Bartlett, 2020-06-25 Environmental rights are a category of human rights necessarily central to both democracy and effective earth system governance any environmental ecological sustainable democracy For any democracy to remain democratic some aspects must be beyond democracy and must not be allowed to be subjected to any ordinary democratic collective choice processes shy of consensus Real established rights constitute a necessary boundary of legitimate everyday democratic practice We analyze how human rights are made democratically and in particular how they can be made with respect to matters environmental especially matters that have import beyond the confines of the modern nation state Doctrine, Practice, and Advocacy in the Inter-American Human Rights System James L. Cavallaro, Claret Vargas, Clara Sandoval, Bernard Duhaime, 2019-06-20 Doctrine Practice and Advocacy in the Inter American Human Rights System is the first casebook to focus on the Inter American human rights system the primary system for advancing and protecting rights in the Western hemisphere Created by the Organization of American States the Inter American Commission on Human Rights and the Inter American Court of Human Rights are autonomous and independent bodies that make up the Inter American system Together they play a vital role working closely with victims civil society and states to protect fundamental human rights in the Western hemisphere particularly in Latin America While the system is relatively unknown in legal academia in the United States and Canada its study is mandatory in most law schools in the Americas Government appointees civil servants high level actors private attorneys judges and legal scholars and media regularly engage with the system in Latin America implementing its determinations and applying its rulings and interpretations concerning the human rights of their citizens Thus critical matters affecting vital rights such as the peace process in Colombia disappearances in Mexico gang violence in the Northern Triangle El Salvador Honduras and Guatemala or trials for perpetrators of crimes against humanity in Argentina all directly involve the rulings and actors of the Inter American system Increasingly the Inter American system has advanced rights protection in the United States and Canada The statements and determinations of the Inter American Commission on the detention center at Guantanamo for example led to a global consensus opposing the prolonged use of pretrial detention at that site while the Commission's ruling on the juvenile death penalty was cited by the United States Supreme Court in its holding finding that practice unconstitutional A report by the Commission on murdered and missing indigenous women in British Columbia led to the creation of a National Commission of Inquiry on the subject by Canada This book provides analysis on a wide range of practical issues that advocates face when interacting with the Commission or Court and explores current debates on possible reforms of the system At the same time it provides materials that consider the political dynamics that empower and constrain the system Doctrine Practice and Advocacy in the Inter American Human Rights System takes as its point of departure a critical look at the real world successes and failures of the system and human rights advocates in the Americas including the tensions and trade offs commonly confronted by activists as they seek to advance human rights

The African Human Rights System, Activist Forces and International Institutions Obiora Chinedu Okafor, 2007-05-17 This 2007 book draws from and builds upon many of the more traditional approaches to the study of international human rights institutions IHIs especially quasi constructivism The author reveals some of the ways in which many such domestic deployments of the African system have been brokered or facilitated by local activist forces such as human rights NGOs labour unions women s groups independent journalists dissident politicians and activist judges In the end the book exposes and reflects upon the inherent inability of the dominant compliance focused model to adequately capture the range of other ways apart from via state compliance in which the domestic invocation of IHIs like the African system can contribute albeit to a modest extent to the pro human rights alterations that can sometimes occur in the self understandings conceptions of interest or senses of appropriateness held within key domestic institutions within states The United Nations System for Protecting Human Rights Dinah L. Shelton, 2016-12-05 The United Nations has been at the forefront of developing the international law of human rights for nearly seven decades This volume brings together the leading research articles on the development of human rights law by the United Nations and also includes essays on issues relating to standard setting institutional evolution and the creation of monitoring procedures The Inter-American Human Rights System as a Safeguard for Justice in National Transitions Annelen Micus, 2015-08-11 In The Inter American Human Rights System as a Safeguard for Justice in National Transitions Annelen Micus analyzes the importance of the Inter American Human Rights System for transitional justice processes in Latin America with a focus on Argentina Chile and Peru She examines which factors influence a country s approach in confronting its past and addressing impunity The emphasis is placed on the way

The UN Human Rights Treaty System Anne Bayefsky, 2021-10-18 Human rights treaties are at the core of the international system for the promotion and protection of human rights Every UN member state has ratified at least one of these treaties making them applicable to virtually every child woman or man in the world over six billion people At the same time human rights violations are rampant The problem is that the implementation scheme accompanying the core human rights standards was drafted during a period of history when effective international monitoring was neither intended nor achievable Today there is a gap between universal right and remedy that is inescapable and inexcusable threatening the integrity of the international human rights legal regime There are overwhelming numbers of overdue reports untenable backlogs minimal individual complaints from vast numbers of potential victims and widespread refusal of states to provide remedies when violations of individual rights are found This landmark Report prepared by Professor Bayefsky envisions a wide ranging number of reforms most of which can be accomplished without formal amendment The recommendations generally assume a six treaty body regime and focus primarily on offering concrete suggestions for improvements in working methods of the treaty bodies and procedures at the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights OHCHR Professor Bayefsky details numerous proposals for bolstering national level partnerships and for following up the output of the treaty monitoring system as a key missing component of the implementation regime One major reform requiring amendment is ultimately recommended namely consolidation of the human rights treaty bodies and the creation of two permanent committees one for the consideration of state reports and one for complaints All individuals agencies and organizations involved in the promotion implementation review analysis and study of human rights protection for all peoples will find this Report an indispensable resource for their work It contains a unique overview of all the working methods of the six human rights treaty bodies a detailed and thorough statistical analysis of the operation of the human rights treaty system and a number of additional annexes which together provide a thorough and comprehensive understanding of the treaty system The international human rights legal system is at a crossroads with the ideal of universality threatened by the fundamental shortfalls in effective implementation This Report offers a clear and substantive path to moving universality beyond rhetoric and towards a treaty regime meaningful and effective in the lives of everyday people

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the Holocaust Johannes Morsink, 2019-02-08 Johannes Morsink argues that the 1948 UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the human rights movement today are direct descendants of revulsion to the Holocaust and the desire to never let it happen again Much recent scholarship about human rights has severed this link between the Holocaust the Universal Declaration and contemporary human rights activism in favor of seeing the 1970s as the era of genesis Morsink forcefully presents his case that the Universal Declaration was indeed a meaningful though underappreciated document for the human rights movement and that the declaration and its significance cannot be divorced from the Holocaust He reexamines this linkage through the working papers of the commission that drafted the declaration as well as other primary sources This work seeks to reset scholarly understandings of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the foundations of the contemporary human rights movement
