Cristina Berna, Eric Thomsen

The Other Landscape:

The Cultured Landscape Sheila Harvey, Ken Fieldhouse, 2005 A team of eminent practitioners and writers contribute to an assessment of the philosophy of landscape and collectively form a new approach to creative design Landscape Ecology in Agroecosystems Management Lech Ryszkowski, 2001-12-27 Successful management of agricultural landscapes depends on the recognition of the relationships between the processes and the structures that maintain the system The rapidly growing science of Landscape Ecology quantifies the ways these ecosystems interact and establishes a link between the activities in one region and repercussions in another A Joaquín Sorolla Landscapes Cristina Berna, Eric Thomsen, 2023-11-21 Sorolla was deeply interested in the history and future of Spain His landscapes can be seen as direct commentary to the subject matter in the landscape paintings We travel with Sorolla generally from North to South Joaquin Sorolla born in Valencia 1863 died in Cercedilla 1923 is one of the most successful Spanish painters ever He was a genius in capturing the essence of the scene he was painting He lived while photography was being invented and popularized Some of his breathtaking landscapes show how he was familiar with and employed similar techniques as the photograph His landscapes are a great introduction to Spanish history In the course of preparing for his grand masterpiece The Vision of Spain which hangs in the Hispanic Society of America Sorolla visited many places of Spain Here he painted types of people and local dress which made up his vision of Spain diverse and colorful yet united Joaquin Sorolla painted many landscapes Some of the landscapes are recordings like photographs Others are exercises and development of his talent and technique It is possible to follow his development as a master of impressionist painting by comparing landscapes by the year of completion Sorolla only became better with age and maturity The Nation , 1878 Greening the Landscape: Strategies for Environmentally Sound Practice Adam Regn Arvidson, 2012-09-17 Resource added for the Landscape Horticulture Technician program 100014 Treatise on Geomorphology , 2013-02-27 The changing focus and approach of geomorphic research suggests that the time is opportune for a summary of the state of discipline The number of peer reviewed papers published in geomorphic journals has grown steadily for more than two decades and more importantly the diversity of authors with respect to geographic location and disciplinary background geography geology ecology civil engineering computer science geographic information science and others has expanded dramatically As more good minds are drawn to geomorphology and the breadth of the peer reviewed literature grows an effective summary of contemporary geomorphic knowledge becomes increasingly difficult The fourteen volumes of this Treatise on Geomorphology will provide an important reference for users from undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic Information on the historical development of diverse topics within geomorphology provides context for ongoing research discussion of research strategies equipment and field methods laboratory experiments and numerical simulations reflect the multiple approaches to understanding Earth's surfaces and summaries of outstanding research questions highlight future challenges and suggest productive new avenues for research. Our future ability to adapt to geomorphic changes in the critical zone very much hinges upon how well landform scientists comprehend the dynamics of Earth's diverse surfaces. This Treatise on Geomorphology provides a useful synthesis of the state of the discipline as well as highlighting productive research directions that Educators and students researchers will find useful. Geomorphology has advanced greatly in the last 10 years to become a very interdisciplinary field. Undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic will find the answers they need in this broad reference work which has been designed and written to accommodate their diverse backgrounds and levels of understanding. Editor in Chief Prof J F Shroder of the University of Nebraska at Omaha is past president of the QG G section of the Geological Society of America and present Trustee of the GSA Foundation while being well respected in the geomorphology research community and having won numerous awards in the field. A host of noted international geomorphologists have contributed state of the art chapters to the work. Readers can be guaranteed that every chapter in this extensive work has been critically reviewed for consistency and accuracy by the World expert Volume Editors and by the Editor in Chief himself. No other reference work exists in the area of Geomorphology that offers the breadth and depth of information contained in this 14 volume masterpiece. From the foundations and history of geomorphology through to geomorphological innovations and computer modelling and the past and future states of landform science no stone has been left unturned.

Archaeology of Domestic Landscapes of the Enslaved in the Caribbean James A. Delle, Elizabeth C. Clay, 2022-08-02. While previous research on household archaeology in the colonial Caribbean has drawn heavily on artifact analysis, this volume provides the first in-depth examination of the architecture of slave housing during this period. It examines the considerations that went into constructing and inhabiting living spaces for the enslaved and reveals the diversity of people and practices in these settings. Contributors present case studies using written descriptions, period illustrations, and standing architecture in addition to archaeological evidence to illustrate the wide variety of built environments for enslaved populations in places including Jamaica, the Bahamas, and the islands of the Lesser Antilles. They investigate how the enslaved defined their social positions and identities through house yard and garden space; they explore what daily life was like for slaves on military compounds; they compare the spatial arrangements of slave villages on plantations based on type of labor; and they show how the style of traditional laborer houses became a form of vernacular architecture still in use today. This volume expands our understanding of the wide range of enslaved experiences across British, French, Dutch, and Danish colonies. Contributors: Elizabeth C. Clay, James A. Delle, Todd M. Ahlman, Marco Meniketti, Kenneth Kelly, Hayden Bassett, James A. Delle, Kristen R. Fellows, Allan D. Meyers, Elizabeth C. Clay, Alicia Odewale, Meredith D. Hardy, Zachary J. M. Beier, Mark W. Hauser. A volume in the Florida Museum of Natural History Ripley P. Bullen Series.
