

A vibrant movie poster for Disney's 'Strange World'. The background is a deep, swirling green, suggesting an underwater or alien environment. Several large, translucent pinkish-red jellyfish-like creatures float in the upper half. In the lower half, three characters are shown in a dynamic, falling or swimming pose. In the foreground, a young boy with dark curly hair, wearing a blue long-sleeved shirt and green shorts, is floating with his arms outstretched. Behind him, a man with a beard and brown hair, wearing a green shirt, is also floating. Above the man, a small, shaggy brown dog is floating. At the top right, an older man with a long white beard and a green shirt is floating, holding onto a large, translucent pinkish-red jellyfish-like creature. The Disney logo is in the top left, and the title 'STRANGE WORLD' is in large, stylized orange and blue letters in the center. Below the title, the text 'IN THEATERS NOVEMBER 23' is written in white.

Fifty years in China L.S. Foster, 2010 An Ethos of Compassion and the Integrity of Creation Brian J.

Walsh, Hendrik Hart, 1995. An Ethos of Compassion and the Integrity of Creation addresses how to reconcile the lawful order seen in the world which the Institute for Christian Studies takes as given by God with the need for human compassion also called for by God. The Institute sponsored this book in celebration of their twenty fifth anniversary. An Ethos of Compassion and the Integrity of Creation opens with a study of parables relevant to today and closes with a meditation by Langdon Gilkey on the ideas brought forth in this book. A study of the history of the idea of creation order central to the Institute's philosophical tradition is followed by a controversial challenge suggesting how that philosophical tradition can be changed to give centrality to the viewpoint of compassion toward vulnerable people and the physical environment. Medical ethics, the environment and gender chauvinism serve as case studies for issues of compassion and created order. Champagne in Monte Carlo-Chips on Wigan Pier Norman Smeddles, 2012-06-23. This is my story of trying to make it in showbusiness. It's about how I got my first guitar and how I was caught up in the Merseybeat phenomenon of the 1960s. I was desperate to make music my career and I managed to go from playing on the church youth clubs of Liverpool to the Cavern Club to Television and to The Albert Hall and The London Palladium. How I went on to work with Shirley Bassey, Morecambe and Wise, Benny Hill, Jimmy Tarbuck, Rolf Harris and many more, and how I went on to perform for Prince Charles, The Queen and Prince Phillip. But it's also the story of the hard times in the Workingmen's Clubs and Miner's Clubs of the North East and South Wales, the late late nights and the boring travelling. It's a story with humour and sadness, elation and disappointment. How it all started and how it all ended and it's also about the many friends I met along the way.
