Development Issues of Our Time Rameshwar Prasad Misra, 1985

Planning in Cold War Europe Michel Christian, Sandrine Kott, Ondrej Matejka, 2018-10-08 The idea of planning economy and engineering social life has often been linked with Communist regimes will of control However the persuasion that social and economic processes could and should be regulated was by no means limited to them Intense debates on these issues developed already during the First World War in Europe and became globalized during the World Economic crisis During the Cold War such discussions fuelled competition between two models of economic and social organisation but they also revealed the convergences and complementarities between them This ambiguity so often overlooked in histories of the Cold War represents the central issue of the book organized around three axes First it highlights how know how on planning circulated globally and were exchanged by looking at international platforms and organizations The volume then closely examines specificities of planning ideas and projects in the Communist and Capitalist World Finally it explores East West channels generated by exchanges around issues of planning which functioned irrespective of the Iron Curtain and were exported in developing countries The volume thus contributes to two fields undergoing a process of profound reassessment the history of modernisation and of the Cold War

Canterbury,2012-08-01 Dennis C Canterbury s Capital Accumulation and Migration explores the subject of capital accumulation and migration a topic that is remarkably absent in the voluminous literature spawned under neoliberal capitalism by the renewed interest in the development impact of migration This volume undertakes a critique of this literature and adds a critical dimension to it while analyzing the financialization of migration processes A central feature of neoliberal capitalism is the remodeling of the global political economy to facilitate capital accumulation from migration amidst serious fault lines that reflect an antagonistic contradiction in the neoliberal capitalist approach to migration The Egyptian Economy, 1952-2000 Khalid Ikram,2007-04-11 Interviews with former Prime Ministers and Cabinet Ministers along with previously unpublished analysis by the World Bank IMF and USAID provide entertaining and interesting insights into Egypt s economic development policy during 1952 to 2000 Areas addressed include the performance of the Egyptian economy since 1950s the factors that have facilitated or retarded economic performance the Egyptian authorities approach to economic issues and policy making the chief questions that policy makers will have to deal with in the next twenty years Set apart by Khalid Ikram s intimate knowledge of the Egyptian policy makers this book presents a unique account of economic development and policy making in Egypt during 1952 to 2000 The Brandt Commission and the Multinationals Bo Stråth,2023-02-11 Set against the backdrop of dramatic world order transformations across the 1970s and 1980s this book examines the competing planetary perspectives of the Brandt Commission and the multinationals arguing that the missed opportunities of these decades created a path for contemporary political and economic crises At the Global South s request for a New International Economic Order the Brandt Commission chaired by Willy Brandt was appointed in 1977 The commission with a goal to formulate arguments on how to close the gap between the North and South developed a planetary perspective grounded in economic redistribution ecological considerations and disarmament The multinationals at that time a new kind of business corporation repressed Brandt s vision by seeking freedom from political monitoring This book discusses the ways that global corporations created facts that changed the world and the preconditions of politics It moves beyond existing research that considers the competition merely a theoretical clash between Keynesianism and neoliberalism Featuring a thorough analysis of the decades trends and a new interview with Shridath Ramphal the Commission s unofficial vice chair this is a timely volume for students and researchers of international relations political science and contemporary history     The Philosophy of Development Revisited Hershlag,2023-07-31     Global Bargaining Robert L. Rothstein,2015-03-08 Negotiations on an international commodity policy have been the central issue on the North South agenda for the past three years They also can be seen as the first major effort to give substantive meaning to the Third World s desire not only for a new regime for the world s raw commodity trade but also for a New International Economic Order Yet various obstacles have impeded successful North South bargaining and the negotiations remain at a stalemate Focusing on the bargaining process between developed and developing countries in the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development Robert Rothstein analyzes the factors that have inhibited successful negotiation and suggests ways in which these obstacles might be removed The first part of the book focuses on the specifics of the commodity debate while in the second part the author attempts to explain the causes of delay misunderstanding and mistrust within the negotiating process Assessing the possibility of devising an effective bargaining policy among unequal parties with conflicting values and interests Professor Rothstein suggests a number of structural institutional and conceptual reforms Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905     Development Ethics at Work Denis Goulet,2006-09-27 In recent years global institutions such as the
