The Handbook of Educational Linguistics Bernard Spolsky, Francis M. Hult, 2008-04-15 The Handbook of Educational Linguistics is a dynamic scientifically grounded overview revealing the complexity of this growing field while remaining accessible for students researchers language educators curriculum developers and educational policy makers A single volume overview of educational linguistics written by leading specialists in its many relevant fields Takes into account the diverse theoretical foundations core themes major findings and practical applications of educational linguistics Highlights the multidisciplinary reach of educational linguistics Reflects the complexity of this growing field whilst remaining accessible to a wide audience

Languages and Education in Africa Birgit Brock-Utne, Ingse Skattum, 2009-05-11 The theme of this book cuts across disciplines Contributors to this volume are specialized in education and especially classroom research as well as in linguistics most being transdisciplinary themselves Around 65 sub Saharan languages figure in this volume as research objects as means of instruction in connection with teacher training language policy lexical development harmonization efforts information technology oral literature and deaf communities The co existence of these African languages with English French and Arabic is examined as well This wide range of languages and subjects builds on recent field work giving new empirical evidence from 17 countries Botswana Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Madagascar Malawi Mali Mozambique Niger Nigeria Senegal South Africa Swaziland Tanzania Uganda Zambia and Zimbabwe as well as to transnational matters like the harmonization of African transborder languages As the Editors a Norwegian social scientist and a Norwegian linguist both working in Africa have wanted to give room for African voices the majority of contributions to this volume come from Africa

Language Documentation and Endangerment in Africa James Essegbey, Brent Henderson, Fiona Mc Laughlin, 2015-10-15 This volume brings together a number of important perspectives on language documentation and endangerment in Africa from an international cohort of scholars with vast experience in the field Offering insights from rural and urban settings throughout the continent these essays consider topics that range from the development of a writing system to ideologies of language endangerment from working with displaced communities to the role of colonial languages in reshaping African repertoires and from the insights of archeology to the challenges of language documentation as a doctoral project The authors are concerned with both theoretical and practical aspects of language documentation as they address the ways in which the African context both differs from and resembles contexts of endangerment elsewhere in the world This volume will be useful to fieldworkers and documentalists who work in Africa and beyond

English as a Local Language Christina Higgins, 2009-07-08 When analyzed in multilingual contexts English is often treated as an entity that is separable from its linguistic environment It is often the case however that multilinguals use English in hybrid and transcultural ways This book explores how multilingual East Africans make use of English as a local resource in their everyday practices by examining a range of domains including workplace conversation beauty pageants hip hop and advertising Drawing on the Bakhtinian concept of multivocality the author uses discourse analysis and ethnographic approaches to demonstrate the range of linguistic and cultural hybridity found across these domains and to consider the constraints on hybridity in each context By focusing on the cultural and linguistic bricolage in which English is often found the book illustrates how multilinguals respond to the tension between local identification and dominant conceptualizations of English as a language for global communication

God Speaks My Language Aloo Osotsi Mojola, 2020-03-31 This is the fascinating and important story of how God's Word came to East Africa Beginning with the pioneering efforts of Krapf and

Rebmann Aloo Osotsi Mojola traces the history of Bible translation in the region from 1844 to the present. He incorporates four decades of personal conversations and interviews along with extensive research to provide the first comprehensive account of the translations undertaken in Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Rwanda, Burundi, and eastern Democratic Republic of Congo. The maps and tables included assist the reader as does a history of the Swahili language, its standardization, role as lingua franca, and impact on the work of translation. Mojola's writing is a tribute to those who sacrificed much in their quest to see the word of God accessible to all people in all places and the many who continue to sacrifice for the peoples of East Africa. This book is a key contribution to the important and ongoing narrative of how God has met us and continues to meet us in our own contexts and our own languages. African Culture and Global Politics Toyin Falola, Danielle

Sanchez, 2014-01-10. This volume attempts to insert itself within the larger discussion of Africa in the twenty-first century, especially within the realm of world politics. Despite the underwhelming amount of attention given to Africa's role in international politics in popular news sources, it is evident that Africa has a consistent record of participating in world politics, one that pre-dates colonization and continues today. In continuance of this legacy of active participation in global political exchanges, Africans today can be heard in dialogues that span the world, and their roles are impossible to replace by other entities. It is evident that a vastly different Africa exists than ones that bolster images of starvation, corruption, and compliance. The essays in this volume center on Africa and Africans participating in international political discourses but with an emphasis on various forms of expression and philosophies as these factors heavily influence Africa's role as a participant in global politics. The reader will find a variety of essays that permeate surface discussions of politics and political activism by inserting African culture, rhetoric, philosophies into the larger discussion of international politics and Africa's role in worldwide political, social, and economic debates. Language and Decolonisation Finex Ndhlovu, Sabelo J.

Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2024-07-23. Language and Decolonisation is the first collection to bring together views from across scholarly communities that are committed to the agenda of decolonising knowledge in language study. Edited by leading figures in the field, the chapters offer new insights on how decolonising can be adopted as a methodology for charting the next steps in solving practical language-related problems in educational and related social policy areas. Divided into two sections, the book covers the coloniality of language, the materiality of culture and colonial scripts, the decolonisation imperative, multilingualism, discourse and decolonisation, and decolonising languages in public discourse. With 20 chapters authored by experts from across the globe, this pioneering collection is an essential reference and resource for advanced students, scholars, and researchers of language and culture, sociolinguistics, decolonial studies, racial studies, and related areas. The Dynamics of Language Rajend Mesthrie, David Bradley, 2018-06-26. Linguistics, the close study of language and languages, is an indispensable foundation for all forms of knowledge. The African continent is blessed with hundreds of languages which act as local repositories of culture and interaction. South Africa alone has eleven official languages plus Sign Language, many heritage languages and new languages of global movements and migration Part of the linguist s business is to document record and affirm languages and diversity Applied linguists use their training to understand and enhance the role of language in education and upliftment and the opportunities and challenges of new technologies of communication The International Congress of Linguists meets every five years to reflect the development of the field and 2018 is the first time that the congress is being held in Africa This book is a collection of the plenary and focus papers presented at the conference and thus represents current thinking in the major branches of language study as represented by leading local and international scholars The papers discuss the history of languages their structure acquisition diversity and use At the same time due regard is paid to the African continent in connection with its linguistic diversity multilingualism and educational and societal concerns The Congress is meant to affirm the value of the languages of Africa of languages and Linguistics in general as well as to inspire and equip younger scholars to undertake advanced research into language in its many facets

