Story Of Fossils In Search Of Vanished W:

From Natural Philosophy to the Sciences David Cahan, 2003-09-15 During the nineteenth century much of the modern scientific enterprise took shape scientific disciplines were formed institutions and communities were founded and unprecedented applications to and interactions with other aspects of society and culture occurred In this book eleven leading historians of science assess what their field has taught us about this exciting time and identify issues that remain unexamined or require reconsideration They treat both scientific disciplines biology physics chemistry the earth sciences mathematics and the social sciences in their specific intellectual and sociocultural contexts as well as the broader topics of science and medicine science and religion scientific institutions and communities and science technology and industry Providing a much needed overview and analysis of a rapidly expanding field From Natural Philosophy to the Sciences will be essential for historians of science but also of great interest to scholars of all aspects of nineteenth century life and culture Contributors Bernadette Bensaude Vincent Jed Z Buchwald David Cahan Joseph Dauben Frederick Gregory Michael Hagner Sungook Hong David R Oldroyd Theodore M Porter Robert J Richards Ulrich Wengenroth The Man who Found the Missing Link Pat Shipman, 2001 Born eighteen months after the first Neanderthal skeleton was found and a year before Charles Darwin published The Origin of Species Eugene Dubois vowed to discover a powerful truth in Darwin's deceptively simple ideas There is a link he declared a link as yet unknown between apes and Man It takes a brilliant writer to elucidate a brilliant mind and Pat Shipman shines as never before The Man Who Found the Missing Link is an irresistible tale of adventure scientific daring and a strange and enduring love and it is true Missing Links John Reader, 2011-10-27 This is the story of the search for human origins from the Middle Ages when questions of the earth's antiquity first began to arise through to the latest genetic discoveries that show the interrelatedness of all living creatures Central to the story is the part played by fossils first in establishing the age of the Earth then following Darwin in the pursuit of possible Missing Links that would establish whether or not humans and chimpanzees share a common ancestor John Reader's passion for this quest palaeoanthropology began in the 1960s when he reported for Life Magazine on Richard Leakey's first fossil hunting expedition to the badlands of East Turkana in Kenya Drawing on both historic and recent research he tells the fascinating story of the science as it has developed from the activities of a few dedicated individuals into the rigorous multidisciplinary work of today His arresting photographs give a unique insight into the fossils the discoverers and the settings His vivid narrative reveals both the context in which our ancestors evolved and also the realities confronting the modern scientist The story he tells is peopled by eccentrics and enthusiasts and punctuated by controversy and even fraud It is a celebration of discoveries Neanderthal Man in the 1850s Java Man 1891 Australopithecus 1925 Peking Man 1926 Homo habilis 1964 Lucy 1978 Floresiensis 2004 and Ardipithecus 2009 It is a story of fragmentary shards of evidence and the competing interpretations built upon them And it is a tale of scientific breakthroughs dating technology genetics and molecular biology that have enabled us to set the fossil evidence in the context of human evolution John Reader's first book on this subject Missing Links The Hunt for Earliest Man 1981 was described in Nature as the best popular account of palaeoanthropology I have ever read His new book covers the thirty years of discovery that have followed St. Nicholas, 1927 The Peking Man is Missing Claire Taschdjian, 2008 In the 1920s on a hill near Peking now Beijing a team of scientists discovered a huge cache of human bones some more than half a million years old Collectively dubbed Peking Man they were one of the most important finds in the history of paleontology And in 1941 in the chaos of World War II they disappeared No one knows what happened but there are plenty of theories many with political implications Claire Taschdjian's speculation as to what might have become of the priceless fossils could represent just another theory but for one intriguing fact Claire Taschdjian was one of the last people in the world known to have seen Peking Man With newly commissioned material on the true story of the Peking Man The Vanishing American Brian W. Dippie, 1991 Traces the turns of U S Indian policy and the effects of white social attitudes on Indian assimilation Answers to Your Kids' Questions Charles W. For the Glory of God Rodney Stark, 2015-01-27

