The Politics of Civil Society in Africa Emmanuel Matambo, Bhaso Ndzendze, 2025-04-22 This book chronicles how civil society has interacted with time honoured and current challenges confronting the African continent It straddles democracy human rights regional integration climate change global pandemics and technological transformation and how civil society is shaping these All indices of development and the entrenchment of democracy demonstrate the shortcomings of untrammelled state power and the inexhaustive nature of literature that tends to analyse the African condition solely from state actors As the continent with the youngest population but the poorest conditions a considerable portion of which points to state culpability the clarion call that this book makes for a more activist civil society is brought into sharp relief

The Politics of Deforestation in Africa Nadia Rabesahala Horning, 2018-04-24 This book explores how environmental policies are made and enforced in Africa Specifically this project explains the gap between intent and impact of forest policies focusing on three African societies facing persistent deforestation today Madagascar Tanzania and Uganda The central claim of the study is that deforestation persists because conservation policies and projects which are largely underwritten by foreign donors consistently ignore the fact that conservation is possible only under limited and specific conditions To make the case the author examines how decision making power is negotiated and exercised where communities make environmental decisions daily local level and where environmental policies are negotiated and enacted national level across three distinct African political systems The Politics of Neoliberal Reforms in Africa Piet Konings,2011 Neoliberalism has become the dominant development agenda in Africa Faced with a deep economic and political crisis African governments have been compelled by powerful external agencies in particular the Bretton Woods institutions and western states to pursue this agenda as a necessary precondition for the receipt of development aid What is particularly striking in Africa however is that neoliberal experiments there have displayed such remarkable diversity This may be due not only to substantial differences in historical economic and political trajectories on the African continent but also and maybe more importantly in the degree of resistance internal actors have demonstrated to the neoliberal reforms imposed on them This book focuses on Cameroon which has had a complex economic and political history and is currently witnessing resistance to the neoliberal experiment by the authoritarian and neopatrimonial state elite and various civil society groups It is the culmination of over twenty years of fine and refined research by one of the leading scholars of Cameroon today The Politics of Opposition in Contemporary Africa Adebayo O. Olukoshi,1998 In South Africa Michael Neocosmos Property and Political Order in Africa Catherine Boone,2014-02-10 In sub Saharan Africa property relationships around land and access to natural resources vary across localities districts and farming regions These differences produce patterned variations in relationships between individuals communities and the state This book captures these patterns in an analysis of structure and variation in rural land tenure regimes In most farming areas state authority is deeply embedded in land regimes drawing farmers ethnic insiders and outsiders lineages villages and communities into direct and indirect relationships with political authorities at different levels of the state apparatus The analysis shows how property institutions institutions that define political authority and hierarchy around land shape dynamics of great interest to scholars of politics including the dynamics of land related competition and conflict territorial conflict patron client relations electoral cleavage and mobilization ethnic politics rural rebellion and the localization and nationalization of political competition The Political Economy of the Great Lakes Region in Africa Stefaan Marysse,2005-10-21 This book examines the international factors such as enforced democracy and globalization that have affected the Great Lakes region of Africa The horrendous consequences in terms of violence and human suffering of the events in this area have been exhibited in the media however news coverage after 1994 was at times unreliable This book takes a look at life since then adopting an independent and on occasion controversial perspective The Political Economy of Economic Growth in Africa, 1960-2000 B.
