The Politics Of Housework Motive:

Édouard Vuillard, the Nabis, and the Politics of Domesticity Francesca Berry, 2024-12-12 This ground breaking book is the first to address the feminine and feminist politics of Intimiste art a modernist mode of art making developed in the 1890s by douard Vuillard while associated with the Nabi brotherhood Coined by contemporary critics intimisme encapsulated the shared approach of these artists to depicting intimate settings and themes Vuillard s paintings which are typically small employ bold pigments and economic brushstrokes to depict female figures in tightly composed apartment interiors Those portrayed include his mother and sister just as wives and lovers dominate the art of other Nabis including Maurice Denis and Pierre Bonnard Francesca Berry comparatively analyses the gender politics of Nabi art to reveal real differences Through skilled visual interpretation she argues that Vuillard attempted a profound engagement with the material conditions of feminine domesticity in cooperation with his first and most sustained audience women He did so the author reveals in artworks that explore a complex range of feminine experiences such as sexual initiation stillbirth illicit work and unceasing housework The personal gender politics of Intimiste practice also are foregrounded Vuillard s studio bedroom afforded him access to quotidian femininity But at what risks to his sister s privacy and to his mother s subjectivity Making an artistic project of feminine domesticity also meant entering the field of politics The 1890s was the decade of state legislation and feminist demands with respect to work in the home and women s familial rights Personal in motif and Symbolist in form Berry s extensive historical research reveals these artworks also to have been social and political sometimes even feminist in meaning Transcending the structural repression of domesticity in histories of modernist art this book powerfully overturns residual myths of aesthetic introspection and social retreat that for too long have been attached to Nabi Symbolism

Human Motives and Cultural Models Roy G. D'Andrade, Claudia Strauss, 1992-05-21 Why do people do what they do The authors attempt to show how shared cultural knowledge comes to motivate or fail to motivate individuals Politics and the Class Divide David Croteau, 1995 People don t believe they have a say anymore so they ve given up p That s the cynical conclusion of one worker in this study of the relationships between working people and the middle class left This rare accessible book on class differences in American life examines the impact of class status on an individual s participation or non participation in the political process Focusing on the relative absence of white working class involvement in many contemporary U S liberal and left social movements David Croteau goes straight to the source members of the working class and activists in the environmental peace women s and other social movements Croteau rejects standard assumptions that apathy or simple conservatism explain working class nonparticipation Instead he highlights the role of class based resources and explores how varying cultural tools developed in different classes are more or less helpful in navigating and influencing the existing political environment Commonly he finds the result is a middle class sense of power and entitlement and a working class sense of powerlessness and fatalism Contemplating the future of social movements he explores how lack of diversity hurts the effectiveness of what have become isolated middle class movements and proposes solutions that would increase the future political participation of working people in social movements Author note David Croteau Assistant Professor of Sociology at Virginia Commonwealth University is co author of By Invitation Only How the Media Limits Political Debate Earth at a Crossroads Hartmut Bossel, 1998-06-25 Can we reach a future that is both environmentally and socially sustainable Many issues characterise global developments at the end of the twentieth century globalization of the economy unemployment social problems environmental pollution resource waste ecological destruction Earth at a Crossroads offers a holistic systems view of the development of human society within the natural environment on which it depends for support The book stresses the dynamic nature of interconnected feedback processes traces possible future paths of societal development and their impacts determines their sustainability and points at necessary changes Two alternative visions of the future are presented a Path A resulting from continuation of current trends and a contrasting Path B that would result from adhering to principles of sustainability and protection of the natural system in the interests of future generations This book will become an important reference in the discussion of global society's path into the next millennium Motivations for Refusal Mark Gawne, 2025-05-01 In Motivations for Refusal Work Value and the Limits of Postworkerism Mark Gawne develops a critical account of how the affective politics of capital and class are formed and contested in contemporary arrangements of work and offers a comprehensive critique of the postworkerist school of autonomist Marxism Drawing on value critique and class composition analysis the book challenges core assumptions of postworkerism and related theories of affective labour while retaining their core insights Moving beyond the limits of postworkerism Gawne analyses how the integration of the affective sciences into management and workplace technologies constitutes a terrain of contestation in conditions of immaterial production Motivations for Refusal explores how affective politics emerge in the contestation between labour and capital in their affective modes The Women's Liberation Movement and the Politics of Class in Britain George Stevenson, 2019-02-21 This is the first study of the British Women's Liberation Movement's relationship with class politics It explores the meaning of class to women's liberationists identities and activism both nationally and regionally using a previously neglected feminist cluster in North East England as a case study Stevenson demonstrates that British feminism was shaped fundamentally by its relationship to synthesis with and rejection of class politics Through these processes feminists recognised how post war changes in the economy and gender roles were reshaping class and the Women's Liberation Movement attempted to remake class politics in response However socio economic and cultural class differences between the women involved linked to occupation education and background remained intractable obstacles causing tensions within groups fragmentations into specific class based groups and the ultimate failure of the movement to coalesce into a coherent coalition with labour politics despite great levels of solidarity around particular struggles Examining regional feminism against the national backdrop The Women's Liberation Movement and the Politics of Class in Britain provides an engaging exploration of the fruitful but challenging relationship between British feminism and class politics in a capitalist society

Humanist Realism for Sociologists Terry Leahy, 2017-01-20 Recent critiques treat humanism as a mistaken value framework Indeed the concept of human nature is in fact essential for sociology but is often being denied at the same time as it appears without acknowledgement While classic authors can show us how to connect an ethics with a concept of human nature current humanists must tackle the sociobiological view of human nature and interrogate humanism in the light of the ecological crisis Humanist Realism for Sociologists both explains and explores some of the main arguments surrounding humanism put forward by classic social theorists such as Aristotle Marx and Weber as well as more contemporary authors such as Braidotti Oakley Weedon Firestone Connell Flyvbjerg Foucault and Bourdieu A must have tool for understanding how value perspectives cannot be eliminated from the social sciences this book is essential for undergraduates postgraduates and postdoctoral researchers interested in the fields of sociology anthropology women s studies social work human geography political philosophy and ecology
