Historical Outlook ,1919 Catalogue of the University of Nashville, Peabody Normal College George Peabody College for Teachers, 1929 Research on Technology in Social Studies Education John Lee, Adam M. Friedman, 2009-11-01

Despite technology's presence in virtually every public school its documented familiarity and use by youth outside of school and the wealth of resources it provides for teaching social studies there has been relatively little empirical research on its effectiveness for the teaching and learning of social studies In an effort to begin to fill this gap in research literature this book focuses on research on technology in social studies education The objectives of this volume are threefold to describe research frameworks provide examples of empirical research and chart a course for future research endeavors Accordingly the volume is divided into three overarching sections research constructs and contexts research reports and research reviews The need for research is particularly acute within the field of social studies and technology As the primary purpose of social studies is to prepare the young people of today to be the citizens of tomorrow it is necessary to examine how technology tools impact improve and otherwise affect teaching and learning in social studies Given these circumstances we have prepared this collection of research conceptualizations reports and reviews to achieve three goals 1 Put forward reports on how research is being conducted in the field 2 Present findings from well designed research studies that provide evidence of how specific applications of technology are affecting teaching and learning in social studies 3 Showcase reviews of research in social studies It is with this framework that we edited this volume Research on Technology and Social Studies Education as an effort to address emerging concerns related to theorizing about the field and reporting research in social studies and technology The book is divided into four sections The first section of the book includes three descriptions of research constructs and contexts in social studies and technology The second section is focused on research reports from studies of student learning in social studies with technology The third section contains research reports on teachers pedagogical considerations for using technology in social studies In the fourth and final section we present work that broadly reviews and critiques research in focused areas of social studies and technology This volume contains twelve chapters each of which focuses on social studies content and pedagogy and how the field is affected and enhanced with technology The volume includes research and theoretical works on various topics including digital history digital video geography technology use in the K 12 social studies classroom and artificial intelligence Exploring Perspectives on Creativity Theory and Research in Education Daniel A. Tillman, 2024-04-16 Collectively the sixteen chapters in this book investigate the power of creativity in the classroom many through the specific lens of limited resources as an opportunity The chapters are divided into two sections eight chapters comprising Section I Theory and Research and then the eight chapters comprising Section II Additional Perspectives and Future Directions Within these two sections the more than two dozen authors that contributed to this book tackle a wide range of the possibilities for designing creative classroom based instruction wherein limited resources are highlighted and valued rather than avoided or lamented The two main sections of this book are each preceded by a brief introductory summary highlighting those sections attributes and objectives with the intention of providing helpful structure to the reader but the book has also been designed such that each chapter stands independently and can be jumped to directly like a handbook In its totality this book exploring perspectives on creativity theory and research in education is designed to serve as a valuable resource for teachers teacher educators school administrators parents and education researchers along with anyone else that is interested in optimizing our opportunities for nurturing creativity within classrooms
