The Presence Of Things Past:

The Presence of the Past Rupert Sheldrake, 2012-03-26 Explains how self organizing systems from crystals to human societies share collective memories that influence their form and behavior Includes new evidence and research in support of the theory of morphic resonance Explores the major role that morphic resonance plays not just in animal instincts and cultural inheritance but also in the larger process of evolution Shows that nature is not ruled by fixed laws but by habits and collective memories In this fully revised and updated edition of The Presence of the Past Cambridge biologist Rupert Sheldrake lays out new evidence and research in support of his controversial theory of morphic resonance and explores its far reaching implications in the fields of biology chemistry physics psychology and sociology His theory proposes that all self organizing systems from crystals to human society inherit a collective memory that influences their form and behavior This collective memory works through morphic fields which organize the bodies of plants and animals coordinate the activities of brains and underlie conscious mental activity Sheldrake shows how all human beings draw upon and contribute to a collective human memory and that even our individual recollections depend on morphic resonance rather than physical storage in the brain He explores the major role that morphic resonance plays not just in animal instincts and cultural inheritance such as religion and ritual but also in the larger process of evolution which Sheldrake shows to be more an interplay of habit and creativity than a mere survival of the fittest Offering a replacement for the outdated mechanistic worldview that has dominated biology since the nineteenth century Sheldrake's new understanding of life matter and mind shows that rather than being ruled by fixed laws nature is essentially habitual And because memory is inherent in nature he explains in order to survive successfully for generations to come we will have to give up our old habits of thought and adopt new ones habits that are better adapted to life in a world living in the presence of the past as well as the presence of the future

The Presence of the Past Roy Rosenzweig, David Thelen, 1998-11-05 Some people make photo albums collect antiques or visit historic battlefields Others keep diaries plan annual family gatherings or stitch together patchwork quilts in a tradition learned from grandparents Each of us has ways of communing with the past and our reasons for doing so are as varied as our memories In a sweeping survey Roy Rosenzweig and David Thelen asked 1 500 Americans about their connection to the past and how it influences their daily lives and hopes for the future The result is a surprisingly candid series of conversations and reflections on how the past infuses the present with meaning Rosenzweig and Thelen found that people assemble their experiences into narratives that allow them to make sense of their personal histories set priorities project what might happen next and try to shape the future By using these narratives to mark change and create continuity people chart the courses of their lives A young woman from Ohio speaks of giving birth to her first child which caused her to reflect upon her parents and the ways that their example would help her to become a good mother An African American man from Georgia tells how he and his wife were drawn to each other by their shared experiences and lessons learned from growing up in the South in the 1950s Others reveal how they personalize historical events as in the case of a Massachusetts woman who traces much of her guarded attitude toward life to witnessing the assassination of John F Kennedy on television when she was a child While the past is omnipresent to Americans history as it is usually defined in textbooks leaves many people cold Rosenzweig and Thelen found that history as taught in school does not inspire a strong connection to the past And they reveal how race and ethnicity affects how Americans perceive the past while most white Americans tend to think of it as something personal African Americans and American Indians are more likely to think in terms of broadly shared experiences like slavery the Civil Rights Movement and the violation of Indian treaties Rosenzweig and Thelen s conclusions about the ways people use their personal family and national stories have profound implications for anyone involved in researching or presenting history as well as for all those who struggle to engage with the past in a meaningful way The Presence of the Past Daniel Bishop,2021 The Presence of the Past offers a new perspective on Hollywood s New Wave as engaged with the vitality of sensory experience and the affective imagination As author Daniel Bishop shows the soundtracks of several key films of the New Hollywood Cinema of the late 1960s and 70s cultivated an array of sensibilities regarding the American past This importance of the past exceeded the New Hollywood s acknowledged use of genre revisionism as a vehicle for timely ideological commentary There was also a vital tendency in this era to locate the past as an object of imagined phenomenal presence Although this concept of the past never solidified into a self conscious discourse it was nevertheless woven into film culture readable between the lines of criticism cultural reception New Wave aesthetics and in the aesthetic and industrial transformations of sound design and film music Bonnie and Clyde 1967 Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid 1969 McCabe and Mrs Miller 1971 The Last Picture Show 1971 American Graffiti 1973 Chinatown 1974 and Badlands 1973 are not only key texts of an exciting era in American popular cinema They are also mediations upon the presence of the past an image central to the polarities of visceral energy and ambiguous ephemerality of utopian dreams and melancholy resignation that characterized this cinema These sensibilities of pastness engage in diverse ways with myth nostalgia paranoia and existential alienation They are however also united by a concern both with the experiential actuality of the past and with the distances that inevitably separate us from this actuality Piranesi's Candelabra and the Presence of the Past Caroline van Eck,2023 This volume explores the creation and reception of Piranesi s three colossal neoclassical candelabra Caroline Van Eck s study explores the intense interest taken by producers and consumers of art objects in objects that made the classical live again in the late 1700s and early 1800s Television Aesthetics Nikos Metallinos,2013-11-05 USE FIRST TWO PARAGRAPHS ONLY FOR GENERAL CATALOGS This volume offers a response to three ongoing needs to develop the main composition principles pertinent to the visual communication medium of television to establish the field of television aesthetics as an extension of the broader field of visual literacy and to promote television aesthetics to both students and consumers of television Based on effective empirical research from three axes perception cognition and composition the aesthetic principles of television images presented are drawn from converging research in academic disciplines such as psychology perceptual cognitive and experimental neurophysiology and the fine arts painting photography film theater music and more Although the aesthetics of the fine arts were traditionally built on contextual theories that relied heavily on subjective evaluation on critical analyses and on descriptive research methods the aesthetics of today's visual communication media consider equally valuable empirical methodologies found in all sciences Investigations in these different academic disciplines have provided the constructs and strengthened the foundations of the theory of television aesthetics offered in this book Special features include a great variety of pictures supporting the topics discussed a thorough up to date and specifically related bibliography for each of the major parts of the book computer drawings illustrating the concepts examined in the text scientific data tables and charts documenting the research findings cited simplified explanations of the processes of visual auditory and motion perceptions of images enhanced by specific diagrams detailed analyses of the threefold process of stimulation perception and recognition of televised images and workable easy to understand and use rules of picture composition visual image evaluations and television program appreciation

