Reconstructing Identities Jürgen Rudolph, 1998 The aim of this text is to provide a social history of the Babas in Singapore It describes and analyzes social political and cultural aspects of their identities by taking into account the conceptual history of Baba designations from 1819 1994 It argues that defining the Babas is misleading it is more meaningful to adopt a socio historical approach that differentiates spatiotemporally distinct Baba identities Such an approach is usually avoided not only in research on the Babas but in many other sociological anthropological or historical studies It concludes that there is no such thing as a Baba identity it has always been in flux and needs to be reconstructed taking seriously the conceptual history The two crucial turning points in the history of the Babas namely the Japanese occupation 1942 1945 and self rule 1959 led to public emphasis on their culture Prior emphasis on their former status as a political and economic elite have been hitherto neglected Taking into account all aspects legal political economic cultural linguistic religious of Baba identities leads us to a fascinating trajectory of a potential group
