Sustaining Agriculture Near Cities:

Sustainable Or Alternative Agriculture, January 1982 - December 1989 Jayne T. MacLean, 1990 Organic, Low-input Or Sustainable Agriculture, June 1986--March 1989 Jayne T. MacLean, 1989 Sustaining Agriculture Near Cities William Lockeretz, 1987 The Localization Reader Raymond De Young, Thomas Princen, 2012-02-10 Readings that point the way to a peaceful democratic and ecologically resilient transition to an era of localization limits and societal opportunities Energy supplies are tightening Persistent pollutants are accumulating Food security is declining There is no going back to the days of reckless consumption but there is a possibility already being realized in communities across North America and around the world of localizing of living well as we learn to live well within immutable constraints This book maps the transition to a more localized world Society is shifting from the centrifugal forces of globalization cheap and abundant raw materials and energy intensive commercialization concentrated economic and political power to the centripetal forces of localization distributed authority and leadership sustainable use of nearby natural resources community self reliance and cohesion with crucial regional national and international dimensions This collection offering classic texts by such writers as Wendell Berry M King Hubbert and Ernst F Schumacher as well as new work by authors including Karen Litfin and David Hess shows how localization a process of affirmative social change can enable psychologically meaningful and fulfilling lives while promoting ecological and social sustainability Topics range from energy dynamics to philosophies of limits from the governance of place based communities to the discovery of positive personal engagement Together they point the way to a transition that can be peaceful democratic just and environmentally resilient Land Use Transition in Urbanizing Areas Ralph E. Heimlich, 1989 Farmland Preservation Jane Potter Gates, 1991 Preserving the Legacy Allen G. Noble, Frank J. Costa, 1999-01-01 Though only a relatively recent topic of worldwide discussion and interest the concept of sustainable development traces its origins to the late eighteenth century when concern for resource conservation and environmental integrity first arose From this beginning the concern for sustainable development progressively expanded from being purely local to having a regional and national relevance and finally to being a global concern of import Preserving the Legacy examines this expansion while discussing several general approaches to the understanding and application of the concept of sustainability Also discussed are such weighty issues as the balancing of development aspirations with environmental management in developing countries and the means by which residents in an urbanizing region in a developed country can be induced to consider sustainable development as both a goal and a limiting factor in the conversion of agricultural land Offering both real world examples of sustainability issues and a forecast for the future of sustainability theory and practice this fascinating volume will prove invaluable to scholars of the environment geography and urban planning Under The Blade Thomas Lyson, 2018-05-04 Under the Blade The Conversion of Agricultural Landscapes examines the patterns causes and consequences of current land use decisions in the United States particularly the conversion of farmland to housing roads and other development Changes in land use are the result of complex interactions among law economics landscape characteristics social and political forces ethics and aesthetics By examining farmland loss from each of these perspectives and then integrating the results into policy recommendations Under the Blade makes an important contribution to the ongoing debate on the optimal use of a finite resource land In 1998 the last farm in Des Plaines Illinois was subdivided Seven acres along the Niobrara River in north central Nebraska sold for USD5700 per acre twenty times the price for agricultural use Waukesha County Wisconsin although still largely in agriculture has been almost entirely zoned for small lot subdivisions Nationwide the cumulative effect of thousands of individual land use decisions is an orgiastic devouring of the countryside that consumes at least 1 4 million acres of rural land each year and fragments a much larger area The effects on landscape functions include loss of agricultural production water pollution increases in local runoff and flooding loss of habitat and biodiversity and the loss of natural beauty In exchange we get malls retail strips and an ugly sprawl that degrades people and community How have we come to this and more importantly how might we find a better sustainable approach to the use of land Land use decisions are the result of complex interactions among law economics landscape characteristics population growth social and political forces ethics and aesthetics Under the Blade The Conversion of Agricultural Landscapes examines the loss of farmland and other rural lands from each of these perspectives and shows how interactions among different factors greatly complicate sustainable land management Included throughout the seven main chapters of the book are descriptions of some of the tools and strategies that can be used to preserve farmland and guide development The application of these tools is illustrated by 22 case studies of towns and regions throughout the United States each with a somewhat different challenge response and degree of success or failure Dietrich Bonhoeffer a Protestant theologian hanged by the Nazis in 1945 stated that the ultimate test of a moral society is the kind of world that it leaves to its children Our current choices in the use of the land are among the most important factors shaping that future world and Under the Blade demonstrates that the quality of that future is far from certain Geographical Perspectives on Sustainable Rural Change ,2010 This book focuses on three multi faceted aspects of rural sustainability farms and farming the remaking of rural communities and rural spaces and policy and action in rural development The research is focused on three global regions North America the United Kingdom and Ireland and Australia back cover Land Use Decision Making-- Its Role in a Sustainable Future for Michigan ,1996
