The Power Of Potential Curriculum:

Geography Education's Potential and the Capability Approach Richard Bustin, 2019-08-10 This book explores the pivotal role that geography as a school subject plays in helping every young person achieve their educational potential Expressed as GeoCapabilities this concept draws on the the capabilities approach developed by Amartya Sen and Martha Nussbaum applied to curriculum thinking in schools While traditional subjects have often been deemed irrelevant and outdated in an overcrowded secondary school curriculum subjects like geography have often been lost or combined with others to fulfil a broad skills agenda More recent talk of a knowledge led curriculum can often lead to the recitation of facts at the expense of developing deeper understanding This book argues the concept of powerful geographical knowledge based on the work of Michael Young and David Lambert invests the subject of geography with its educational potential this forms the basis of GeoCapabilities GeoCapabilities focuses on both what is being taught and why and as such provides a framework of curriculum thinking which will be of interest and value to geography teachers school leaders with curriculum development responsibilities and all those interested in the capability approach and the moral imperative of education Teaching and Learning in Primary Care Richard Hays, 2016-07-06 Teaching and Learning in Primary Care has been specially designed for undergraduate and vocational teaching It combines both practical advice and theory covering day to day teaching and learning in the real world It also encourages trainers to become more involved in teaching and supervising This essential guide provides vital guidance and support to general practitioners with teaching responsibilities undergraduate healthcare lecturers and tutors and healthcare professionals in primary care When "minorities are Strongly Encouraged to Apply" Darrell Cleveland, 2009 This series asks about the purposes of Higher Education When undergraduates declare their majors they agree to enter into a world defined by the parameters of a particular academic discourse a discipline But who decides those parameters How do they come about What are the discussions and proposed outcomes of disciplined inquiry The series welcomes proposals from interdisciplinary multidisciplinary or transdisciplinary perspectives Expanding Your Teaching Potential Susan M. Campbell, 1983 International Handbook of Early Childhood Education Marilyn Fleer, Bert van Oers, 2017-10-10 This international handbook gives a comprehensive overview of findings from longstanding and contemporary research theory and practices in early childhood education in the Northern and Southern hemispheres The first volume of the handbook addresses theory methodology and the research activities and research needs of particular regions The second volume examines in detail innovations and longstanding programs curriculum and assessment and conceptions and research into child family and communities The two volumes of this handbook address the current theory methodologies and research needs of specific countries and provide insight into existing global similarities in early childhood practices By paying special attention to what is happening in the larger world contexts the volumes provide a representative overview of early childhood education practices and research and redress the current North South imbalance of published work on the subject The Powers of Literacy (RLE Edu I) Bill Cope, Mary Kalantzis, 2014-06-17 Literacy remains a contentious and polarized educational media and political issue What has emerged from the continuing debate is a recognition that literacy in education is allied closely with matters of language and culture ideology and discourse knowledge and power Drawing perspectives variously from critical social theory and cultural studies poststructuralism and feminisms sociolinguistics and the ethnography of communication social history and comparative education the contributors begin a critical interrogation of taken for granted assumptions which have guided educational policy research and practice

Language Teachers at Work Zhan Li, 2020-06-13 This book examines a ubiquitous yet under researched area of language education i e language teachers use of curriculum materials It particularly focuses on EFL teachers use of prescribed curriculum materials in higher education in Mainland China and presents a qualitative multi case study involving four Chinese EFL teachers and eight students two students from each teacher s class at one university in Mainland China Drawing on data from pre lesson and post lesson interviews with the teachers lesson observations and documents in three consecutive semesters at the target university the book delineates the processes of materials use in classroom settings It also identifies four domains of factors that influenced the enactment of curriculum materials Most importantly by adopting Vygotsky s 1978 mediation theory and Remillard s 2005 participatory perspective the book constructs a curriculum enactment mediation model to reveal the complex and mediated relations among teachers learners curriculum materials and context It also recommends practical implications for materials developers teacher educators administrators and policymakers