Canciones populares y literatura de África Oriental Aaron Louis Rosenberg, 2013 Este estudio es un replanteamiento de la relación entre canciones y literatura en frica oriental Se examinan en t rminos comparativos las obras literarias y musicales de esta parte del continente con el fin de determinar y describir los caminos a partir de los cuales tales formas de la expresi n creativa reflejan y transforman caminos prevalecientes y medios de formaci n de identidad de las personas cuyas vidas se extienden a trav s de varias fronteras y que desarrollan sentidos superculturales de s mismos El autor se basa en una extensa investigaci n de campo as como en una multitud de entrevistas La lectura atenta de las canciones y la literatura hace de este libro un estudio convincente para estudiantes de m sica y literatura africanas y el an lisis de las identidades africanas puede ser realmente para los estudiosos del nacionalismo tanto en frica como en el mundo

Languages in Africa Elizabeth C. Zsiga, One Tlale Boyer, Ruth Kramer, 2015-03-03 People in many African communities live within a series of concentric circles when it comes to language In a small group a speaker uses an often unwritten and endangered mother tongue that is rarely used in school A national indigenous language written widespread sometimes used in school surrounds it An international language like French or English a vestige of colonialism carries prestige is used in higher education and promises mobility and yet it will not be well known by its users The essays in Languages in Africa explore the layers of African multilingualism as they affect language policy and education Through case studies ranging across the continent the contributors consider multilingualism in the classroom as well as in domains ranging from music and film to politics and figurative language The contributors report on the widespread devaluing and even death of indigenous languages They also investigate how poor teacher training leads to language related failures in education At the same time they demonstrate that education in a mother tongue can work linguists can use their expertise to provoke changes in language policies and linguistic creativity thrives in these multilingual communities

Contending Issues in African Development Obioma M. Iheduru, 2001-02-28 Taking a forward looking approach this book critically examines the issues and dynamics central to Africa s problematic development and situates these issues within the contents unique cultural political economic and social milieu Moving away from a simple litany of problems bedeviling Africa s economy the book is the culmination of several scholars efforts to identify specific causative factors Each chapter delineates a specific issue demonstrates the role it plays in overall development and speculates on probable ways to meet the challenges it poses The major conceptual and epistemological constructs considered include the tamed African State social capacity management of change reconceptualized gender roles and economic integration Although the contributors various approaches diverge and disagree the epistemological variations contribute cumulatively to an understanding of the issues at the root of Africa s slow pace of development While traversing the spectrum of issues that affect development the book uniquely points out that the management of change is pivotal to fostering development The authors efforts provide a useful base for future research and help to chart a course of action leading to success in the 21st century

Membering the Rhodesian Linguistic Agenda in Zimbabwe Isaac Mhute, 2023-07-28 Membering the Rhodesian Linguistic Agenda in Zimbabwe reports on a study carried out in Zimbabwe to ascertain the degree and effect of honouring the colonial linguistic agenda The book employs an interpretivist philosophy and qualitative research approach that relies on participatory observations interviewing purposively sampled informants and focus group discussions involving snowball sampled graduates It was inspired by the Critical Language Policy Theory that considers language choice a critical determinant factor in how communities are administered politically economically socioculturally and educationally It establishes that whereas linguistic imperialism meant to serve as the lifeblood of the Southern Rhodesian colonial machine the former coloniser ensured coloniality in Zimbabwe by presenting the English language as a sacred media in political economic sociocultural and educational settings forever The study establishes that the only way Zimbabwe and other such post colonies could find redemption is by eradicating the sacredness of former colonisers languages by adding value to all their languages and the indigenous knowledge systems associated with them It also demonstrates that the bigger the delay the more is irretrievably lost together with custodians of the languages This book will be informative for undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in linguistics communication sociology anthropology and history It may also serve well as a resource to government researchers politicians and other policymakers

African Studies in Geography from Below Michel Ben Arrous, Lazare Ki-Zerbo, 2009 The doctrine of international relations inter state indeed territorial ideologies the logic of autochthony and its ramifications ethnic cleansing are all hinged at different levels upon the same pseudo fact to every society a closed and exclusive territory demarcated by fixed and linear borders This way of thinking totally foreign to African societies for a long time has generated today more contradictions than it can ever solve The authors of this book make a clear distinction between territory formation from the top as being a deliberate political project and its formation from below as being a more diffused historical process which is determined by the scheme of antagonisms and compromises between social forces In lieu of a stark opposition between the top and below the authors unveil the interdependence and mutual influence which form the basis of a dual system within which legal formation by the colonial authorities first then by the postcolonial one is confronted with a host of subaltern spatial dynamics neglecting thereby the legitimacy which only they can provide As an essential read for anyone who is interested in the relationship between knowledge and power this book offers stimulating perspectives on the issue of African unity and its epistemological and political challenges It renews profoundly our approaches to human security citizenship borders and mobility
