Tenured Bosses and Disposable Teachers, Tenured Bosses and Disposable Teachers Writing Instruction in the Managed University exposes the poor working conditions of contingent composition faculty and explores practical alternatives to the unfair labor practices that are all too common on campuses today Editors Marc Bousquet Tony Scott and Leo Parascondola bring together diverse perspectives from pragmatism to historical materialism to provide a perceptive and engaging examination of the nature extent and economics of the managed labor problem in composition instruction a field in which as much as ninety three percent of all classes are taught by graduate students adjuncts and other disposable teachers These instructors enjoy few benefits meager wages little or no participation in departmental governance and none of the rewards and protections that encourage innovation and research And it is from this disenfranchised position that literacy workers are expected to provide some of the core instruction in nearly everyone's higher education experience Twenty six contributors explore a range of real world solutions to managerial domination of the composition workplace from traditional academic unionism to ensemble movement activism and the pragmatic rhetoric accommodations and resistances practiced by teachers in their daily lives Contributors are Leann Bertoncini Marc Bousquet Christopher Carter Christopher Ferry David Downing Amanda Godley Robin Truth Goodman Bill Hendricks Walter Jacobsohn Ruth Kiefson Paul Lauter Donald Lazere Eric Marshall Randy Martin Richard Ohmann Leo Parascondola Steve Parks Gary Rhoades Eileen Schell Tony Scott William Thelin Jennifer Seibel Trainor Donna Strickland William Vaughn Ray Watkins and Katherine Wills

Landmark Essays on Writing Program Administration Kelly Ritter, MELISSA IANETTA, 2024-11-01 Leading with the provocative observation that writing programs administration lacks an established set of texts that provides a baseline of shared knowledge in which to root our ongoing conversations and with which to welcome newcomers Landmark Essays on Writing Program Administration focuses on WPA identity to propose one such grouping of texts This Landmark volume is the cornerstone resource for new Writing Program Administrators and graduate students seeking an ever important overview of the literature on Writing Program Administration Drawing broadly across scholarship in writing programs and writing centers Ritter and Ianetta work to historicize theorize and problematize the ever shifting answers offered to the question Who or what is a WPA

Institutional Ethnography Michelle LaFrance, 2019-06-15 A form of critical ethnography introduced to the social sciences in the late 1990s institutional ethnography uncovers how things happen within institutional sites providing a new and flexible tool for the study of how work is co constituted within sites of writing and writing instruction The study of work and work processes reveals how institutional discourse social relations and norms of professional practice coordinate what people do across time and sites of writing Adoption of IE offers finely grained understandings of how our participation in the work of writing writing instruction and sites of writing gives material face to the institutions that govern the social world In this book Michelle LaFrance introduces the theories rhetorical frames and methods that ground and animate institutional ethnography Three case studies illustrate key aspects of the methodology in action tracing the work of writing assignment design in a linked gateway course the ways annual reviews coordinate the work of faculty and writing center administrators and staff and how the key term information literacy socially organizes teaching in a first year English program Through these explorations of the practice of ethnography within sites of writing and writing instruction LaFrance shows that IE is a methodology keenly attuned to the material relations and conditions of work in twenty first century writing studies contexts ideal for both practiced and novice ethnographers who seek to understand the actualities of social organization and lived experience in the sites they study Institutional Ethnography expands the field s repertoire of research methodologies and offers the grounding necessary for work with the IE framework It will be invaluable to writing researchers and students and scholars of writing studies across the spectrum composition and rhetoric literacy studies and education as well as those working in fields such as sociology and cultural studies

Labor, Writing Technologies, and the Shaping of Composition in the Academy Pamela Takayoshi, Patricia Sullivan, 2007 The changing nature of the workforce and the increasing presence of technologies in composition studies promise to affect not only the ways we work but the very shape of the discipline This volume takes on the challenge of thinking about the intersections of work technology and composition studies in ways that are unprecedented These areas interact in numerous and significant ways yet the focus is often on the concepts in isolation from one another Authors in this collection explore technology and labor issues across a range of institutional locations to focus on working as scholars administrators of writing programs writing across the curriculum programs assessment programs teachers workers held accountable to bureaucrats and gendered and raced workers and the future roles compositions will adopt in the university and how technology affects those identities The chapters address the nature of composition labor in a technological society the new geographies of composition variety of identity and agency that are enabled and denied academic labor outside the classroom and academy and how virtuality impacts labor They provide varied perspectives on what issues are of import and alert researchers and teachers that a serious consideration of labor and writing technologies are needed to expand notions of what composition studies can and must be Publisher's description

