The Power Of The Center A Study Of Composition In The Visual Arts:

The Power of the Center Rudolf Arnheim, 2009-10-19 Rudolf Arnheim has been known since the publication of his groundbreaking Art and Visual Perception in 1974 as an authority on the psychological interpretation of the visual arts. Two anniversary volumes celebrate the landmark anniversaries of his works: in 2009 The Power of the Center, Arnheim uses a wealth of examples to consider the factors that determine the overall organization of visual form in works of painting, sculpture, and architecture. The Dynamics of Architectural Form explores the unexpected perceptual consequences of architecture with Arnheim's customary clarity and precision.

The Power of the Center Rudolf Arnheim, 1983-01-01 The tension between two systems for understanding and picturing space—the concentric and the Cartesian—is regarded by the author as the key to composition in painting, sculpture, and architecture. The Power of the Center Rudolf Arnheim, 1982

The Power of the Center Rudolf Arnheim, 1988 The tension between two systems for understanding and picturing space—the concentric and the Cartesian—is regarded by the author as the key to composition in painting, sculpture, and architecture.

The Power of the Center Rudolf Arnheim, 1988-03-25 Arnheim shows how compositional form makes sense only when it utilizes visual symbols of the life experience that makes art meaningful.

Sacred Communities Dean Phillip Bell, 2021-10-01 We all live in a community, and it was no different for the Jews and Christians of medieval Germany, or was it? This book draws together disparate threads of Christian and Jewish communal development in an effort to give a deeper understanding to the complex tapestry of Jewish and Christian interaction. In the broad examination presented herein, it is possible to compare the general transformations that affected Jews and Christians both as residents of a shared German society and as residents of their own separate communities. Jews and Christians interacted in a variety of ways in numerous settings and at a multitude of levels that defy simple categorization. To label late medieval Germany a period of crisis is too simplistic; the Reformation should not categorically be viewed as the central development in the shift between medieval and early modern times. This book seeks to recontextualize the world of Jewish and Christian relations by bringing together divergent sources not often taken together but equally important to inform one another and offer a fuller picture of Jewish and Christian notions of each other and themselves than has been possible up to this point.

Projecting a Camera Edward Branigan, 2013-08-21 In Projecting a Camera, film theorist Edward Branigan offers a groundbreaking approach to understanding film theory. Why, for example, does a camera move? What does a camera know? And when does it know it? What is the camera's relation to the subject during long static shots? What happens when the screen is blank? Through a wide-ranging engagement with Wittgenstein and theorists of film, he offers one of the most fully developed understandings of the ways in which the camera operates in film. With its thorough grounding in the philosophy of spectatorship and narrative, Projecting a Camera takes the study of film to a new level. With the care and precision that he brought to Narrative Comprehension and Film, Edward Branigan maps the ways in which we must understand the role of the camera, the meaning of the frame, the role of the spectator and other key components of film viewing By analyzing how we think discuss and marvel about the films we see Projecting a Camera offers insights rich in implications for our understanding of film and film studies The Unification of the Arts Steven Brown,2021-11-25 What are the arts What functions do the arts serve in human life This book presents the first fully integrated cognitive account of the arts that unites visual art theatre literature dance and music into a single framework with supporting discussions about creativity and aesthetics The Aesthetic Mind Elisabeth Schellekens,Peter Goldie,2011-10-13 The Aesthetic Mind breaks new ground in bringing together empirical sciences and philosophy to enhance our understanding of art and the aesthetic An eminent international team of experts explores the roles of emotion imagination empathy and beauty in this realm of human experience discussing visual and literary art music and dance

Robert Indiana Susan Elizabeth Ryan,Robert Indiana,2000-01-01 The author argues that Indiana s strident visual language emerges from his tendency to recast his life in story and verse a fact that unlocks complex and secret tissues of figurative meaning within the deceptively simple canvases By illuminating the enigmas in Indiana s word and image combinations she helps to explain the longevity of LOVE and its influence on a later generation of artists BOOK JACKET

Multimodality in the Built Environment Louise J. Ravelli,Robert J. McMurtrie,2015-11-19 This book provides an extended exploration of the multimodal analysis of spatial three dimensional texts of the built environment culminating in a holistic approach termed Spatial Discourse Analysis SpDA Based on existing frameworks of multimodal analysis this book applies adapts and extends these frameworks to spatial texts The authors argue that choices in spatial design create meanings about what we perceive and how we can or should behave within spatial texts influence how we feel in and about those spaces and enable these texts to function as coherent wholes Importantly a spatial text once built is also a resource which is then used and an essential aspect of understanding these texts is to consider what users themselves contribute to the meaning potential of these texts The book takes the metafunctional approach familiar from Systemic Functional Linguistics SFL and foregrounds each metafunction in turn textual interpersonal experiential and logical in relation to the detailed analysis of a particular spatial text What Writing Does and How It Does It Charles Bazerman,Paul Prior,2003-12-08 In What Writing Does and How It Does It editors Charles Bazerman and Paul Prior offer a sophisticated introduction to methods for understanding studying and analyzing texts and writing practices This volume addresses a variety of approaches to analyzing texts and considers the processes of writing exploring textual practices and their contexts and examining what texts do and how texts mean rather than what they mean Included are traditional modes of analysis rhetorical literary linguistic as well as newer modes such as text and talk genre and activity analysis and intertextual analysis The chapters have been developed to provide answers to a specified set of questions with each one offering a preview of the chapter s content and purpose an introduction to basic concepts referring to key theoretical and research studies in the area details on the types of data and questions for which the analysis is best used examples from a wide ranging group of texts including educational materials student writing published literature and online and electronic media one or more applied analyses with a clear statement of procedures for analysis and illustrations of a particular sample of data and a brief summary suggestions for additional readings and a set of activities The side by side comparison of methods allows the reader to see the multi dimensionality of writing facilitating selection of the best method for a particular research question The volume contributors are experts from linguistics communication studies rhetoric literary analysis document design sociolinguistics education ethnography and cultural psychology and each utilizes a specific mode of text analysis With its broad range of methodological examples What Writing Does and How It Does It is a unique and invaluable resource for advanced undergraduate and graduate students and for researchers in education composition ESL and applied linguistics communication L1 and L2 learning print media and electronic media It will also be useful in all social sciences and humanities that place importance on texts and textual practices such as English writing and rhetoric

