The Practice of Chinese Buddhism, 1900-1950 Holmes Welch, 1967 Based partly on unpublished documents and oral information obtained from monks who headed major monasteries on mainland China Holmes Welch presents a detailed description of the modern practice of Chinese Buddhism Focusing on the actual rather than the theoretical observances of the religion he gives an exhaustive account of the monastic system and the style of life of both monk and layman His study makes new information available for the Western reader and calls into question the whole concept of the moribund state of Chinese Buddhism

The Zen Monastic Experience Robert E. Buswell, Jr., 2020-07-21 Robert Buswell a Buddhist scholar who spent five years as a Zen monk in Korea draws on personal experience in this insightful account of day to day Zen monastic practice In discussing the activities of the postulants the meditation monks the teachers and administrators and the support monks of the monastery of Songgwang sa Buswell reveals a religious tradition that differs radically from the stereotype prevalent in the West The author s treatment lucidly relates contemporary Zen practice to the historical development of the tradition and to Korean history more generally and his portrayal of the life of modern Zen monks in Korea provides an innovative and provocative look at Zen from the inside

Cantonese Society in a Time of Change Göran Aijmer, Virgil K. Y. Toward a Modern Chinese Buddhism Don A. Pittman, 2001-02-01 The Venerable Master Taixu 1890 1947 is the most important and controversial Chinese Buddhist reformer of the twentieth century Viewed as dangerously rash by conservative Buddhists irrelevant by secular humanists and spiritually misguided by Christian missionaries Taixu was nevertheless committed to forging a socially engaged form of Buddhism and to organizing a Buddhist mission in the West His bold and inventive Buddhist revolution continues to shape aspects of a revitalized Buddhism in East Asia and around the world The present volume is the first major study in English to focus on the charismatic reformer and his teachings and provides a comprehensive and absorbing interpretation of Taixu s aims and the divisive controversies that surrounded him This nuanced work is richly documented with quotations from Taixu s own writings and from various Chinese intellectuals and evangelists of the period As the most politically involved of all the Buddhist leaders in the Republican period Taixu sought to present Mah y na Buddhism as the core of a new Chinese culture and the only adequate foundation for a truly global civilization Distancing himself from those masters who focused on otherworldly paradises and stressed dependence on celestial buddhas and bodhisattvas he emphasized what could actually be accomplished in this world through the work of thousands of living bodhisattvas dedicated to building a pure land here and now A realist who acknowledged the complexities of the human condition in an increasingly interdependent and violent world Taixu was also a utopian who tried to imagine how Buddhists could begin to realize their ultimate ideals ideals that in fact lay beyond the preservation of institutional Buddhism itself Students of Buddhism Chinese religion contemporary Chinese history and culture and Taiwan studies will welcome this study of a crucially important and intriguingly complex individual whose life encapsulates many of the forces and possibilities apparent within Chinese Buddhism in the contemporary world Establishing a Pureland on Earth Christopher Stuart Chandler, 2000

Lutz, Rolland Ray Lutz, 1998-01-16 The Basil Society s China mission one of the more successful Protestant missions in the nineteenth century was distinguished by the fact that most of the initial proselytizing was conducted by Chinese converts in the interior rather than by Western missionaries in the treaty ports Thus the first viable protestant communities were not only established by Chinese evangelists they were established among an ethnic minority in south China the Hakka people The autobiographies of eight pioneer Chinese missionaries featured in this book offer an unusual opportunity to view village life and customs in Guangdong during the mid nineteenth century by providing details on Hakka death and burial rituals ancestor veneration lineages and lineage feuds geomancy the status of Hakka women widespread economic hardship and civil disorder They also illustrate the appeals of Christianity the obstacles to conversion and Chinese opposition to Christianity and Western missionaries The authors commentary addresses the issue of conversion which was fueled by individual desire for solace and salvation the building of a support community amid social chaos and the possibility of social mobility through education Despite an expanding role by Western missionaries the Chinese origins the rural interior locale and the status of the Hakka as a disadvantaged minority contributed to successive generations of Christian families and to early progress toward an autonomous Hakka church Hakka Chinese Confront Protestant Christianity, 1850-1900 Jessie Gregory Lutz, Rolland Ray Lutz, 2015-03-04 This work focuses on the 19th century mission conducted by Chinese evangelists among the Hakka an ethnic minority in south China The principal part of the text comprises the autobiographies of eight pioneer missionaries who offer insight into village life and customs of the Hakka people Chinese Religions Christian Jochim, 1986 Covers Confucianism Taoism and Chinese Buddhism focusing on the interaction between religion and aspects of Chinese culture such as the family the community the arts etc The Experience of Buddhism John Strong, 2008 Part of the Religious Life in History Series this comprehensive anthology provides translations of texts illustrative of Buddhist philosophy and doctrine as well as descriptive concrete accounts of Buddhist practices rituals and experiences Author John Strong gives careful consideration to many key aspects of the religion in a wide range of geographic and cultural arenas from Asia to the United States and gives students a sense of Buddhism's historical evolution in each area In addition this new edition of THE EXPERIENCE OF BUDDHISM uniquely offers students a list of pertinent bibliographic suggestions after each reading giving them the opportunity to both enhance their understanding of the material and streamline their research and paper writing process Peking Paper Gods Anne Swann Goodrich, 1991 Paper gods are thin pieces of paper on which the image of diverse deities of the Chinese pantheon has been printed usually by carved wooden blocks In North China commonly known as paper horses chih ma these prints form an important part of Chinese popular religious cults Widely spread among the population from peasants to high officials they were hung in homes shops and places of work as a protection against evil spirits The prints were also burnt as a means of transporting the deity represented to heaven Anne S Goodrich has collected a large number of those paper horses during the years she spent in Peking in the 1930s The book presents numerous specimens of her unique collection in black and white illustrations arranged according to the different types of gods among them Gods of Wealth Ts'ai shen Gods of Medicine Patron Deities and Household Gods The prints show deities worshiped in Chinese popular beliefs as well as Taoist and Buddhist deities The author analyses each print its symbolism and iconography and gives a detailed explanation of the specific deity's significance and the rituals and festivals connected with this deity Book Review Index, 1969 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation "Women, Gender and Art in Asia, c. 1500-1900" Melia Belli Bose, 2017-07-05 Women Gender and Art in Asia c 1500 1900 brings women's engagements with art into a pan Asian dialogue with essays that examine women as artists commissioners collectors and subjects from India Southeast Asia Tibet China Korea and Japan from the sixteenth to the early twentieth century The artistic media includes painting sculpture architecture textiles and photography The book is broadly concerned with four salient
