The Participation of Victims in International Criminal Proceedings Alessandra Cuppini, 2022-09-30 This book argues that the expressivist justice model provides a meaningful foundation for the participation of victims in international criminal proceedings Traditional criminal justice theories have tended to marginalise the role afforded to victims while informing the criminal procedures utilised by international criminal courts As a result giving content to shaping and enhancing victims participatory rights have been some of the most debated issues in international criminal justice This book contributes to this debate by advancing expressivism which has the capacity to create a historical narrative of gross human rights violations as a core of international criminal justice able to provide a worthwhile basis for the participation of victims in proceedings and clarifying the scope and content of their participatory rights The work provides an in depth discussion on issues related to victims participatory rights from the perspective of international human rights law victimology and the philosophical foundation of international criminal justice The book will be a valuable resource for researchers academics and policymakers working in the areas of international criminal justice international human rights law transitional justice and conflict studies

Post-Conflict Rebuilding and International Law Ray

Murphy,2017-03-02 This volume presents the research analysis of a range of scholars and experts on post conflict peacebuilding and international law from a variety of perspectives and missions The selected essays show that peacebuilding like the concept of peacekeeping is not specifically provided for in the UN Charter They also demonstrate that the record of peacebuilding like that of peacekeeping is varied and while both concepts are intrinsically linked neither lends itself to precise definition The essays consider the historical approaches to peacebuilding such as the role played by the UN in the Congo in the early 1960s and the work of the United States and its allies in rebuilding Germany and Japan in the aftermath of World War II Finally essays consider the major challenge for contemporary peacebuilding operations to make international administrations accountable and to ensure the involvement of the international community in helping rebuild communities and prevent the resurgence of violence Interculturality, Interaction and Language Learning Jane

Woodin,2018-05-23 This book opens up new lines of debate in language learning and intercultural communication through an investigation of tandem language learning a method of language learning based on mutual language exchange between native speakers and learners of each other s language in connection with intercultural learning and identity construction Through an empirical study of face to face tandem conversations Jane Woodin provides compelling evidence for the re definition of the tandem partnership beyond the traditional native speaker non native speaker NS NNS paradigm By analyzing conversation shapes learner identification of self and other and interactants own focus on culture this book reveals how interactants themselves address the complexities of language learning ownership and meaning The book also questions the prevalence of models of intercultural competence which describe the competence of the individual with little recognition of the role of the relationship or interaction Woodin considers the broader applicability of the tandem framework of autonomy and reciprocity and suggests new directions for further research on tandem learning Unlawful Attacks in

Combat Situations Héctor Olásolo,2008 Death and destruction are unavoidable effects of war and combat situations The fact that people have been killed or injured or property has been destroyed should not encourage anyone to rush to the conclusion that war crimes have been committed On the contrary before reaching such a conclusion it is necessary to carefully analyze the conduct of the person causing death injury or damage in order to ascertain whether such conduct is consistent with international humanitarian law Technology law and public opinion on what is acceptable has greatly evolved since World War II The issue of civilian damage caused in combat operations has become an important topic in public opinion since Operation Desert Storm in 1991 Public pressure to limit incidental civilian damage has notably increased following the NATO aerial campaign in Kosovo in 1999 and the subsequent conflicts in Afghanistan in 2001 Iraq in 2003 and Lebanon 2006 Unlawful Attacks in Combat Situations focuses on the manner in which unlawful attacks launched during the conduct of hostilities have been dealt with in the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court the international treaty which to date deals most comprehensively with war crimes committed in international and non international armed conflicts and in the case law of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia the first international judicial body that has investigated and prosecuted crimes committed during the conduct of hostilities since World War II Elections, Violence and Transitional Justice in Africa Elias Opongo,Tim Murithi,2022-05-29 Elections in Africa are competitive in nature and can be manipulated by incumbents to extend and entrench their rule through changes to constitutions intimidation of opponents excess use of police force and in some cases assassinations of dissident voices Ethnic cleavages are also exploited by contestants to incite and mobilize unsuspecting masses to pursue their electoral ambitions which can lead to political instability In many African countries violence before during and after elections has become a regrettable norm rather than the exception The function of transitional justice is to address the legacy of human rights atrocities political violence and societal harm resulting from prior misrule or violent conflicts with a view to establishing fair democratic and inclusive societies This book interrogates the potential intersection between transitional justice and electoral processes Specifically it examines the hypothesis that transitional justice interventions that strive to address historical injustices perpetrated by violence conflict and entrenched by socio political impunity can initiate preventive measures against electoral violence through redress accountability and institutional reforms The contributors to this volume have engaged with country case studies from across Africa while examining the intersection between transitional justice and electoral processes Hence this is a timely volume that highlights the uninterrogated nexus between elections violence and transitional justice in Africa