Rodney Stark's provocative new book argues that whether we like it or not people acting for the glory of God have formed our modern culture Continuing his project of identifying the widespread consequences of monotheism Stark shows that the Christian conception of God resulted almost inevitably and for the same reasons in the Protestant Reformation the rise of modern science the European witch hunts and the Western abolition of slavery In the process he explains why Christian and Islamic images of God yielded such different cultural results leading Christians but not Muslims to foster science burn witches and denounce slavery With his usual clarity and skepticism toward the received wisdom Stark finds the origins of these disparate phenomena within monotheistic religious organizations Endemic in such organizations are pressures to maintain religious intensity which lead to intense conflicts and schisms that have far reaching social results Along the way Stark debunks many commonly accepted ideas He interprets the sixteenth century flowering of science not as a sudden revolution that burst religious barriers but as the normal gradual and direct outgrowth of medieval theology He also shows that the very ideas about God that sustained the rise of science led also to intense witch hunting by otherwise clear headed Europeans including some celebrated scientists This conception of God likewise yielded the Christian denunciation of slavery as an abomination and some of the fiercest witch hunters were devoted participants in successful abolitionist movements on both sides of the Atlantic For the Glory of God is an engrossing narrative that accounts for the very different histories of the Christian and Muslim worlds It fundamentally changes our understanding of religion's role in history and the forces behind much of what we point to as secular progress

Species of Origins Karl Giberson, Donald A. Yerxa, 2002 In Species of Origins Karl W. Giberson and Donald A. Yerxa examine America's controversial conversation about creation and evolution While noting that part of the discord stems from the growing cultural and religious diversity of the United States they argue powerfully that the real issue is the headlong confrontation between two seemingly incompatible worldviews upon which millions of Americans rely modern naturalistic science and traditional Judeo-Christian religions Visit our website for sample chapters

The Origins of Catholic Evolutionism, 1831-1950 Kenneth W. Kemp, 2025 The history of the Catholic Church's response to evolutionary biology has often been badly misrepresented as antagonistic In fact its response is better characterized as a long process of accommodation This work is a comprehensive introduction to the work of the Catholic scientists and theologians who worked out the details of that accommodation Few Catholics found the evolutionary origin of plant and animal species theologically objectionable None thought that evolutionary processes provided a sufficient account of the origin of the first human beings Catholics differed over whether those processes played a role in the origin of the first human body Catholic evolutionism began with the work of four nineteenth century scientists who might be called the pioneers of Catholic evolutionism Belgian geologist Jean Baptiste d Omalius d Halloy English anatomist George Mivart Italian anatomist Filippo De Filippi and French paleontologist Albert Gaudry The next generations of Catholic evolutionists writing in the period from about 1890 1940 included scientists Jesuit entomologists Erich Wasmann and Felix R schkamp as well as priests who focused more exclusively on the question of compatibility Dalmace Leroy John Zahm Henry de Dorlodot and Ernest Messenger Among the scientists might also be included French paleontologist Pierre Teilhard de Chardin who made some contributions to the general idea of the compatibility of evolutionary biology and Catholic theology but who eventually veered off in the direction of a comprehensive evolutionary theology of nature the details of which are beyond the scope of this book Catholic anti evolutionists made efforts to have the Church prohibit works of Catholic evolutionism that in their judgment gave evolutionary processes too great a r le in the formation of the human body or that relied on problematic principles of hermeneutics Efforts on the former front were eventually blocked by Pope Pius XI The first magisterial statement on the question came however only in 1950 with Pope Pius XII s encyclical Humani generis which provisionally declared the orthodoxy of evolutionary accounts of the origin of the human body In addition to providing details about Catholic evolutionists and the magisterium the book also reviews the treatment of the new ideas in Catholic encyclopedias periodicals and textbooks Although written in the first instance as a work of scholarship the book was also written with attention to the needs of scientists priests and members of the general public who are interested in the question

Controversy Catastrophism and Evolution Trevor Palmer,2012-12-06 In Controversy Trevor Palmer fully documents how traditional gradualistic views of biological and geographic evolution are giving way to a catastrophism that credits cataclysmic events such as meteorite impacts for the rapid bursts and abrupt transitions observed in the fossil record According to the catastrophists new species do not evolve gradually they proliferate following sudden mass extinctions Placing this major change of perspective within the context of a range of ancient debates Palmer discusses such topics as the history of the solar system present day extraterrestrial threats to earth hominid evolution and the fossil record Creation: "Behold, it was very good." Richard Schaefer,2019-10-28 Author Richard A Schaefer was a lifelong communicator fascinated by stories and like any good journalist dug for the facts and verified sources exploring nagging questions such as Is creation or evolution more credible based on science and expert opinions This book truly represented a personal passion of looking at all sides of the CREATION vs EVOLUTION issue He called on many experts and theorists including Charles Darwin himself Surprisingly Darwin was far more skeptical of his own theories than are many PhDs today and admitted to significant holes in his logic Read for yourself as great thinkers explore the pros and cons of both theories and their variants The Publishers Weekly ,1910 The New York Times Book Review Index, 1896-1970: Subject index ,1973
