The local people believe in a prophecy that states that a great man who looks like the stone face will emerge from their village. The story follows the life of a young boy named Ernest who is often compared to the stone face and is believed by many to be the fulfillment of the prophecy. And what was the Great Stone Face? Embosomed amongst a family of lofty mountains, there was a valley so spacious that it contained many thousand inhabitants. Some of these good people dwelt in log huts with the black forest all around them on the steep and difficult hill sides. Others had their homes in comfortable farm houses and cultivated the rich soil on the gentle slopes or level surfaces of the valley. Others again were congregated into populous villages where some wild highland rivulet tumbling down from its birthplace in the upper mountain region had been caught and tamed by human cunning and compelled to turn the machinery of cotton factories. The inhabitants of this valley in short were numerous and of many modes of life. But all of them grown people and children had a kind of familiarity with the Great Stone Face although some possessed the gift of distinguishing this grand natural phenomenon more perfectly than many of their neighbors.
