Coast Ian Hoskins,2013-11-01 From Eden to Byron Bay the New South Wales coast is more than 2000 kilometres long with 130 estuaries 100 coastal lakes and a rich history This the first history written of the New South Wales coast traces our relationship with this stretch of land and sea starting millennia ago when Aboriginal people feasted on shellfish and perfected the art of building bark canoes to our present obsession with the beach as a place to live or holiday Leading us through the European fascination with marine life the attempts to establish a whaling industry the fear of seaborne invasion which led to the creation of a navy of our own in 1911 through to the rise of our unstoppable enthusiasm for surfing and fishing Ian Hoskins argues that our current enthrallment with the coast began more recently than we might think Australian

National Bibliography ,1996-12 Drink and Democracy Matthew Allen,2025-05-13 The nineteenth century spread of democracy in Britain and its colonies coincided with an increase in alcohol consumption and in celebratory public dinners with rounds of toasts British colonists raised their glasses to salute the Crown in rituals that asserted fraternal equality and political authority Yet these ceremonies were reserved for gentlemen leaving others notably women and Indigenous people on the political margins Drink and Democracy traces the development of democratic ideas in New South Wales through the history of public drinking and temperance As the colony transformed from a convict autocracy to a liberal democracy Matthew Allen argues public drinking practices shaped the character of the emerging political order The ritual of toasting was a symbolic display of restraint drunkenness without loss of self control that embodied the claim to citizenship of white male settlers Yet the performative sobriety of the temperance movement was also democratic a display of respectability that politicized its supporters around a rival vision of responsible citizenship Drink was a way to police the limits of the political realm The stigma of female drunkenness worked to exclude women from the public sphere while perceptions of heavy drinking among Aboriginal people cast them as lacking self control and hence unworthy of political rights Drink and Democracy reveals that long before the introduction of the franchise colonists in Australia imagined themselves as citizens Yet even as democracy expanded drink marked its limits Consuming Pleasures John Rainford,2010-05-14 Tracing the international and Australian history of both licit and illicit drug use this investigation combines the topic of drug use with analyses of political power the rise of the market and social issues It examines the way in which drug consumption is regulated in the era of global free trade by first looking at the start of the opium growing industry and the racist origins of drug laws Providing a social history of drug use through the lens of international politics market forces medicine and race

this discussion also considers the paradox of contemporary white Australian identity and an Australia as a nation of people whose per capita drug consumption often equals and surpasses that of most other nations Politics, Patronage and Public Works: 1842-1900 Hilary Golder, 2005 New South Wales government administration increased four fold during the first six decades of the twentieth century and with the growth in population came increasing community expectations This tells how the Public Service Board became responsible for employing staff for this burgeoning administrative corps
