The Moon And The Bonfire:

The Moon and the Bonfires Cesare Pavese, 2002-10-31 Winner of the 2003 PEN Book of the Month Club Translation Prize A NEW YORK REVIEW BOOKS ORIGINAL The nameless narrator of The Moon and the Bonfires Cesare Pavese's last and greatest novel returns to Italy from California after the Second World War He has done well in America but success hasn't taken the edge off his memories of childhood when he was an orphan living at the mercy of a bitterly poor farmer He wants to learn what happened in his native village over the long terrible years of Fascism perhaps he even thinks he will settle down And yet as he uncovers a secret and savage history from the war a tale of betrayal and reprisal sex and death he finds that the past still haunts the present The Moon and the Bonfires is a novel of intense lyricism and tragic import a masterpiece of twentieth century literature that has been unavailable to American readers for close to fifty years Here it appears in a vigorous new English version by R W Flint whose earlier translations of Pavese's fiction were acclaimed by Leslie Fiedler as absolutely lucid and completely incantatory

The Moon and the Bonfire Richard Bradley, Sharon Arrowsmith, 2005 Whilst a report on excavations at three stone circles and two fieldwalking projects in north east Scotland may not seem very appealing this book does much to heighten public awareness and interest in such sites and re connects us with the mysterious monuments of the past This study of the sites of Tomnaverie Deeside Cothiemuir Wood Donside and Aikie Brae Buchan is written in an engaging and approachable style with plenty of illustrative material Whilst the project was geared towards investigating the character chronology structural development and wider context of the stone circles its results go much further in revealing how people used and perceived such sites and the landscape around them Here contextual information discussion of methodology and objectives are combined with factual data and interpretation as the project members examine various aspects of the sites such as the characterisation shape colour and texture of the stones used construction techniques evidence of burning the presence of human remains and possible solar and lunar alignments The proffering of new insights into the use and symbolism of the monuments is highly valuable for example the suggestion that we should perhaps consider the use of these stone circles during the hours of darkness rather than daylight an idea first proposed by Aubrey Burl requires us to re think our preconceptions about monuments in the past The rewards of painstaking excavation and trudging through muddy fields are evident in a publication such as this

The Moon and the Bonfire Cesare Pavese, 2002 In Pavese's last and greatest novel Nuto an orphan saved from death by a rural family returns to Italy from America soon after World War II He is now rich and much has improved at home but peace and prosperity cannot long mask the enduring realities of love and death
