thematic guide to Canadian literature Margaret Atwood, 1972 Unhomely States Cynthia Sugars, 2004-02-11 Unhomely States is the first collection of foundational essays of Canadian postcolonial theory. The essays span the period from 1965 to the present day and approach broad issues of Canadian culture and society. They represent the impassioned conflicts, dissonances and intersections among postcolonial theorists in English Canada. Theories of Canadian postcolonialism are various and often contending. The questions proliferate: Is Canada postcolonial? Who in Canada is postcolonial? Are some Canadians more postcolonial than others? Together, the essays in this collection demonstrate both the historical development of this vigorous debate and its most prominent current perspectives. The anthology comprises work originally written in English, selected and arranged in order to demonstrate the dynamic nature of these discussions. Included here are essays by many well-known writers and theorists such as George Grant, Northrop Frye, Margaret Atwood, Dennis Lee, Robert Kroetsch, Linda Hutcheon, Diana Brydon, Thomas King, Terry Goldie, Arun Mukherjee, Smaro Kamboureli, Stephen Slemon, and Roy Miki. The collection covers such topics as anti-colonial nationalism, settler invader theory, First Nations contexts, postcolonial pedagogy, and critiques of Canadian postcolonialism. A general introduction surveying the current field of postcolonial discourse in English Canada is also included.

History of Literature in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2008. The development of literature in Canada with an eye to its multicultural, multiethnic, multilingual nature. From modest colonial beginnings, literature in Canada has arrived at the center stage of world literature. Works by English Canadian writers, both established writers such as Margaret Atwood and new talents such as Yann Martel, make regular appearances on international bestseller lists. French Canadian literature has also found its own voice in the North American and francophone worlds. CanLit has likewise developed into a staple of academic interest pursued in Canadian Studies programs in Canada and around the world. This volume draws on the expertise of scholars from Canada, Germany, Austria, and France, tracing Canadian literature from the indigenous oral tradition to the development of English Canadian and French Canadian literature since colonial times. Conceiving of Canada as a single but multifaceted culture, it accounts for specific characteristics of English and French Canadian literatures, such as the vital role of the short story in English Canada or that of the chanson in French Canada. Yet special attention is also paid to Aboriginal literature and to the pronounced transcultural, ethnically diverse character of much contemporary Canadian literature, thus moving clearly beyond the traditions of the two founding nations.

Interlunar poetry and The Handmaid's Tale a critically acclaimed best selling novel This international collection of essays evaluates the complete body of her work both the acclaimed fiction and the innovative poetry The critics represented here American Australian and Canadian address Atwood's handling of such themes as feminism ecology the gothic novel and the political relationship between Canada and the United States The essays on Atwood's novels introduce the general reader to her development as a writer as she matures from a basically subjective poetic vision seen in Surfacing and The Edible Woman to an increasingly engaged political stance exemplified by The Handmaid's Tale Other essays examine Atwood's poetry from her transformation of the Homeric model to her criticisms of the United States relationship with Canada The last two critical essays offer a unique view of Atwood through an investigation of her use of the concept of shamanism and through a presentation of eight of her vivid watercolors The volume ends with Atwood presenting her own views in an interview with Jan Garden Castro and in a conversation between Atwood and students at the University of Tampa Florida
