The Pragmatics Of Insignificance Chekhov Zoshchenko Gogol:

The Pragmatics of Insignificance Cathy Popkin, 1993 What makes a tale worth telling What makes a text worth reading When is a detail significant and when extraneous And how much irrelevant detail can a reader take in his or her stride This book addresses the question of tellability by looking at texts that raise the question themselves works by Anton Chekhov Mikhail Zoshchenko and Nikolai Gogol The author examines closely both the works of the three authors and their readers responses to them emphasizing the pragmatic predicament of readers confronted with textual material that confounds their sense of import and tempts them to quit reading She also raises the vexed question of reading for pleasure and profit The book accounts systematically for why Chekhov's trivia works so well and speculates provocatively about why Gogol's does not It also aims to fill a major gap in the English language scholarship on Zoshchenko most of which concentrates almost exclusively on his stylistic idiosyncrasies The book locates Zoshchenko's appeal in the iconoclastic structure and content of his miniatures

New Poetics of Chekhov's Major Plays Harai Golomb, 2014-01-01 This text attempts to map the unique structure and meaning that comprise Chekhov's immensely rich artistic universe The prime components of his theatrical technique and fictional world are explored to uncover the basic principles governing the Chekhov's universe

The Cambridge Introduction to Chekhov James N. Loehlin, 2010-10-07 Chekhov is widely acknowledged as one of the most influential literary figures of modern times Russia's preeminent playwright he played a significant role in revolutionizing the modern theatre His impact on prose fiction writing is incalculable he helped define the modern short story Beginning with an engaging account of Chekhov's life and cultural context in nineteenth century Russia this book introduces the reader to this fascinating and complex personality Unlike much criticism of Chekhov it includes detailed discussions of both his fiction and his plays The Introduction traces his concise impressionistic prose style from early comic sketches to mature works such as Ward No 6 and In the Ravine Examining Chekhov's development as a dramatist the book considers his one act vaudevilles and early works while providing a detailed act by act analysis of the masterpieces on which his reputation rests The Seagull Uncle Vanya Three Sisters and The Cherry Orchard

South African Literature's Russian Soul Jeanne-Marie Jackson, 2015-10-22 How do great moments in literary traditions arise from times of intense social and political upheaval South African Literature's Russian Soul charts the interplay of narrative innovation and political isolation in two of the world's most renowned non European literatures In this book Jeanne Marie Jackson demonstrates how Russian writing's Golden Age in the troubled nineteenth century has served as a model for South African writers both during and after apartheid Exploring these two isolated literary cultures alongside each other the book challenges the limits of global methodologies in contemporary literary studies and outdated models of center periphery relations to argue for a more locally involved scale of literary enquiry with more truly global horizons Art and Text in Roman Culture Jas Elsner,1996-06-27 This is a collection of specially commissioned essays exploring the interface between words and images in the Roman world Economies of Feeling Jillian Porter,2017-06-15 Economies of Feeling offers new explanations for the fantastical plots of mad or blocked ambition that set the nineteenth century Russian prose tradition in motion Jillian Porter compares the conceptual history of social ambition in post Napoleonic France and post Decembrist Russia and argues that the dissonance between foreign and domestic understandings of this economic passion shaped the literature of Nicholas I's reign 1825-1855 Porter shows how for Pushkin Gogol Dostoevsky and Faddei Bulgarin ambition became a staging ground for experiments with transnational literary exchange In its encounters with the celebrated Russian cultural value of hospitality and the age old vice of miserliness ambition appears both timely and anachronistic suspiciously foreign and disturbingly Russian it challenges readers to question the equivalence of local and imported words feelings and forms Economies of Feeling examines founding texts of nineteenth century Russian prose alongside nonliterary materials from which they drew energy from French clinical diagnoses of ambitious monomania to the various types of currency that proliferated under Nicholas I It thus contributes fresh and fascinating insights into Russian characters impulses to attain rank and to squander counterfeit and hoard Porter's interdisciplinary approach will appeal to scholars of comparative as well as Russian literature Russian Minimalism Adrian Wanner,2003-12-26 The first study of the prose poem in the context of Russian literature The Performance of Authenticity Teófilo Espada-Brignoni,2022-01-28 In The Performance of Authenticity: The Makings of Jazz and the Self in Autobiography Teófilo Espada Brignoni analyzes the autobiographies of New Orleans musicians Baby Dodds Sidney Bechet Pops Foster and Lee Collins who throughout their texts construct New Orleans jazz as an authentic musical expression grounded in their experiences and culture The author argues the autobiographies reproduce and reinterpret modernist conceptions of authenticity to assert and affirm authority over the public representations and discussions of jazz Through the autobiographers use of ideas about authenticity they establish the value of their narratives but at the same time reinforce some of the power dynamics they set out to criticize Their narratives also reveal the complex ethics that emerged during the first decades of the music and problematize modernist values such as individualism the dichotomy of work and life as well as the self and the social The book adopts Foucauldian and social constructivist perspectives complementing analysis of the autobiographies by drawing from literary theory psychology sociology and jazz scholarship Socialist Senses Emma Widdis,2017-09-11 Widdis's rich and fascinating book has opened a new perspective from which to think about the Soviet cinema Kritika This major reimagining of the history of Soviet film and its cultural impact explores the fundamental transformations in how film through the senses remade the Soviet self in the 1920s and 1930s Following the Russian Revolution there was a shared ambition for a sensory revolution to accompany political and social change Soviet men and women were to be reborn into a revitalized relationship with the material world Cinema was seen as a privileged site for the creation of this sensory revolution Film could both discover the world anew and model a way of inhabiting it Drawing upon an extraordinary array of films noted scholar Emma Widdis shows how Soviet cinema as it evolved from the revolutionary avant garde to Socialist Realism gradually shifted its materialist agenda from emphasizing the external senses to instilling the appropriate internal senses consciousness emotions in the new Soviet subject Russia on Reels Birgit

