The Government Of Canada:

Opening the Government of Canada Amanda Clarke, 2019-02-15 Opening the Government of Canada presents a compelling case for the importance of a more open model of governance in the digital age but a model that also continues to uphold democratic principles at the heart of the Westminster system Drawing on interviews with public officials and extensive analysis of government documents and social media accounts Clarke details the untold story of the Canadian federal bureaucracy's efforts to adapt to new digital pressures from the mid 2000s onward This book argues that the bureaucracy's tradition of closed government fuelled by today's antagonistic political communications culture is at odds with evolving citizen expectations and new digital policy tools including social media crowdsourcing and open data Striking a balance between reform and tradition Opening the Government of Canada concludes with a series of pragmatic recommendations that lay out a roadmap for building a democratically robust digital era federal government Borrowing Agreement with the Government of Canada International Monetary Fund. Finance Dept., International Monetary Fund. Legal Dept., 2009-10-06 This paper presents for the approval of the Executive Board a draft borrowing agreement between the Government of Canada and the Fund The Government of Canada announced its willingness to lend up to 10 billion to the Fund to support the Fund's ability to provide timely and effective balance of payments assistance to its members in the context of the summit of the Leaders of the Group of Twenty G 20 in early April Staff and the Canadian authorities have now reached agreement on a draft borrowing agreement the text of which is set forth in the Attachment the Agreement The Agreement would make an important contribution to the multilateral effort to ensure the adequacy of the Fund's financial resources adding to the resources already available to the Fund from the borrowing agreements with Japan and Norges Bank that were approved by the Board recently It is also expected that borrowing agreements with other members will be proposed for Board approval soon Democratic Government in Canada Robert M.
