Regional Peacemaking and Conflict Management Carmela Lutmar, Benjamin Miller, 2015-11-06 This volume examines mechanisms for regional peacemaking and conflict management in Europe and the Middle East To date little research has been devoted to uncovering the conditions for peace and the factors that contribute to stabilizing the state of peace This volume assesses the factors that contribute to regional pacification the incentives that motivate states in establishing peaceful relations and most importantly how regions become peaceful It discusses the conditions under which various types of peace might emerge on a regional level and the factors most likely to determine the outcome The book takes an innovative approach through a systematic comparison of two regions that are particularly prominent and important for the subject of regional pacification Europe and the Middle East While many believe that the European case is the indispensable model for peacemaking others believe that these two regions are too different for Europe to be a useful framework for the Middle East This volume occupies a middle ground between these two extreme positions It argues that while a mindless copying of European models will not lead to peace in the Middle East important insights can be gained from the most
