The Politics Of Housework:

The Politics of Housework Ellen Malos, 1980 The Politics of Housework Pat Mainardi, 1973 Édouard Vuillard, the Nabis, and the Politics of Domesticity Francesca Berry, 2024-12-12

This ground breaking book is the first to address the feminine and feminist politics of Intimiste art a modernist mode of art making developed in the 1890s by douard Vuillard while associated with the Nabi brotherhood Coined by contemporary critics intimisme encapsulated the shared approach of these artists to depicting intimate settings and themes Vuillard s paintings which are typically small employ bold pigments and economic brushstrokes to depict female figures in tightly composed apartment interiors Those portrayed include his mother and sister just as wives and lovers dominate the art of other Nabis including Maurice Denis and Pierre Bonnard Francesca Berry comparatively analyses the gender politics of Nabi art to reveal real differences Through skilled visual interpretation she argues that Vuillard attempted a profound engagement with the material conditions of feminine domesticity in cooperation with his first and most sustained audience women He did so the author reveals in artworks that explore a complex range of feminine experiences such as sexual initiation stillbirth illicit work and unceasing housework The personal gender politics of Intimiste practice also are foregrounded Vuillard s studio bedroom afforded him access to quotidian femininity But at what risks to his sister s privacy and to his mother s subjectivity Making an artistic project of feminine domesticity also meant entering the field of politics The 1890s was the decade of state legislation and feminist demands with respect to work in the home and women s familial rights Personal in motif and Symbolist in form Berry s extensive historical research reveals these artworks also to have been social and political sometimes even feminist in meaning Transcending the structural repression of domesticity in histories of modernist art this book powerfully overturns residual myths of aesthetic introspection and social retreat that for too long have been attached to Nabi Symbolism

The Women's Liberation Movement and the Politics of Class in Britain George Stevenson, 2019-02-21

This is the first study of the British Women s Liberation Movement s relationship with class politics It explores the meaning of class to women s liberationists identities and activism both nationally and regionally using a previously neglected feminist cluster in North East England as a case study Stevenson demonstrates that British feminism was shaped fundamentally by its relationship to synthesis with and rejection of class politics Through these processes feminists recognised how post war changes in the economy and gender roles were reshaping class and the Women s Liberation Movement attempted to remake class politics in response However socio economic and cultural class differences between the women involved linked to occupation education and background remained intractable obstacles causing tensions within groups fragmentations into specific class based groups and the ultimate failure of the movement to coalesce into a coherent coalition with labour politics despite great levels of solidarity around particular struggles Examining regional feminism against the national backdrop The Women s Liberation Movement and the Politics of Class in Britain provides an engaging exploration of the fruitful but challenging relationship

Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff, 2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history showing how women's actions desires and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented experienced and consumed their world Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries from mountaintop to marketplace they focus on historical representations of humans and nature on questions about consumption on environmental politics and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly often with dire consequences for other people and organisms Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd's masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth century expedition of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters own gendered identities Some are playful as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred bunnies Others are dead serious as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disruptors are reinventing humans animals and water systems from the cellular level out Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we've engraved on ourselves and on the planet
