Sustainability The Corporate Challenge Of The 21st Century:

Sustainability Dexter Colboyd Dunphy,2000 framework of principles and practices Corporate Challenge and Sustainability in the 21st Century Maleehah Gull,2019-11 Corporate Challenge and Sustainability in the 21st Century introduces the concept of sustainability to the readers and informs them about its importance in the 21st century It also makes them aware about the corporate culture in the 21st century and relates sustainability to the culture This book also discusses about challenges in achieving sustainability that arise due to diversity in cultures the relations between the success of corporate and achievement of sustainability the connection between business and sustainability and the challenges being posed to the attainment of sustainability This book gives an idea to the readers about the various aspects related to the sustainability in the corporate sector and the various challenges that lie in its achievement The International Handbook on Environmental Technology Management Dora Marinova,David Annandale,John Phillimore,2008-01-01 This is an excellent textbook suitable as a core text for environmental engineers and environmental scientists but equally it should in my opinion be compulsory reading for all researchers practitioners and policy makers regardless of their discipline because it has relevance for all In fact the book is so lively and understandable that everyone and anyone could and should read it Clearly written by a team of recognised environmental authors drawn from around the world it guides the reader through current thinking on the tools and techniques industry As an academic it is a delight to find a book to recommend that I know students will enjoy and one which addresses so many different elements of a diversity of university courses while covering the most important areas of environmental technology and management I am certainly using it to enhance and update the content of some of my own lectures Susan Haile International Journal of Sustainable Engineering This substantial collection draws together a very wide variety of literatures and practices I would expect this book to be a popular purchase by academic libraries principally as a core text R D Management This stunning Handbook is an excellent tool for environmental manager and environmental officer alike It is brimful of ideas case studies and methodologies which stimulate continuous improvement thinking and help train staff to implement sustainability and environmental management concepts Highly recommended Eagle Bulletin This important Handbook is the first comprehensive account that brings together recent developments in the three related fields of environmental technology environmental management and technology management With contributions from more than 55 outstanding authors representing ten countries and five continents the reader is provided with a vast range of insightful perspectives on the latest industry and policy issues With the aid of numerous case studies leading experts reflect on significant changes in the use of technology and management practices witnessed in the last decade Within this Handbook the authors discuss in detail eco modernization and technology transformation environmental technology management in business practices measuring environmental technology management case studies in new technologies for the environment environmental technology management and the future

The International Handbook on Environmental Technology Management has a broad audience including researchers practitioners policymakers and students in the fields of sustainability and environmental science

Organizational Change for Corporate Sustainability Dexter Colboyd Dunphy,Andrew Griffiths,Suzanne Benn,2003 Using specific examples of incremental and transformational changes and outlining the long term corporate benefits of sustainability the book examines the changes required to achieve true sustainability

Organizational Change for Corporate Sustainability Suzanne Benn,Melissa Edwards,Tim Williams,2014-05-09 Since this classic book was first published in 2003 sustainability has increasingly become mainstream business for leading corporations whilst the topic itself has also been a hotly debated political issue across the globe The sustainability phase models originally discussed in the book have become more relevant with ever more examples of organizations at later stages in the development of corporate sustainability Bringing together global issues of ecological sustainability strategic human resource management organizational change corporate social responsibility leadership and community renewal this new edition of the book further develops its unified approach to corporate sustainability and its plan of action to bring about corporate change It integrates new research and brings illustrative case studies up to date to reflect how new approaches affect change and leadership For the first time a new positive model of a future sustainable world is included strengthened by references to the global financial crisis burgeoning world population numbers and the rise of China With new case studies including BP s Gulf oil spill and Tokyo Electric Company s nuclear reactor disaster this new edition will again be core reading for students and researchers of sustainability and business organizational change and corporate social responsibility