Beumers,1999-12-31 This is the first book to deal exclusively with Russian cinema of the 1990s It introduces readers to the currents and common interests of contemporary Russian cinema offers close studies of the work of filmmakers like Sokurov Muratova and Astrakhan reviews the Russian film industry in a period of massive economic transformation and assesses cinema s function as a definer of Russia s new identity Writing in Red Nergis Ertürk,2024-05-21 The republic of Turkey and the Soviet Union both emerged from the wreckage of empires surrounding World War I and pathways of literary exchange soon opened between the two revolutionary states Even as the Turkish government pursued a friendly relationship with the USSR it began to persecute communist writers Whether going through official channels or fleeing repression many Turkish writers traveled to the Soviet Union during the 1920s and 1930s publishing original work editing prominent literary journals and translating both Russian classics and Soviet literature into Turkish Writing in Red traces the literary and exilic itineraries of Turkish communist and former communist writers examining revolutionary aesthetics and politics across Turkey and the Soviet Union from the mid 1920s through the 1960s Nergis Ertürk considers a wide range of texts spanning genres such as erotic comedy historical fiction and film and socialist realist novels and theater by writers including Nâzım Hikmet Vâflı Nureddin Nizamettin Nazif Suat Dervi and Abidin Dino She argues that these works belong simultaneously to modern Turkish literature a transnational Soviet republic of letters and the global literary archive of world revolution alongside those of other writers who made the magic pilgrimage to Moscow Exploring how Turkish communist writers on the run produced a remarkable transnational literature of dissent Writing in Red offers a new account of global revolutionary literary culture Music as a Platform for Political Communication Onyebadi, Uche,2017-02-14 Artistic expression is a longstanding aspect of mankind and our society While art can simply be appreciated for aesthetic artistic value it can be utilized for other various multidisciplinary purposes Music as a Platform for Political Communication is a comprehensive reference source for the latest scholarly perspectives on delivering political messages to society through musical platforms and venues Highlighting innovative research topics on an international scale such as election campaigns social justice and protests this book is ideally designed for academics professionals practitioners graduate students and researchers interested in discovering how musical expression is shaping the realm of political communication Journeys beyond the Pale Leah V. Garrett,2003-03-15 Journeys beyond the Pale is the first book to examine how Yiddish writers from Mendeleyev to Der Nister to the famed Sholem Aleichem used motifs of travel to express their complicated relationship with modernization The story of the Jews of the Pale of settlement encompasses current day Russia the Ukraine Belarus and

Costlow, Stephanie Sandler, Judith Vowles, 1993 Twelve groundbreaking essays show the varied and complex ways in which ideas about sexuality gender and the body have shaped and been influenced by Russian literature history art and philosophy from the medieval period to the present day The absurd in literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-07-19 Neil Cornwell's study while endeavouring to present an historical survey of absurdist literature and its forbears does not aspire to being an exhaustive history of absurdism. Rather it pauses on certain historical moments, artistic movements, literary figures and selected works before moving on to discuss four key writers: Daniil Kharms, Franz Kafka, Samuel Beckett and Flann O'Brien. The absurd in literature will be of compelling interest to a considerable range of students of comparative European, including Russian and Central European and English literatures, British Isles and American, as well as those more concerned with theatre studies, the avant garde and the history of ideas, including humour theory. It should also have a wide appeal to the enthusiastic general reader.
