Minorities and Law in Czechoslovakia, 1918-1992 Jan Kuklík, René Petráš, 2017-05-01 Ethnic minority issues played an important role in the history of Czechoslovakia from 1918 during World War II and in the years immediately following it Czechoslovakia became a model for solving ethnic and minority problems and legal regulations had always played a key role in the status of minorities This book which deals with issues concerning ethnic and language minorities in Czechoslovakia from a long term perspective is primarily intended for foreign readers In recent years ethnic minority issues are once again becoming relevant in Europe and thorough knowledge of earlier problems and solutions may facilitate further examination of the current problems neighbouring countries and that of Roman law The reader can see how a legal system originally based on custom developed into written and codified law Czech law was fully dependent upon developments within the Luxemburg Jagiellonian and primarily Habsburg monarchies although some features remained autonomous The 20th century is particularly important in the development of the Czech state and law of today namely due to the establishment of an independent Czechoslovakia in 1918 and its split in 1992 giving rise to the independent identities of the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic It was a century encompassing periods of democratic as well as totalitarian regimes political ideological economic and social changes stemming from such transformations were projected into and reflected in the system of Czechoslovak and Czech law It can therefore serve as a case study for researchers interested in the transition of democratic legal systems into totalitarian regimes and vice versa
