Sustaining Loss Art And Mournful Life:

Sustaining Loss Gregg Horowitz, 2001 Sustaining Loss explores the uncanny traumatic weaving together of the living and the dead in art and the morbid fascination it holds for modern philosophical aesthetics Beginning with Kant the author traces how aesthetic theory has been drawn back repeatedly to the moving power of the undead body of the work of art He locates the most potent expressions of this philosophical compulsion in Hegel's thesis that art is a thing of the past and in Freud's view that the work of art is the haunting of the present by the endless suffering of what is dead but still has claims over the living The book asserts that modern aesthetics holds the key to unlocking the tortured relation of modernity to the past it is perpetually leaving behind As the capacity to withstand the inescapable force of a past that is dead for us becomes the supreme test for a fully modern fully secular philosophy aesthetics moves to the center of philosophical reflection But the author argues this secular philosophical orientation can be sustained only if aesthetic theory remains oriented by intimate contact with modernist works of art Sustaining Loss examines not only Kant Hegel and Freud but also the contemporary artists Gerhard Richter and Ilya Kabakov whose art turns fruitfully against art's own past To live as a modern the author asserts is to live with the dead past that modernist art ceaselessly disgorges Overall the book aims to articulate an aesthetic theory suitable to the task of living in a time when in Flannery O'Connor's words The blind don't see and the lame don't walk and what's dead stays that way

The Persistence of Melancholia in Arts and Culture Andrea Bubenik, 2019-07-04 This book explores the history and continuing relevance of melancholia as an amorphous but richly suggestive theme in literature music and visual culture as well as philosophy and the history of ideas

Inspired by Albrecht Dürer's engraving Melencolia I 1514 the first visual representation of artistic melancholy this volume brings together contributions by scholars from a variety of disciplines Topics include Melencolia I and its reception how melancholia inhabits landscapes soundscapes figures and objects melancholia in medical and psychological contexts how melancholia both enables and troubles artistic creation and Sigmund Freud's essay Mourning and Melancholia 1917

Objects as History in Twentieth-century German Art Peter Chametzky, 2010 This book provides an overview of twentieth century German art focusing on some of the period's key works In Peter Chametzky's innovative approach these works become representatives rather than representations of twentieth century history Chametzky draws on both scholarly and popular sources to demonstrate how the works and in some cases the artists themselves interacted with and even enacted historical events processes and ideas book jacket

Committing the Future to Memory Sarah Clift, 2013-11-11 Whereas historical determinacy conceives the past as a complex and unstable network of causalities this book asks how history can be related to a more radical future To pose that question it does not reject determinacy outright but rather seeks to explore how it works In examining what it means to be determined by history it also asks what kind of openings there might be in our encounters with history for interruptions re readings and re writings Engaging texts spanning multiple genres and several centuries from John Locke to Maurice Blanchot from Hegel to Benjamin Clift looks at experiences of time that exceed the historical narration of experiences said to have occurred in time She focuses on the co existence of multiple temporalities and opens up the quintessentially modern notion of historical succession to other possibilities The alternatives she draws out include the mediations of language and narration temporal leaps oscillations and blockages and the role played by contingency in representation She argues that such alternatives compel us to reassess the ways we understand history and identity in a traumatic or indeed in a post traumatic age

Critique of Judgement Immanuel Kant, 2008-09-11 Kant's Critique of Judgement analyses our experience of the beautiful and the sublime in relation to nature morality and theology Meredith's classic translation is here lightly revised and supplemented with a bilingual glossary The edition also includes the important First Introduction Trauma Controversy, The, A Hunger for Aesthetics Michael Kelly, 2012 This title examines the motivations for the critiques that have been applied to the idea of aesthetics and argues that theorists and artists now hunger for a new kind of aesthetics one better calibrated to contemporary art and its moral and political demands The book shows how for decades aesthetic critiques have often concerned art's treatment of beauty or the autonomy of art Collectively these critiques have generated an anti aesthetic stance that is now prevalent in the contemporary art world

The Conformist Rebellion Elena Louisa Lange, Joshua Pickett-Depaolis, 2022-03-28 With the rise of myriad forms of identity politics which corresponds to a new Trinity Formula of leftist analysis of capitalism class race and gender major currents in the contemporary radical left in the past decades have shifted their aim This book addresses the ideological theoretical and practical dilemmas of the contemporary academic and activist left from a Marxist standpoint

Covering contemporary developments in Left thought and ideology and putting them into social and historical context the chapters provide a theoretical confrontation with the myriad ways it has tended to accommodate itself to neoliberal ideology rather than fundamentally opposing it The contrast between the Marxian emancipatory project and what the progressive left has made of it has never been more glaring than now a time in which capital no longer seems to confront a political barrier It is this predicament that The Conformist Rebellion evaluates for a renewed approach to emancipation from capital Zizek

Kelsey Wood, 2012-03-19 A comprehensive overview of Slavoj Zizek's thought including all of his published works to date Provides a solid basis in the work of an engaging thinker and teacher whose ideas will continue to inform philosophical psychological political and cultural discourses well into the future Identifies the major currents in Zizek's thought discussing all of his works and providing a background in continental philosophy and psychoanalytic theory necessary to its understanding Explores Zizek's growing popularity through his engagement in current events politics and cultural studies Pertains to a variety of fields including contemporary philosophy psychology cultural studies sociology political science aesthetics literary theory film theory and theology