Negotiating Literacy Michele R. Fero, 2009 Dangerous Writing Tony Scott, 2009-03-15 Outlines a political economic theory of composition Connects pedagogical practices in writing classes to their broader political economic contexts and argues that the analytical power of writing is prevented from reaching its potential by pressures within the academy and without that tend to wed higher education with the aims and logics of fast capitalism Since the 1980s and the social turn in composition studies and other disciplines scholars in this field have conceived writing in college as explicitly embedded in socio rhetorical situations beyond the classroom From this conviction develops a commitment to teach writing with an emphasis on analyzing the social and political dimensions of rhetoric By focusing on the structures of labor and of institutions that enforce those structures the author finds teachers and administrators are too easily swept along with the inertia of a hyper commodified society in which students especially working class students are often positioned as commodities themselves A critique of the field of composition as much as it is a critique of capitalism From publisher description

Rhetoric and Resistance in the Corporate Academy Christopher Carter, 2008 Rhetoric and Resistance in the Corporate Academy analyzes the political and legal struggles between labor movements and school administrators over the rise of part time and temporary jobs in higher education Focusing particular attention on the labor of writing instruction Carter finds among literacy workers both a deeply exploited segment of the campus population and a vector of resistance to the hegemony of flexible hiring Contrary to visions of ivory tower seclusion he traces continuities between teachers and students experiences as corporate employees contending that their frequently insecure positions inadequate working conditions minimal benefits and marginalized voices constitute grounds for political alliance Carter then outlines a labor theory of agency that entails long range collaboration among tenure line faculty part time and non tenure track teachers and student social movements listening always for harmonies as well as dissonances among their modes of argument Rhetorics of Being Jennifer Seibel Trainor,2000

Writing on the Edge ,2002 The Writing Program Administrator as Theorist Shirley K. Rose,Irwin Weiser,2002

The work of Writing Program Administration however overturns that perception for it demands that theory be integrated within everyday decision making JAC ,2007 WPA, Writing Program Administration ,2007 Disciplinary

Identities Steven Mailloux,2006 What are the historical relations among academic disciplines focused on oral and written rhetoric In Disciplinary Identities Steven Mailloux examines the formation of English literary studies speech communication and composition explaining how these fields came to be shaped and separated as they are today In so doing Mailloux illustrates the interpretive power of a technique he calls rhetorical hermeneutics his critical history of disciplinary formations both describes rhetoric as a topic of study and uses it as a tool for understanding how scholarship is organized professionally and politically Mailloux thus traces the paths taken by the topic of rhetoric as it migrates among disciplines At the same time he examines the tropes arguments narratives and other pieces of rhetoric used by practitioners to shape disciplinary identities Mailloux also uses rhetorical hermeneutics to explore the intersections of academic disciplines and nonacademic public spheres moving from the role of nineteenth century African American intellectuals in and outside the academy to that of the academic intellectual within post September 11 cultural politics Through multidisciplinary inquiry Disciplinary Identities seeks to engage all teachers and scholars of the language arts in a renewed conversation about our shared history and our mutual devotion to pedagogy criticism history and theory What We Are Becoming Greg Giberson,Thomas A.

Moriarty,2010 Greg Giberson and Tom Moriarty have collected a rich volume that offers a state of the field look at the question of the undergraduate writing major a vital issue for compositionists as the discipline continues to evolve What We Are Becoming provides an indispensable resource for departments and WPAs who are building undergraduate majors Contributors to the volume address a range of vital questions for undergraduate programs including such issues as the competition for majors within departments the job market for undergraduates varying focuses and curricula of such majors and the formation of them in departments separate from English Other chapters discuss the importance of flexibility consider arguments for a rhetorical or civic discourse core for the writing major address the relationship between rhetoric and composition majors and review the role of multiliteracies in the major The field of composition has not come to a consensus on the shape content or focus of the undergradutate major But as individual programs develop and refine their curricula one thing has become clear we must think about them in ways that go beyond our particular circumstances theorize them in ways that secure their place on our campuses and in our discipline for years to come What We Are Becoming is an effort to do just that The Hope and the Legacy Patrick Bruch,Richard Marback,2005 As a collection it provides a resource for historically contextualized and theoretically informed engagements with the central tensions facing teachers students and scholars in the field Taken together the essays track the impact of the Students Right resolution through the past and into the future enriching discussions of how research and practice in composition studies can best address issues of racial identity writing instruction and the purposes of schooling Jacket
