The Portable Stephen Crane:

The Portable Stephen Crane Stephen Crane, 1977-07-28 A man is born into the world with his own pair of eyes and he is not responsible for his vision he is merely responsible for his quality of personal honesty In the course of his tragically abbreviated career Stephen Crane 1871 1900 saw things that his contemporaries preferred to overlook the low life of New York s Irish slums the tedium brutality and chaos that were the true conditions of the Civil War the ambiguous contract that binds a terrified man to his killer and the damned to their human judges He communicated what he saw with the same laconic factuality that characterized his journalism and in the process laid the foundations for the unblinking realism of Hemingway and Dos Passos The Portable Stephen Crane allows us to appreciate the full scope and power of this writer s vision It contains three complete novels Maggie A Girl of the Streets George s Mother and Crane s masterpiece The Red Badge of Courage nineteen short stories and sketches including The Blue Hotel and The Open Boat a barely fictionalized account of his own escape from shipwreck while covering the Cuban revolt against Spain the previously unpublished essay Above All Things letters and poems plus a critical essay and notes by the noted Crane scholar Joseph Katz

Evolution and "the Sex Problem" Bert Bender, 2004. A noteworthy investigation of the Darwinian element in American fiction from the realist through the Freudian eras. Theories of sexual selection and of the emotions are essential elements in American fiction from the late 1800s through the 1950s, particularly during the Freudian era and the years surrounding the Scopes trial. The Sex Problem and what resulted was a great diversity of American narratives aligned with either Darwinian or a number of anti-Darwinian theories of evolution. Included are intriguing discussions of works by Frank Norris, Jack London, Stephen Crane, Theodore Dreiser, Gertrude Stein, Willa Cather, Sherwood Anderson, F. Scott Fitzgerald, five writers of the Harlem Renaissance, John Steinbeck, and Ernest Hemingway. Among the ideas explored are Darwin's theory of common descent, the question of man's place in nature, the possibility of evolutionary progress, the issues of heredity and eugenics, the Darwinian basis of Freud's theory of sexual repression, the quandary of male violence, and the role of female choice in sexual selection, the power of and the problems of racial and sexual selection, the power of and the problems of racial and sexual difference, and the ecological problems that arose directly from Darwin's theory of evolution. America's major narratives of human life and love and will be appreciated by literary scholars and readers interested in Darwinism and culture. Editing Nineteenth-Century Fiction Jane Millgate, 2016-07-28. First published in 1978, this collection of papers first presented at the thirteenth annual Conference on Editorial Problems in 1977 focuses on the editing of nineteenth-century fiction. Four of the papers are devoted to single authors: Dickens, Thackeray, Hardy, and Zola, while the fifth takes its principle examples from Hawthorne, Twain, and Crane. Looking at a range of works from English, American, and French literature, this volume demonstrates the number of different attitudes that exist towards the editorial process as well as the different ambitions for the texts that scholars seek to produce. This book will be of interest to those studying and editing nineteenth-century literature. American Literary Minimalism Robert C. Clark, 2014. Many of the authors Robert Clark discusses have yet to be recognized for their individual contributions to the emergence and continuing vitality of the movement. School of Images is organized based on chronology and lines of influence. In the introduction, Clark offers a definition of the mode and then describes its early stages. He then explores six works that reflect the core characteristics of the mode: Ernest Hemingway's In Our Time, Raymond Carver's Cathedral, Susan Minot's Monkeys, Jay McInerney's Bright Lights, Big City, Sandra Cisneros's Caramelo, and Cormac McCarthy's The Road. In the conclusion, he discusses contemporary authors and filmmakers whose work represents the ongoing evolution of the category. Provided by publisher. At Home in the City Elizabeth Klimasmith, 2005. A lucidly written analysis of urban literature and evolving residential architecture. Chicorel Index to Short Stories in Anthologies and Collections Marietta Chicorel, 1974.
