What Works in Tackling Health Inequalities? Sheena Asthana, Joyce Halliday, 2006 Establishing what works in health inequalities policy how and why this book gives evidence of key targets for intervention through a detailed exploration of lifetime pathways and processes that are found to give rise to health inequalities Health Inequalities Katherine E. Smith, Clare Bambra, Sarah E. Hill, 2015-11-26 Informed by a wealth of available research between 1997 and 2010 the UK Labour government introduced a raft of policies to reduce health inequalities Despite this by most measures the UK's health inequalities have continued to widen This failure has prompted calls for new approaches to health inequalities research and some consensus that public health researchers ought to be more actively involved in public health advocacy Yet there is currently no agreement as to what these new research agendas should be and despite multiple commentaries reflecting on recent UK efforts to reduce health inequalities there has so far been little attempt to map future directions for research or to examine what more egalitarian policies means in practical terms Health Inequalities Critical Perspectives addresses these concerns It takes stock of the UK s experiences of health inequalities research and policy to date reflecting on the lessons that have been learnt from these experiences both within the UK and internationally The book identifies emergent research and policy topics exploring the perspectives of actors working in a range of professional settings on these agendas Finally the book considers potential ways of improving the links between health inequalities research policy and practice including via advocacy With contributions from established international health inequalities experts and newer up and coming researchers in the field as well as individuals working on health inequalities in policy practice and civil society settings Health

Inequalities Critical Perspectives is a must buy for researchers postgraduate students policymakers practitioners and research funders Challenging health inequalities Dowler, Elizabeth, Spencer, Nick J., 2007-09-05 This book offers a unique multi disciplinary perspective on tackling health inequalities in a rich country examining the New Labour policy agenda for tackling health inequalities and its inherent challenges The book presents an overview of progress since the publication of the seminal and ambitious 1998 Acheson Inquiry into health inequalities and the theoretical and methodological issues underpinning health inequalities The contributors consider the determinants of inequality for example early childhood experience and ethnicity the factors that mediate the relationship between determinants and health nutrition housing and health behaviour and the sectoral policy interventions in user involvement local area partnership working and social work Challenging health inequalities offers a combination of broad analysis of progress from differing perspectives and will be key reading to academics students and policy makers

Health Promotion and Quality of Life in Canada Dennis Raphael, 2010-02-01 Health and quality of life are vital social reflections The way a society distributes resources amongst its population tells us a great deal about the society itself This unique volume unites readings that explore the integral link between quality of life and public policy choices The first section discusses individual perspectives on health promotion and quality of life and provides a conceptual basis for determining an individual s or community s standard The next section addresses community and policy perspectives to show how quality of life is related both to the health of the population as a whole and to collective choices that determine how material resources are distributed in society Part three places quality of life and population health within a political economy framework and uses the social determinants of health concept to illustrate how societies differ in their willingness to support their members quality of life and health Part four examines vulnerable populations and their issues the Indigenous community persons with disabilities women and the gender gap and the effects of race and immigrant status on employment opportunities The final section suggests ways in which health promotion quality of life and the social determinants of health agendas can come together It provides an up to date analysis of the barriers facing those attempting to improve quality of life and health as well as the means to accomplish those goals
