No End in Sight Nathan E. Busch, 2014-10-17 The global threat of nuclear weapons is one of today s key policy issues Using a wide variety of sources including recently declassified information Nathan E Busch offers detailed examinations of the nuclear programs in the United States Russia China Iraq India and Pakistan as well as the emerging programs in Iran and North Korea He also assesses the current debates in international relations over the risks associated with the proliferation of nuclear weapons in the post Cold War world Busch explores how our understanding of nuclear proliferation centers on theoretical disagreements about how best to explain and predict the behavior of states His study bridges the gap between theory and empirical evidence by determining whether countries with nuclear weapons have adequate controls over their nuclear arsenals and fissile material stockpiles such as highly enriched uranium and plutonium Analyzing the strengths and weaknesses of various systems of nuclear weapons regulation Busch projects what types of controls proliferating states are likely to employ and assesses the threat posed by the possible theft of fissile materials by aspiring nuclear states or by terrorists No End in Sight provides the most comprehensive and up to date analysis of issues at the forefront of contemporary international affairs With the resurgence of the threat of nuclear terrorism Busch s insights and conclusions will prove critical to understanding the implications of nuclear proliferation

Nuclear Scholars Initiative Sarah Minot,2015-08-10 Addressing an increasingly complex array of nuclear weapons challenges in the future will require talented young people with the necessary technical and policy expertise to contribute to sound decisionmaking on nuclear issues over time To that end the CSIS Project on Nuclear Issues PONI runs a yearly Nuclear Scholars Initiative for graduate students and young professionals Those accepted into the program are hosted once per month at CSIS in Washington DC where they participate in daylong workshops with senior government officials and policy experts Over the course of the six month program scholars are required to prepare a research paper This volume is a collection of the 2014 papers from the Nuclear Scholars Initiative
