a nation... and a message of hope for the baffled, divided world of 1948*

The Great Rehearsal

THE STORY OF THE MAKING AND RATIFYING OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

BY CARL VAN DOREN

In the late spring of 1787, a handful of men, none of them wise and not all of them honest, convened Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Daily for four months they came and went, guarding the secrets of their conference as jealously as the second session guaranteed the union to which they aspired. In the early fall of that same year they gave to the Continental Congress, and to the people, the fruits of their efforts—a document born of the great meetings, advised by many compromises, and destined to become one of the most important in the history of the world: the Constitution of the United States.

To read the story of the new nation made from the story, it is impossible to forget the limitations of our own day. In the third generation of the United States, it becomes clear why Carl Van Doren has called this work The Great Rehearsal.

These great meetings are here for all to read.
