Poetry Off the Page Laura Severin, 2017-03-02 This study examines the performed poetry of Charlotte Mew Anna Wickham Edith Sitwell Stevie Smith Liz Lochhead and Jackie Kay as an alternative radical tradition of British poetry developed to convey women's experience Through a historical treatment in which the poets are discussed in pairs the chapters trace how these six women used a performative poetry to deal with difficulties regarding women's representation from simply presenting difference in the case of Mew and Wickham to deconstructing difference in the case of Sitwell and Smith to avoiding the recapture of cultural imagery in the case of Lochhead and Kay Laura Severin claims that twentieth century British women poets have been neglected by both feminist and more traditional literary critics because they cannot be read within available literary frameworks Feminist criticism in particular has overlooked the value of other poetic ancestries by locating the only radical tradition of modern poetry in fractured form At least one alternative radical tradition can be found in a narrative and performed poetry that maximizes its transgressive potential with multiple framing devices Though a female poet always experiences difficulty in controlling both cultural imagery and her own public presentation these framing devices work together both to deconstruct the essentialized category of woman and to recover the multiplicity of women's experience

David Jones Thomas Dilworth, 2017-04-15 Among the revolutions of the last century none was more important or potentially more lasting than the one in the arts called Modernism Among the giants of that movement were writers who changed our conceptions of poetry and prose forever Now well into the new century we can look back to admire and reflect on figures from that period Last year saw biographies of two monumental poets of Modernism Robert Crawford's first volume on T S Eliot and David Moody's concluding third volume on the life of Ezra Pound We are excited to announce the first full length critical biography of the third member too often overlooked of that extraordinary group The beautifully illustrated David Jones Engraver Soldier Painter Poet by Thomas Dilworth will stand for generations as the great biography this wonderful artist deserves Jones 1895 1974 was a painter a wood and copper engraver and maker of painted inscriptions but it was as a poet that he left his most lasting mark Eliot called him one of the most distinguished writers of my generation and Dylan Thomas said he would like to have done anything as good as David Jones has done Auden praised his poem In Parenthesis as the greatest book ever about the Great War and The Anathemata as one of the truly great poems in Western Literature His work the whole of it enables him to stand alongside Eliot Pound and James Joyce as an incomparable figure in literary Modernism