The Presence of the Past in a Spanish Village Ruth Behar, 2014-07-14 This study of a northern Spanish community shows how the residents of Santa Mar a del Monte have acted together at critical times to ensure the survival of their traditional forms of social organization The survival of these forms has allowed the villagers in turn to weather demographic political and economic crises over the centuries Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

volume offers a selection of articles from authors representing a wide array of disciplines all of whom explore the following central theme how can the presence of the dead take life in the hearts of the living Although individuals die they can indeed remain present But how Authors in this volume explicate practical mourning strategies to help survivors cope with the tremendous sadness and emptiness experienced when we lose someone we love The Presence of Myth Leszek Kolakowski,2010-11-16 An important essay by a philosopher who more convincingly than any other I can think of demonstrates the continuing significance of his vocation in the life of our culture Karsten Harries The New York Times Book Review With The Presence of Myth Kolakowski demonstrates that no matter how hard man strives for purely rational thought there has always been and always will be a reservoir of mythical images that lend being and consciousness a specifically human meaning Kolakowski undertakes a philosophy of culture which extends to all realms of human intercourse intellectual artistic scientific and emotional His book has real significance for today and may well become a classic in the philosophy of culture Anglican Theological Review New Medieval Literatures 22 Laura Ashe,Kellie Robertson,Philip Knox,Wendy Scase,2022-03-11 Annual volume showcasing the best new work in this field New Medieval Literatures is an annual of work on medieval textual cultures aiming to engage with intellectual and cultural pluralism in the Middle Ages and now Its scope is inclusive of work across the theoretical archival philological and historicist methodologies associated with medieval literary studies and embraces the range of European cultures capaciously defined Essays in this volume engage with widely varied themes from confession in the domestic household to international politics and statecraft experimental scientific knowledge and the supernatural world of demons canonical Arthurian romance and scholastic theology in the vernacular monastic historiographical visions and geographies of pilgrimage Investigations range from the twelfth to the fifteenth centuries and from England to the Holy Land Chr tien de Troyes s Le chevalier de la charrette and Geoffrey Chaucer s Friar s Tale are examined in new ways and with new conclusions for their engagements with technologies of embodiment and the hermeneutics of bodily contact La amon s Brut is shown to bring the expectations of monastic historiography into the vernacular while Reginald Pecock s radical and sophisticated vernacular theology is explicated in all its dangerous heterodoxy Multiple narratives converge and are occluded at the Cave of the Patriarchs in Hebron Albert the Great experiments with animals and reorients humans in the natural world Alain Chartier strives to build a united French state Finally domestic familial and civic bonds of obligation emerge in the shared textual communities of anonymous late medieval confessional forms CONTRIBUTORS ROBYN A BARTLETT KANTIK GHOSH AYLIN MALCOLM ALASTAIR MINNIS LUKE SUNDERLAND JAMIE K TAYLOR HANNAH WEAVER LUCAS WOOD Doctrine of Creation Colin E. Gunton,2004-07-09 This study by leading scholars from around the world engages with central hermeneutical philosophical and theological dimensions of the doctrine of creation Particular prominence is given to discussion of creation out of nothing in the relation of eternal creator to temporal creation the Trinitarian construction of the doctrine and its ethical implications The essays comprise Robert Jenson on the doctrine of creation Paul Helm on eternal creation Colin Gunton on Genesis and on the Reformers Alan Torrance on spatio temporal dimensions Daniel Hardy on creation and eschatology Brian Horne on divine and human creativity Christoph Schwobel on God creation and the Christian community These expert contributions open up new dimensions to an important topic currently receiving renewed attention

Remembrance of Things Past Marcel Proust, 2006 Proust is the twentieth century's Dante presenting us with a unique unsettling picture of ourselves as jealous lovers and unmitigated snobs frittering our lives away with only the hope of art as a possible salvation

