialist west between 1892 and 1929 The book examines the chronology of the emergence of what it defines as cinema's Institutional Mode of Representation and the socio-historical circumstances in which this took place It examines the principles of visualisation camera placement and movement lighting editing mise en scene that film makers and audiences came to internalize over the first three decades Special emphasis is laid on the allimportant change that occurred in the imaginary placing of the spectator from a position of exteriority to the film image implicit in both film form and viewing conditions during the primitive era pre 1909 to the imaginary centering of the spectator subject completed only with the generalisation of lip synch sound after 1929 It is the contention of this book that this imaginary centering of a sensorily isolated spectator is the keystone of the cinematic illusion of reality still achieved today by the same means as it was sixty years ago
