It has long been thought that fairness in European Consumer Law would be achieved by relying on information as a remedy and expecting the average consumer to keep businesses in check by voting with their feet This monograph argues that the way consumer law operates today promises a lot but does not deliver enough It struggles to avoid harm being caused to consumers and it struggles to repair the harm after the event To achieve fairness solutions need to be found elsewhere Consumer Theories of Harm offers an alternative model to assess where and how consumer detriment may occur and solutions to prevent it It shows that a more confident use of economic theory will allow practitioners to demonstrate how a poor standard of professional diligence lies at the heart of consumer harm The book provides both theoretical and practical examples of how to combine existing law with economic theory to improve case outcomes The book shows how public enforcers can move beyond the dominant transparency paradigm to an approach where firms have a positive duty to treat consumers fairly and shape their commercial offers in a way that prevents consumers from making mistakes Over time this fairness by design approach will emerge as the only acceptable way to compete Searching the Law, 3d Edition Frank Bae,Edward Bander,Francis Doyle,Joel Fishman,Paul Richert,2021-12-13 The Transformation of Consumer Law and Policy in Europe Hans-W. Micklitz,Christian Twigg-Flesner,2023-12-14 This book analyses the transformation of consumer law and policy in Europe from 4 perspectives first the temporal transformation i e changes that can be tracked from the turn of the millennium secondly the substantive dimension i e changes in the scope of the rights and remedies provided by consumer law as well as the underpinning values thirdly the institutional dimension i e changes in the role of national courts national Parliaments consumer agencies and consumer organisations and fourth the procedural element i e the shift from individual enforcement via courts to enforcement by public regulators consumer associations alternative dispute resolution and the development of collective enforcement exercised by consumer agencies and or consumer organisations With contributions by leading consumer law scholars from across Europe this book is a fascinating account of how consumer law has often been shaped by national as much as European interests The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003 Consumer Law and Policy Iain Ramsay,2012-10-25 This new edition continues to provide a critical introduction to the legal regulation of consumer markets situating it within the context of broader debates about rationales for regulation the role of the state and the growth of neo liberalism It draws on interdisciplinary sources assessing for example the increased influence of behavioural economics on consumer law It analyses the Europeanisation of consumer law and the tensions between neo liberalism and the social market consumer protection and consumer choice in the establishment of the single market ground rules The book also assesses national regional and international responses to the world financial crisis as reflected in the regulation of consumer credit markets This edition incorporates recent legislative and judicial developments of the law blending substantial extracts from primary UK EU and international legal materials