Erring Mark C. Taylor, 2013-11-22 Erring is a thoughtful often brilliant attempt to describe and enact what remains of and for theology in the wake of deconstruction Drawing on Hegel Nietzsche Derrida and others Mark Taylor extends and goes well beyond pioneering efforts The result is a major book comprehensive and well informed

G Douglas Atkins Philosophy and Literature Many have felt the need for a study which would explicate in coherent and accessible fashion the principal tenets of deconstruction with particular attention to their theological implications This need the author has addressed in a most impressive manner The book's effect upon contemporary discussion is apt to be and deserves to be far reaching

Walter Lowe Journal of Religion

Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface

W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice

Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

The Identity of Israel's God in Christian Scripture Don Collett, Mark Elliott, Mark Gignilliat, Ephraim Radner, 2021-01-29 A broad sweeping volume that breaches the walls separating biblical and theological disciplines Biblical scholars and theologians engage an important question Who is Israel's God for Christian readers of the Old Testament For Christians Scripture is the Old and New Testament bound together in a single legacy Contributors approach the question from multiple disciplinary vantage points Essays on both Testaments focus on figural exegesis critical exegesis and the value of diachronic understandings of the Old Testament's compositional history for the sake of a richer synchronic reading This collection is offered in celebration of the life and work of Christopher R Seitz His rich and wide ranging scholarly efforts have provided scholars and students alike a treasure trove of resources related to this critical question Tempus Harald Weinrich, 2024-02-06 A foundational book by one of the most distinguished German humanists of the last half century Tempus joins cultural linguistics and literary interpretation at the hip Developing two controversial theses that sentences are not truly meaningful in isolation from their contexts and that verb tenses are primarily indicators not of time but of the attitude of the speaker or writer Tempus surveys a dazzling array of ancient and modern texts from famous authors as well as casual speakers of German French Italian Spanish Portuguese Latin and English with a final chapter extending the observations to Greek Russian and world languages A classic in German and long available in many other languages Tempus launched a new discipline text linguistics and established a unique career that was marked by precise observation sensitive cultural outreach and practical engagement with the situation of migrants Weinrich's robust and lucid close readings of famous and little known authors from all the major languages of western Europe expand our literary horizons and challenge our linguistic understanding

Multidisciplinary Aspects of Time and Time Perception Argiro Vatakis, Anna Esposito, Maria Giagkou, Fred Cummins, Georgios Papadelis, 2011-11-22 This book constitutes the documentation of the scientific outcome of the first meeting of the TIMELY network the International Workshop on Multidisciplinary Aspects of Time and Time Perception which took place in Athens Greece in October 2010 The 21 papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in the book They cover the following topics conceptual analysis and measurement of time exploring factors associated with time perception variability extending time research to ecologically valid stimuli and real world applications and uncovering the neural correlates of time perception The Human Soul: Essays in Honor of Nalin Ranasinghe Predrag Cicovacki, 2022-02-01 This collection of essays is dedicated to a recently deceased philosopher and humanist Nalin Ranasinghe His central philosophical and humanistic preoccupation was with the human soul Not surprisingly his greatest inspiration was Socrates credo Care for your soul and the title of his first book was The Soul of Socrates In this and his later writings Ranasinghe expressed his growing concern over the idea that the human soul has been hijacked due to the way our civilization has developed the highest and noblest aspirations of our civilization have been replaced by our obsession with money pleasure and power We now live in a time where we do not know who we are nor who the people around us are Despite all of the technical gadgets connecting us virtually this is the age of disconnect and loneliness as well as of the degradations of humanity Ranasinghe insisted that the two keys for recovery are the self knowledge of the soul and a continuous dialogue with others We need to relearn how to relate to ourselves and others as unique individuals not as objects for the satisfaction of our needs Following his ideas the twenty essays presented here are divided into two parts the soul in reflection and the soul in dialogue The contributors come from various countries around the globe and work in different disciplines and their chapters aim to revive our interest in the soul and the obscured core of our humanity This book will appeal to undergraduate and graduate students of philosophy however the essays are written in a non technical language also making them accessible to the general audience

Derrida on Being as Presence David A. White, 2017-04-24 Jacques Derrida's extensive early writings devoted considerable attention to being as presence the reality underlying the history of metaphysics In Derrida on Being as Presence Questions and Quests David A White develops the intricate conceptual structure of this notion by close exegetical readings drawn from these writings White discusses cardinal concepts in Derrida's revamping of theoretical considerations pertaining to language signification context negation iterability as these considerations depend on the structure of being as presence and also as they ground deconstructive reading White's appraisal raises questions invoking a range of problems He deploys these questions in conjunction with thematically related quests that arise given Derrida's conviction that the history of metaphysics as variations on being as presence has concealed and skewed vital elements of reality White inflects this critical apparatus concerning being as presence with texts drawn from that history e g by Plato Aristotle Bacon Hume Kant Whitehead The essay concludes with a speculative ensemble of provisional categories or zones of specificity Implementing these categories will ground the possibility that philosophy in general and metaphysics in particular can be pursued in ways which acknowledge the relevance of Derrida's thought when integrated with the philosophical enterprise as traditionally understood
