Native Peoples of the World Steven L. Danver,2015-03-10 This work examines the world s indigenous peoples their cultures the countries in which they reside and the issues that impact these groups Imagining the Forest John R. Knott,2012 How the meaning of the forest developed in the Great Lakes Traditional Forest-Related Knowledge John A. Parrotta,Ronald L. Trosper,2011-10-14 Exploring a topic of vital and ongoing importance Traditional Forest Knowledge examines the history current status and trends in the development and application of traditional forest knowledge by local and indigenous communities worldwide It considers the interplay between traditional beliefs and practices and formal forest science and interrogates the often uneasy relationship between these different knowledge systems The contents also highlight efforts to conserve and promote traditional forest management practices that balance the environmental economic and social objectives of forest management It places these efforts in the context of recent trends towards the devolution of forest management authority in many parts of the world The book includes regional chapters covering North America South America Africa Europe Asia and the Australia Pacific region As well as relating the general factors mentioned above to these specific areas these chapters cover issues of special regional significance such as the importance of traditional knowledge and practices for food security economic development and cultural identity Other chapters examine topics ranging from key policy issues to the significant programs of regional and international organisations and from research ethics and best practices for scientific study of traditional knowledge to the adaptation of traditional forest knowledge to climate change and globalisation

Wars in the Woods Samuel P. Hays,2006-11-17 Wars in the Woods examines the conflicts that have developed over the preservation of forests in America and how government agencies and advocacy groups have influenced the management of forests and their resources for more than a century Samuel Hays provides an astute analysis of manipulations of conservation law that have touched off a battle between what he terms ecological forestry and commodity forestry Hays also reveals the pervading influence of the wood products industry and the training of U S Forest Service to value tree species marketable as wood products as the primary forces behind forestry policy since the Forest Management Act of 1897 Wars in the Woods gives a comprehensive account of the many grassroots and scientific organizations that have emerged since then to combat the lumber industry and other special interest groups and work to promote legislation to protect forests parks and wildlife habitats It also offers a review of current forestry practices citing the recent Federal easing of protections as a challenge to the progress made in the last third of the twentieth century Hays describes an increased focus on ecological forestry in areas such as biodiversity wildlife habitat structural diversity soil conservation watershed management native forests and old growth He provides a valuable framework for the critical assessment of forest management policies and the future study and protection of forest resources

The Journal of Environment & Development ,2001 Winds of Change ,2000 In Gods We Trust Scott Atran,2004-12-09 This ambitious interdisciplinary book seeks to explain the origins of religion using our knowledge of the evolution of cognition A cognitive anthropologist and psychologist Scott Atran argues that religion is a by product of human evolution just as the cognitive intervention cultural selection and historical survival of religion is an accommodation of certain existential and moral elements that have evolved in the human condition Wisconsin Magazine of History Milo Milton Quaife,Joseph Schafer,Edward Porter Alexander,2000
