social scientists agriculturists photographers students and missionaries who took to the field on China's southwestern border at a time when foreign political powers were contesting China's claims over its frontiers In the early twentieth century when the threat of imperialism loomed large in the Sino-Tibetan borderlands these fieldworkers undertook a nation building exercise to unite a disparate multi-ethnic population at the periphery of the country They saw themselves as a vanguard force foreshadowing the policies of social development and intervention that would be pursued during the Cold War decades later Drawing on Chinese and Western materials Andres Rodriguez exposes the transformative power of the fieldworkers' efforts which went beyond creating new forms of political action and identity His incisive study demonstrates that fieldwork placed China's margins at the centre of its nation making process and race to modernity Religions and Missionaries around the Pacific, 1500-1900 Tanya Storch, 2017-05-15 This volume takes an interdisciplinary approach to the study of religious cultural exchanges around the Pacific in the period 1500-1900 relating these to economic and political developments and to the expansion of communication across the area It brings together twenty-two pieces from diaries of religious exiles and missionary field observations to studies from a variety of academic disciplines so enabling a multitude of voices to be heard The articles are grouped in sections dealing with the Islamic period the Iberian Catholic period the Jewish diaspora the Russian Orthodox church the epoch of Protestant culture and finally Asian immigrant religions in the West a substantial introduction contextualizes these chapters in terms of both historical and contemporary approaches The Hmong of China Nicholas Tapp, 2021-10-11 This first ethnography of the Hmong in China is based on Nicholas Tapp's extensive fieldwork in a Hmong village in Sichuan Basing his analysis on the concepts of context and agency Tapp discusses the paradoxical ambivalence at the heart of Hmong culture A paradox arises in the historical and ethnographic construction of the identity of the Hmong by conscious contrast with and in opposition to a majority Han-Chinese identity at the same time that large parts of Hmong culture are shared with the Chinese and may be the results of historical processes of adoption absorption mimesis or emulation Tapp examines the Hmong rituals of shamanism ancestral respect and death and provides details on livelihood kinship local organization and intellectual culture The book is enhanced with thorough accounts of ceremonies rituals and folktales with translations of Hmong songs and stories This publication has also been published in paperback no longer available Southeast Asian Tribes, Minorities, and Nations, Volume 1 Peter Kunstadter, 2017-03-14 A major source of political instability in Southeast Asia has been ethnic diversity and the lack of congruence between ethnic distributions and national boundaries Here twenty specialists base their papers largely on original field work in Burma China India Laos Malaysia Thailand and Vietnam Contrary to the usual picture of tribal people as isolated homogeneous stable and conservative the papers show tribesmen are often a dynamic force in the modern history of Southeast Asian states Descriptions of tribal life and government programs together with charts tables maps and photographs give a wealth of data Originally published in 1967 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make

Myth and Meaning in Early Taoism N. J. Girardot, 1988 Myth and Meaning in Early Daoism examines some of the earliest texts associated with the Daoist tradition primarily the Daode jing Zhuangzi and Huainanzi from the outlook of the comparative history of religions and finds a kind of thematic and soteriological unity rooted in the mythological symbolism of hundun the primal chaos being and principle that is foundational for the philosophy and practice of the Dao as creatio continua in cosmic social and individual life Dedicated to the proposition that ancient Chinese texts and traditions are often best understood from a broad interdisciplinary and interpretive perspective this work when it was written challenged many prevailing conceptions of the Daode jing and Zhuangzi as primarily philosophical texts without any religious significance or affinity with the later sectarian traditions While controversial and at times playfully provocative the methodology and findings of this book are still important for the ongoing scholarship about Daoism in China and the world      Wildlife in Asia John Knight, 2004-07-31 Drawing on anthropological and historical data this book examines human wildlife relations in China Tibet Japan Bhutan Indonesia the Philippines Malaysia India Thailand and Vietnam The volume initially focuses on the various ways in which wild animals are exploited as a resource for food medicine and crop picking labour before examining animals termed as pests or predators that are deemed to be harmful and dangerous Bringing together anthropologists and historians this book analyses the range variability and historical mutability of human sensibilities towards animals in Asia and will be of interest to Asianists and anthropologists alike      Peoples of the Buddhist World Paul Hattaway, 2004 In the past 20 years Christians around the world have launched initiatives to reach Muslims Communists Hindus and other major unreached people groups but the Buddhist world has largely been overlooked Hundreds of millions of Buddhists continue to live and die without any exposure to the Gospel In Peoples of the Buddhist World researcher and author Paul Hattaway graphically presents prayer profiles of more than 200 Buddhist people groups around the world beautifully illustrated with color pictures throughout In addition experts have contributed articles on various aspects of Buddhism helping the reader to learn pray and work until that day when the kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ and he will reign for ever and ever Rev 11 15 From publisher s description      Fire in Relation to Primitive Agriculture and Grazing in the Tropics Harley Harris Bartlett, 1955