Understanding Selfies Piotr Sorokowski, Katarzyna Pisanski, Agnieszka Sorokowska, Nicola Bruno, 2018-04-27 In the year 2013 selfie was named word of the year by Oxford Dictionaries in recognition of dramatic changes in frequency prominence and register of the term This drastic increase in selfie taking was spurred by two factors The first was the advent of smartphones equipped with front cameras and preview screens that made it easy to compose a photographic self portrait by a process of deliberately exploring one s image choosing a pose and finally taking the picture The second key change contributing to the rise of the selfie age was the increasing availability of internet connections It is estimated that about 50% of the world population has access to the internet today 2018 <https://www.internetworldstats.com> At the end of the past century this percentage was a mere 1% The growth of the internet infrastructure simultaneously spurred the development of social network applications such as Facebook Twitter Snapchat and Instagram providing accessible media for sharing photographs including photographic self portraits However despite their tremendous reach and popularity selfies have so far received relatively little attention by the scientific community especially within psychology Thus we proposed a Frontiers in Psychology Research Topic to expand empirical and theoretical work on the massively popular yet scientifically unexplored phenomenon of the selfie The articles published in this eBook offer a multifaceted insight into current scholarly work on this topic

Finding the Figure in the Carpet Lee McKay Johnson, 2006-12-05 In his 1896 short story The Figure in the Carpet James sets forth a riddle for his critical readers as he approaches the major phase in his career He imagines a fictional novelist Hugh Vereker who tantalizes his critics with the idea of a single thread a design woven throughout all of his major works hidden in plain sight The design Vereker says is as obvious as a foot stuck in a shoe but the distinguished novelist is convinced no one will ever see it One critic Corvick however during a trip to India has an astonishing flash of revelation he sees the figure and the discovery is immense When Corvick returns and shares his epiphany with Vereker the novelist assures him that his discovery is precisely accurate there is not a single wrong note But Corvick dies in a road accident before he can write his definitive book on Vereker's secret design My study will show the reader that there is a distinct figure in the carpet in the works of Henry James himself But James only uses the figure in a select group of his major novels and tales all six of which we will examine here These major works are all experimental and radical and show James allowing himself the artistic freedom to follow his own arcane and personal path The pattern is fully manifested in The Turn of the Screw in 1897 and remains the consistent thread all the way through the Masters final completed novel The Golden Bowl in 1904 I began writing about the relation of writing to painting and how James translates structural aspects of the silent art of painting into prose James borrows both silence and simultaneity from the painter his brother of the brush and experiments with their narrative equivalents I saw with increasing clarity that James' admiration of the powers of painting led him into depicting nonverbal aspects of consciousness in language Finally I saw the whole system lock into place everything fit The figure in the carpet was revealed as visible silence With only a minute adjustment of focus I suddenly saw that James' narrative pictorial structure that I had been tracing all these years constitutes the figure in the carpet itself The pictorial pattern literally governs every line and chooses every word James brings the reader into the full consciousness of his character by taking us into the silent radiation of the visible As readers we experience the silence before language the silence between words and the silence after language In this book I will show my reader how the figure in the carpet operates as the controlling design in every square inch of text in each of James' most famous novels and tales      The Arts and the Definition of the Human Joseph Margolis, 2008-09-10 The Arts and the Definition of the Human introduces a novel theory that our selves our thoughts perceptions creativity and other qualities that make us human are determined by our place in history and more particularly by our culture and language Margolis rejects the idea that any concepts or truths remain fixed and objective through the flow of history and reveals that this theory of the human being or philosophical anthropology as culturally determined and changing is necessary to make sense of art He shows that a painting sculpture or poem cannot have a single correct interpretation because our creation and perception of art will always be mitigated by our historical and cultural contexts Calling upon philosophers ranging from Parmenides and Plato to Kant Hegel and Wittgenstein art historians from Damisch to Elkins artists from Van Eyck to Michelangelo to Wordsworth to Duchamp Margolis creates a philosophy of art interwoven with his philosophical anthropology which pointedly challenges prevailing views of the fine arts and the nature of personhood      The Psychology of Art

Appreciation Bjarne Sode Funch, 1997 This book is more than an introduction to the psychology of art appreciation it puts into perspective the research carried out within the area and offers a new understanding of the relationship between art and viewer A number of studies within the psycho physical cognitive psychoanalytic and existential phenomenological schools of thought are presented in order to demonstrate how their views on the appreciation of visual art vary Five different types of art appreciation ranging from a spontaneous preference for a work of art to a blissful experience of transcendence are identified and described      Eye of the Century Francesco Casetti, 2008 Acclaimed film scholar Francesco Casetti situates the cinematic experience within discourses of 20th century modernity He suggests that film defined a unique gaze not only because it recorded many of the centuries most important events but also because it determined the manner in which they were received
