Structures and Operations in Engineering and Management Systems Øyvind Bjørke, Ole Immanuel Franksen, 1981

System Structures in Engineering Øyvind Bjørke, 1978 Computer-Aided Production Management Asbjorn

Rolstadas, 2012-12-06 The purpose of this book is to discuss the state of the art and future trends in the field of computerized production management systems. It is composed of a number of independent papers each presented in a chapter. Some of the widely recognized experts in the field around the world have been asked to contribute. I owe each of them my sincere gratitude for their kind cooperation. I am also grateful to Peter Falster and Jim Browne for their kind support in helping me to review topics to be covered and to select the authors. This book is a result of the professional work done in the International Federation of Information Processing Technical Committee IFIP TC5 Computer Applications in Technology and especially in the Working Group WG5.7 Computer Aided Production Management. This group was established in 1978 with the aim of promoting and encouraging the advancement of the field of computer systems for the production management of manufacturing, offshore construction, electronic and similar and related industries. The scope of the work includes but is not limited to the following topics: 1. design and implementation of new production planning and control systems taking into account new technology and management philosophy; 2. CAPM in a CIM environment including interfaces to CAD and CAM; 3. project management and cost engineering; 4. knowledge engineering in CAPM; 5. CAPM for Flexible Manufacturing Systems (FMS) and Flexible Assembly Systems (FAS); 6. methods and concepts in CAPM; 7. economic and social implications of CAPM.

Decision Making in the Manufacturing Environment Ravipudi Venkata Rao, 2007-06-06 Recent worldwide advances in manufacturing technologies led to a metamorphosis in the industry. Fast changing technologies on the product front have created a need for an equally fast response from manufacturing industries who select manufacturing strategies, product designs, manufacturing processes and machinery and equipment. Decision makers have the problem of assessing a range of options and selecting one based on conflicting criteria. This book shows how graph theory and matrix approach and fuzzy multiple attribute decision making methods can be used in manufacturing. Part I introduces the decision making situations in the manufacturing environment and presents decision making methods. Part II uses case studies to illustrate the applications of these methods in real manufacturing situations. This book will interest designers, manufacturing engineers, practitioners, managers, institutes involved in design and manufacturing related projects, researchers, academics and graduates in this field.

Group Technology E.A. Arn, 2012-12-06 Group Technology GT as a manufacturing concept has gained steady interest within the machine building industry all over the world Originally it was used more or less only in the so called parts family manufacturing concept With growing opportunities for using the computer in the design process operating planning and layout planning the potential advantages became more and more obvious In order to implement GT successfully and with a view to improving the overall economic situation of a production company it is necessary to consider all aspects of the complete manufacturing system Experience has shown that in the first stage a general basis has to be formed This is done by a clear and practical definition of three GT manufacturing systems the development of a set of classification systems for work pieces working operations and manufacturing equipment and in building a data bank from which a data basis for the GT planning process can be evaluated A second stage of implementation then considers the particular aspects of GT These are firstly a concept for layout and investment planning based on a representative parts spectrum secondly for application of the GT idea in the design process three similar types of parts are to be developed as a logical supplement to the standard and recurring parts practice thirdly a three stage process planning and work measurement system can be developed for the so defined spectrum of similar parts NBS Special Publication ,1968 Systems Science ,1991