Stakeholder Thinking in Marketing Michael Jay Polonsky,2005 Stakeholder thinking in marketingStakeholder thinking is becoming a core part of marketing as well as other businessrelated disciplines A search of the business source primmer database found that priorto 1995 there are 58 articles using the term stakeholder in their title and 27 academicmarketing related articles with stakeholder as a key term The interest in stakeholdertheory has however grown rapidly between January 2000 and November 2004 therewere 228 articles using stakeholder theory in the title and 140 academic marketingrelated journal articles that examined stakeholder issues In fact the American Marketing Association s AMA 2004 new definition ofmarketing expressly incorporates our responsibility to consider how marketingactivities impact stakeholders Marketing is an organizational function and a set of processes for creating communicating and delivering value to customers and for managing customer relationships in ways thatbenefit the organization and its stakeholders Thus the AMA has recognised the core role of stakeholder thinking While there is an increased interest in stakeholder thinking in marking anexamination of the literature would seem to suggest that there is no unified view ofhow stakeholder thinking can be or should be integrated into theory or practice Manyof the stakeholder works marketing and in other disciplines still focus on the socialand ethical impacts of stakeholders This may have been where much off stakeholderthinking initially gained its prominence but it is a broader strategic tool that can benefit a range of areas and was in fact the focus of Freeman's 1984 original work in the area. This is not to suggest that the general strategic implications of stakeholder thinking are not being considered as an increasingly number of works are looking at stakeholder implications in regards to exchange networks, relationship marketing and other issues related to strategy development. The papers in this special issue have considered a range of varying perspectives including corporate social responsibility, the impact of interacting with stakeholders, relationship issues and broader discussions of stakeholder theory as a strategic tool. These papers have taken a diverse range of perspectives including conceptual works, case studies, qualitative approaches and various empirical approaches to examining the issues of interest within various pieces. The scope of papers included in the special as well as those not included identifies the breadth of relevance stakeholder thinking has for the application of all aspects of marketing theory and practice. The question of how stakeholders and stakeholder theory can be considered in organisational activities and marketing theory is an issue that most certainly seems to warrant further consideration. The works in this special issue have advanced this debate and identified some directions that could be considered. Stakeholder thinking is however not necessarily a paradigm shift in marketing thinking although some might believe it is but rather it broadens existing concepts such as relationship marketing, network theory, organisational social responsibility and other areas. Hopefully the papers presented in this special issue will encourage others to consider the inclusion of stakeholders into broader areas of marketing. Any special issue editor has to thank a range of people for assistance with developing the special issue. I would like to thank Audrey Gilmore and David Carson, editors of EJM for allowing the special issue to be developed. Their input through the process has been invaluable. I would also like to thank the many authors of unsuccessful papers for submitting their work. It was of course impossible to include all papers in the special issue but the breadth of coverage in regards to topics and geographic areas would seem to demonstrate the growing interest in stakeholder thinking within marketing. Lastly it is imperative that I thank the reviewers without their assistance the special issue would not have been possible. The following people reviewed papers for the special issue: Anupam Jaju, Gorge Mason University; Bill Kilbourn, Clemson University; Bob Heiser, New Mexico State University; Catherine Elder, eabode, visi, net; Cathy L Hartman, Utah State University; David Waller, University of Technology Sydney; David Stewart, Monash University; Devashish Pujari, McMaster University; Dr Russell Casey, Clayton State University; Duane Windsor, Rice University; Edwin R Stafford, Utah State University; Felix Mavondo, Monsah University; Frank de Bakker, University of Amsterdam; Hamish Ratten, University of Queensland; J Tomas Gomez Arias, St Mary's College of California; Jeanne M Logsdon, University of New Mexico; John F Mahon, University of Maine; John Stanton, University of Western Sydney; Kamal Ghose, University of South Australia; Kelly Strong, Iowa State University; Kirk Davidson, Mount St Mary's University; Kim E Schatzel, University of Michigan Dearborn; Les Carlson, Clemson University; Linda McGilvray, Massey University; Marie Louise Fry, University of Newcastle, Australia; Mary McKinley, ESCM School of Business and Management; Michael Beverland, Monsah University; Michael Hyman, New Mexico State
