The Grandfather Medicine:

The Problem of Money Bernhard Bierlich, 2007-12-01 Based on long term medical anthropological research in northern Ghana the author analyses issues of health and healing of gender and of the control and use of money in a changing rural African setting He describes the culture of medical pluralism so typical for neo colonial states and people's choices of traditional local medicine plants and sacrifices Islamic medicine charms and various written solutions and modern therapy biomedicine in particular western pharmaceuticals He concludes that the rural urban divide is a fiction that demarcations between these areas are frequently blurred linked by a postcolonial capitalist discourse of local markets regional economies and national structures which frequently emerge in local African settings but often originate in global and multinational markets

Mothers, Medicine and Morality in Rural Mali Lianne Holten, 2013 How to understand the simultaneity of parental love and care with inaction when a child is ill This question inspired author Lianne Holten to conduct the ethnographic study presented in this book Holten worked and lived in the isolated village of Farabako Mali to help establish a maternity clinic She clearly describes the tension between Western biomedical thinking and local ideas on health Holten explains how biomedical assumptions make the mothers actions appear incomprehensible but she also shows the logic within the local context This study contributes to the understanding of the importance of local moralities in health and will be useful for public health initiatives in sub Saharan Africa Series Mande Worlds Vol 6
