The Great World A Novel:

The Great World and the Small Darrell Schweitzer, 2001-01-01 A collection of stories by three time World Fantasy Award finalist Darrell Schweitzer as designed and illustrated by WFA winning artist Jason Van Hollander The works show a wide range from Arthurian fantasy to modern horror to humorous science fiction and even include one of Schweitzer's popular Tom O Bedlam stories Trauma and Recovery in the Twenty-First-Century Irish Novel Kathleen Costello-Sullivan, 2018-05-07 The desire to engage and confront traumatic subjects was a facet of Irish literature for much of the twentieth century Yet just as Irish society has adopted a more direct and open approach to the past so too have Irish authors evolved in their response to and literary uses of trauma In Trauma and Recovery in the Twenty First Century Irish Novel Costello Sullivan considers the ways in which the Irish canon not only represents an ongoing awareness of trauma as a literary and cultural force but also how this representation has shifted since the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty first century While earlier trauma narratives center predominantly on the role of silence and the individual and or societal suffering that traumas induce twenty first century Irish narratives increasingly turn from just the recognition of traumatic experiences toward exploring and representing the process of healing and recovery both structurally and narratively Through a series of keenly observed close readings Costello Sullivan explores the work of Colm T ib n John Banville Anne Enright Emma Donohue Colum McCann and Sebastian Barry In highlighting the power of narrative to amend and address memory and trauma Costello Sullivan argues that these works reflect a movement beyond merely representing trauma toward also representing the possibility of recovery from it World's Greatest Horror Stories: Collection of 42 Best Horror Novels of All Time H. Sentimental Figures of Empire in Eighteenth-Century Britain and France Lynn Festa, 2006-10-15 In this ambitious and original study Lynn Festa examines how and why sentimental fiction became one of the primary ways of representing British and French relations with colonial populations in the eighteenth century Drawing from novels poetry travel narratives commerce manuals and philosophical writings Festa shows how sentimentality shaped communal and personal assertions of identity in an age of empire Read in isolation sentimental texts can be made to tell a simple story about the emergence of the modern psychological self Placed in conversation with empire however sentimentality invites both psychological and cultural readings of the encounter between self and other Sentimental texts Festa claims enabled readers to create powerful imagined relations to distant people Yet these emotional bonds simultaneously threatened the boundaries between self and other civilized and savage colonizer and colonized Festa argues that sentimental tropes and figures allowed readers to feel for others while maintaining the particularity of the individual self Sentimental identification thus operated as a form of differentiation as well as consolidation Festa contends that global reach increasingly outstripped imaginative grasp during this era Sentimentality became an important tool for writers on empire allowing conquest to be portrayed as commerce and scenes of violence and exploitation to be converted into displays of benevolence and pity Above all sentimental texts used emotion as an important form of social and cultural distinction as the attribution of sentience and feeling helped to define who would be recognized as human
