Surrealist Art And Thought In The 1930s Art Politics And The Psyche:

Surrealist Art and Thought in the 1930s Steven Harris,2004-01-26 This volume examines the intersection of Hegelian aesthetics experimental art and poetry Marxism and psychoanalysis in the development of the theory and practice of the Surrealist movement Steven Harris analyzes the consequences of the Surrealists efforts to synthesize their diverse concerns through the invention in 1931 of the object and the redefining of their activities as a type of revolutionary science He also analyzes the debate on proletarian literature the Surrealists reaction to the Popular Front and their eventual defense of an experimental modern art The Screen in Surrealist Art and Thought Haim Finkelstein,2017-07-05 An interrogation of the notion of space in Surrealist theory and philosophy this study analyzes the manifestations of space in the paintings and writings done in the framework of the Surrealist Movement Haim Finkelstein introduces the screen as an important spatial paradigm that clarifies and extends the understanding of Surrealism as it unfolds in the 1920s exploring the screen and layered depth as fundamental structuring principles associated with the representation of the mental space and of the internal processes that eventually came to be linked with the Surrealist concept of psychic automatism Extending the discussion of the concepts at stake for Surrealist visual art into the context of film literature and criticism this study sheds new light on the way film thinking permeates Surrealist thought and aesthetics In early chapters Finkelstein looks at the concept of the screen as emblematic of a strand of spatial apprehension that informs the work of young writers in the 1920s such as Robert Desnos and Louis Aragon He goes on to explore the way the spatial character of the serial films of Louis Feuillade intimated to the Surrealists a related mode of vision associated with perception of the mystery and the Marvelous lurking behind the surfaces of quotidian reality The dialectics informing Surrealist thought with regard to the surfaces of the real with walls doors and windows as controlling images are shown to be at the basis of Andr   Breton s notion of the picture as a window Contrary to the traditional sense of this metaphor Breton s window is informed by the screen paradigm with its surface serving as a locus of a dialectics of transparency and opacity permeability and reflectivity The main aesthetic and conceptual issues that come up in the consideration of Breton s window metaphor lay the groundwork for an analysis of the work of Giorgio de Chirico Ren   Magritte Max Ernst Andr   Breton and Joan Mir   he concluding chapter consi Surrealism and

Photography in 1930s Japan Jelena Stojkovic,2020-05-31 Despite the censorship of dissident material during the decade between the Manchurian Incident of 1931 and the outbreak of the Pacific War in 1941 a number of photographers across Japan produced a versatile body of Surrealist work In a pioneering study of their practice Jelena Stojkovic draws on primary sources and extensive archival research and maps out art historical and critical contexts relevant to the apprehension of this rich photographic output most of which is previously unseen outside of its country of origin The volume is an essential resource in the fields of Surrealism and Japanese history of art for researchers and students of historical avant gardes and photography as well as for readers interested in visual culture Claude Cahun Gen Doy,2020-08-13 This is the first single authored book in English on the photographer Claude Cahun whose work was rediscovered in the 1980s Doy moves beyond standard postmodern approaches instead repositioning the artist born Lucy Schwob in the context of the turbulent times in which she lived and seeing the photographs as part of Cahun's wider life as an artist and writer a woman and lesbian and as a political activist in the early twentieth century Doy rethinks Cahun's approach to dress and masquerade looking at the images in light of the situation of women at the time and within the prevailing beauty culture Addressing Cahun's ambivalent relationship with Symbolism and later relationship with Surrealism this highly readable book also looks at Cahun's unusual approach to the domestic object

Surrealist Sorcery Will Atkin, 2023-08-10 Often regarded as an artistic movement of interwar Paris Surrealism comprised an international community of artists writers and intellectuals who have aspired to change the conditions of life itself over the course of the past century Consisting of a wide range of dedicated case studies from the 1920s to the 1970s this book highlights the international dimensions of the Surrealist Movement and the radical chains of thought that linked its followers across the globe from France to Romania and from Canada to the former Czechoslovakia From very early on the surrealists approached magic as a means of bypassing discrediting and combatting rationalism capitalism and other institutionalized systems and values that they saw to be constraining influences upon modern life Surrealist Sorcery maps out how this interest in magic developed into a major area of surrealist research that led not only to theoretical but also practical explorations of the subject Taking an international perspective Atkin surveys this important quality of the movement and how it's remained an important element in the surrealist project and its ongoing legacy

A Companion to Dada and Surrealism David Hopkins, 2022-01-06 This excellent overview of new research on Dada and Surrealism blends expert synthesis of the latest scholarship with completely new research offering historical coverage as well as in depth discussion of thematic areas ranging from criminality to gender This book provides an excellent overview of new research on Dada and Surrealism from some of the finest established and up and coming scholars in the field Offers historical coverage as well as in depth discussion of thematic areas ranging from criminality to gender One of the first studies to produce global coverage of the two movements it also includes a section dealing with the critical and cultural aftermath of Dada and Surrealism in the later twentieth century Dada and Surrealism are arguably the most popular areas of modern art both in the academic and public spheres

Unica Zürn Esra Plumer, 2016-02-26 Diagnosed with schizophrenia in the 1950s German writer and artist Unica Zürn produced a wealth of remarkable textual and visual material within psychiatric institutions across Germany and France While Zürn is often discussed in relation to her partner the controversial artist Hans Bellmer this innovative book moves beyond the familiar model of the overlooked significant other and re-introduces her as a member of the French Surrealist group This is the first monograph on the life and work of the Unica Zürn in English Esra Plumer presents Zürn's life and work in light of the artist's individual experiences with WWII Post war Surrealism and mental illness at the same time revealing wider aspects of her artistic practice in relation to her contemporaries She also reveals how the techniques of anagrams and automatism writing and drawing methods designed to unlock the subconscious mind form the pillars of Zorn's artistic creative output which carry her work into the wider theoretical circles of psychoanalytic theory and post structuralist thought

Surrealism and the Art of Crime Jonathan Paul Eburne, 2008 Corpses mark surrealism's path through the twentieth century providing material evidence of the violence in modern life Though the shifting group of poets artists and critics who made up the surrealist movement were witness to total war revolutionary violence and mass killing it was the tawdry reality of everyday crime that fascinated them Jonathan P Eburne shows us how this focus reveals the relationship between aesthetics and politics in the thought and artwork of the surrealists and establishes their movement as a useful platform for addressing the contemporary problem of violence both individual and political In a book strikingly illustrated with surrealist artworks and their sometimes gruesome source material Eburne addresses key individual works by both better known surrealist writers and artists including Andr Breton Louis Aragon Aim C saire Jacques Lacan Georges Bataille Max Ernst and Salvador Dal and lesser known figures such as Ren Crevel Simone Breton Leonora Carrington Benjamin P ret and Jules Monnerot For Eburne the art of crime denotes an array of cultural production including sensationalist journalism detective mysteries police blotters crime scene photos and documents of medical and legal opinion as well as the roman noir in particular the first crime novel of the American Chester Himes The surrealists collected and scrutinized such materials using them as the inspiration for the outpouring of political tracts pamphlets and artworks through which they sought to expose the forms of violence perpetrated in the name of the state its courts and respectable bourgeois values Concluding with the surrealists quarrel with the existentialists and their bitter condemnation of France's anticolonial wars Surrealism and the Art of Crime establishes surrealism as a vital element in the intellectual political and artistic history of the twentieth century

Tiny Surrealism Roger Rothman, 2012-12-01 New light on both Dal's well known and little studied works and his work as a response to modernism through a focus on Dal's identification with the small and the marginal
