The Sorrow and the Sea Kerri Keberly,2024-06-15 A nymph destined to be a queen and the god who'll do anything to be the king she needs Amphitrite spends her days caring for creatures of the sea desiring nothing more than a serene life of peace and harmony under the waves When her tranquil existence is shattered by the arrival of the tempestuous Poseidon ruler of the deep she finds herself questioning those desires Captivated by more than her graceful dancing Poseidon is wholly and utterly taken with Amphitrite Overwhelmed by the prospect of ruling as his queen she flees leaving her more ambitious sister to take her place Unwilling to settle for another

Poseidon sends his trusted companion to find Amphitrite and convince her there is more to him than stormy seas and violent earthquakes. Reluctantly Amphitrite agrees to hear Poseidon out, challenging him to prove that beneath his stormy exterior lies a heart capable of change. Yet within the opulent halls of his undersea palace Poseidon discovers that winning her heart may require more than mere words as Amphitrite's silent resolve proves to be a force even he cannot resist. Discover a world where the bonds of family can sometimes be the ties that hold us back from our destiny. The Sorrow and the Sea reimagines the myth of Poseidon and Amphitrite as an untold story of what it means to let go of preconceived notions and find true happiness.

Hopeful Sorrow Julie Busler, 2025-09-23 In Hopeful Sorrow Julie Busler shares her journey through childhood trauma, emotional neglect, and grief, showing that turning from childhood wounds to God in hope begins with turning toward them in sorrow through the practice of lament, which may then in turn move us to hope.

Our Lady of Sorrow Israel Shamir, 2005-06 Story of Our Lady statue in Bethlehem destroyed by the Jewish Army and its universal meaning. Ideas are not less important than material things; oil does not provide the whole explanation of the war in the Middle East; faith is not dead and can't die as long as mankind exists. Even the belief in the Market forces is just another faith, an old established cult of Mammon. Faith is not only a personal affair; religion still matters, probably more than we think.

Kierkegaard's Psychology Kresten Nordentoft, 2009-04-01 Kierkegaard's Psychology filled with penetrating analyses of the most central and important problems of psychology, opens a new window to understand these enduring problems through a Kierkegaardian lens. Explanations cover the full spectrum of expected topics: sexuality and the damages connected to moralistic condemnation of sexuality; identity and awareness; escape and despair; instinct; guilt; defense and self-delusion; anxiety; duplicity; conflict; and crisis; the state of encapsulation in which the individual rejects communication with the world and circles around himself; and the list goes on to include varieties of neurosis and psychosis. Parallels are made to Freudian and post Freudian psychology but the accent is put on Kierkegaard's major psychological project namely the analysis that obduracy that sin which consists in rejecting the possibility of being helped in turning down recovery and clinging to one's own state of despair in spiteful love of it leads individuals into the tragic zone of perpetually cherishing their own states of crisis. In the end readers who either have no knowledge of Kierkegaard's concept of existentialism or a wrong notion of it will be surprised to discover how very straightforward and realistic the Kierkegaardian problems are.

Refiguring the Map of Sorrow Mark Allister, 2001-10-29

Recent decades have witnessed an explosion of interest in both autobiography and environmental literature. In Refiguring the Map of Sorrow Mark Allister brings these two genres together by examining a distinct form of grief narrative in which the writers deal with mourning by standing explicitly both outside and inside the text. Outside in writing about the natural world inside in making that exposition part of the grieving process. Building on Peter Fritzell's thesis in Nature Writing and America that the best American nature writing blends Aristotelian natural history and Augustinian confession, this work of literary interpretation draws on psychoanalytical narrative theory, studies of grieving, autobiography theory and ecocriticism for its insights into how nature writing can become an autobiographical healing act. Allister examines works by Terry Tempest Williams, Sue Hubbell, Peter Matthiessen, Bill Barich, William Least Heat Moon and Gretel Ehrlich in order to demonstrate the difficulty of hearing nature speak and of translating terrain and self into language and form. As he focuses on the many ways in which humans connect often deeply and urgently to animals or the land, Allister vastly extends our understanding of relational autobiography.
